GLENDALE'S PROSPERITY EDITION GREETS YOU TODAY

Our City comment & discussion by THOMAS D. WATSON

Glendale Has Many Benefits to Offer Home-seeker Not Found Elsewhere

WE are today offering for your approval our issue known as the "Glendale Prosperity Edition." We have done our best to make it fairly represent the prosperity which this wonderful city of ours has been blessed with during the past few years.

IT is difficult for the stranger to realize why Glendale should show so much growth in so short a time. He looks at the figures showing the growth of Long Beach and easily accepts its progress as due to the facts that it has an ocean beach that is very attractive to tourists and oil wells producing oil at an unprecedented rate.

THEY may also think of other cities that are enjoying great prosperity, and in most instances, to their minds, the growth is explainable. But Glendale is the mystery city. "The fastest growing city in America." And why?

TO those who wonder, we say: "Come and live here for a short time; join our happy family of folks, all working for the success of their city. Differences at times, yes, but this keeps us away from stagnation."

"GLENDALE, the city of homes"—homes occupied by American citizens to an extent known in no other city. "Glendale, the city of churches," keeping our moral life away above the average for cities of like size. Here you find Contentment, in your home, and also many things which are beneficial from a financial standpoint. Chief among these benefits is our low tax rate, which is considerably less than that of any other city in the county.

SO, to those who are going to change home location, we say: "Come to Glendale. After living here a short time you will thank us for inviting you."

WE are not claiming that we have everything to offer now, but we do say we have more than any other city we know of and also that a fairly united citizenship is working toward improving conditions as speedily as is convenient with good judgment.

THE city fathers, at their meeting last night, granted a permit to the Pacific Electric to operate buses.

By doing this they have shown our citizens who work in Los Angeles that their interests are taken into consideration in the settlement of matters affecting their welfare.

THOSE districts in the city which have been needing transportation will now be supplied. They have been made to wait a long time because of the failure of a former company to establish the facility and the fact that it had been granted a 90-day option.

The matter is now settled, and we feel it has been answered to the benefit of the greatest number.

ALL SCIOTS TO MAKE MERRY TONIGHT

Will Have Big Frolic Down Brand Boulevard at 7:30

"There'll be a hot time in the old town tonight!" A cheer will go up from the side lines tonight when all the Sciots from Bakersfield to San Diego, and farther, will strut down Brand boulevard in full regalia, to the concentrated lung exercises of all the Sciot brass-banders. And the whole will be led by Chief of Police John D. Fraser, drum major, flinging a wicked, big, silver baton. The De Molay boys, in charge of lighting effects, will keep the full parade in a spotlight of color all along the line of march.

It won't be all pomp and ceremony, either. Some amusing sections are announced in the parade. No elaborate explanations are given, but it is anticipated that there will be enough rib-ticklers to go around to all the crowd as the clowns of the bunch get busy on their features.

Following the parade, the Sciots will return to the new Press hall, 335½ North Brand boulevard, where they will finish off the excitement with their monster ceremonial, under the direction of Sciot Harry M. Bennett, assisted by scores of committeemen. They will banquet, be entertained by four big, headline, vaudeville acts, and will finish off the social session with their feast on the "raw meat"—100 candidates lined up for the event.

The parade will form at the hall promptly at 7:30, march down Brand boulevard on the right side to Colorado, and back to the hall on the left. The order of the parade is as follows:

Glendale police, parade marshal, guards, Glendale band, supreme officers, Glendale officers, Glendale pyramid, "raw meat," Los Angeles band, Los Angeles officers, Los Angeles pyramid, Santa Ana officers, Santa Ana pyramid, Fullerton officers, Fullerton pyramid, Santa Barbara officers, Santa Barbara pyramid, San Bernardino officers, San Bernardino pyramid, San Diego officers, San Diego pyramid, devils in costume, Ventura officers, Ventura pyramid, Bakersfield officers, Bakersfield pyramid, Taft officers, Taft pyramid, Imperial officers, Imperial pyramid.

FIRE LADDIES NOW NUMBER 23

The fire department of the city, of which Arthur H. Lankford is chief, has been increased by the addition of five more laddies during the past year, distributed at three stations, viz., No. 1 on Broadway, where the chief has his office; No. 2, at the corner of Los Feliz and Brand, and No. 3 in the Grand View district.

The department has made an excellent record, Glendale having escaped any very serious fires. During the summer its activities are chiefly concerned with grass fires.

There are 23 members on the regular force, which in 1922 organized a Firemen's Relief Association.

SALVATION ARMY GETS BUSY WITH ITS RELIEF FUND

Watch for the Salvation Army lass and her kettle.

This morning Mrs. Major Morrison of the Los Angeles post, visited Glendale to see what arrangements could be made to collect subscriptions toward the quota assigned the Salvation Army of Southern California of $10,000 for the relief of Japanese sufferers by earthquake and fire.

The major explained that the Salvation Army is taking a foremost part in this relief work because for the past 25 years it has maintained 126 stations and social institutions in Japan and is therefore equipped to carry on the great work that confronts the Army in this catasthroph. There are 349 commissioned officers in Japan to take up the work.

Mrs. Morrison also explained that full credit for its contributions will be given the city of Glendale, and stated that an "Army Lass" will be on duty with the well known kettle on some prominent corner of Glendale tomorrow to receive contributions for Japan.

PRESBYTERIANS TO HANDLE RELIEF FUND

An appeal has been sent out to each Presbyterian pastor in the state of California suggesting that all Presbyterian churches receive funds for the relief of Japanese sufferers. Rev. Louis Tinning, assistant pastor of the Glendale Presbyterian church, states that the local church is receiving these funds and will cooperate in any way possible for the relief of the sufferers in the far east. There will be no special offering, but the needs will be presented at all regular services next Sunday. Gifts may be marked and placed in the regular offering, given to the ushers, sent to the church office, or sent direct to Robert Young, treasurer of benevolence of the Presbytery of Los Angeles, 313 West Third street, Los Angeles. Plans have been made to transmit funds as soon as received, so that he gives twice who gives quickly.

WOMEN'S UNION LABEL LEAGUE COMMITTEES

Mrs. Horace Black presided at the regular meeting of the Women's Union Label League held Wednesday night at the Odd Fellows' hall, when the following committees were appointed: Entertainment, Mrs. O. G. Thompson, Mrs. J. D. Hail and Mrs. Carl W. Schwitters; union label committee, Mrs. A. C. Miller, Mrs. R. Carlson and Mrs. J. J. Mercer; legislative, H. P. Carr, Mrs. O. G. Thompson, Mrs. J. D. Hail, Mrs. Carl Schwitters and Mrs. P. Charles; visiting, Mrs. P. Charles, Mrs. A. D. Hurd and Mrs. Elsa Baines.

A special invitation was extended Wednesday night to the Glendale Central Labor Council, which held its meeting at 111 North Maryland avenue, to come and enjoy a banquet which was served at 11 p. m.

COUNCIL GRANTS P. E. COMPANY BUS PERMIT

Three Lines Promised, to Take Place of Former Two; City Covered

At its meeting Thursday night the Glendale city council granted to the Pacific Electric Railway company a permit to operate three separate and district bus lines in this city. This action of the council came as a conclusion of several months of consideration and study by the council on this local bus proposition.

The three lines that the P. E. agreed to establish will cover fairly well the entire of the city with cross-town and around-the-city service, the idea of the routes being to afford the people of the outlying districts of the city an opportunity to get to the central business sections of Glendale, and to the company's Los Angeles-Glendale line.

The permit will require that the lines will be in operation within 60 days if new buses are installed or within two weeks if used cars are employed, the understanding being that regardless of the type of buses selected, the new buses will be running inside of 60 days. According to the members of the council that body will have the privilege at any time of changing the routes or naming new routes.

At the time the permit was granted the Pacific Electric company was the only concern asking for such a privilege. The Verdugo Hills Transportation company was formerly a contender for this permit, but the application of this company was withdrawn yesterday afternoon.

The application was granted on motion of Councilman Davis, who worded his motion as follows:

"I move that the Pacific Electric Railway company be granted a permit to operate a bus system through the streets of Glendale, for the period of one year from date in conformity with its application now on file with the city clerk, this to be subject to the minor alterations as may be agreed upon from time to time by the city council and the Pacific Electric Railway company.

"This permit will be substituted in place of the permit authorizing the company's present system, and will be subject to the provisions of Ordinance 461, entitled, 'An ordinance regulating and licensing the business of carrying passengers for hire in motor vehicles in the city of Glendale.'"

WASHINGTON BOY SCOUT HEAD HERE

The scout executive of Seattle, Wash., Stuart P. Walsh, is to be in this part of the country from September 6 to 9, and an effort will be made by Director Harold Benner of the Verdugo Hills council to secure him for a talk to the leaders in this council and also for addresses before the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs.

RED CROSS ASKS ORGANIZATIONS TO AID CHAPTER

An appeal is being made by Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, chairman of the Glendale chapter of the American Red Cross, to all organizations to make their donations for the Japanese relief fund through the Red Cross. Glendale's quota of the amount to be raised by the National Red Cross organization is $3432, which it is hoped will be raised by Monday.

Desks have been placed by the Red Cross in all the Glendale banks and the residents of the city are urged to respond with donations. Thursday, the first day of the campaign for funds, $444.60 was raised. The president of the United States and the National Red Cross society have requested that funds be raised in this manner.

KIWANIANS DEFY HEAT, BOUND TO EAT

Fine Musical Program by Bel Bode and H. E. Cantor

In spite of the humid heat, 59 members of the Kiwanis club gathered at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse Friday noon for their regular weekly luncheon. It was followed by a fine musical program, arranged by "Bill" Bode, to which Henry Cantor, the operatic tenor, contributed very beautiful piano selections, and Mr. Bode himself a violin solo, "Jewish Lament," an encore number, and a saxophone number. There were no addresses.

A list of members and their families who are going to San Diego to witness the eclipse was turned in. It included the following: Mr. and Mrs. George T. Smith and children, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman P. Clark, Dr. and Mrs. C. F. Stuart, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Hooper, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Philp, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ingledue, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Smith and son, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Andresen, Mr. and Mrs. W. Hyde, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Webb and son, Winton; Mr. and Mrs. Sol Rehart and son, Owen; Mrs. Louis Stelzer of Regina, Ont.

P.-T. A. FEDERATION MEETS SEPT. 12TH

The Glendale Federation of Parent-Teacher associations will hold its first meeting of the year Wednesday, September 12, at 2:15 p. m., in the library of the Wilson Avenue Intermediate. Mrs. E. B. Moore will preside.

Important matters will be discussed and the presidents and officers of the various associations will be of the utmost benefit to P.-T. A. members.

PACIFIC AVENUE S. S. PICNIC AT BROOKSIDE

Youngsters take notice! The Pacific Avenue Sunday school is having its annual picnic Saturday, September 8, at Brookside park. The picnickers will leave the church at 9:30 a. m.

HOWARD ELMKE IN PERFECT GAME

Former Glendale Hi Star Twirls No-hit, No-run Contest

Howard Elmke of the Boston Americans today pitched the second no-hit, no-run game played against the Philadelphia Athletics within a week, leading his team to a 4 to 0 victory, according to an Associated Press dispatch. Local fans will give a big cheer over this great achievement, for Howard is a former Glendale boy and attended G. U. H. S., leading the high team to many a victory. His career with Detroit and later with Boston has been watched with greatest interest by Glendalians, especially by high students and particularly by members of his class.

Three cheers for our Howard Elmke.

ROTARIAN MEET MARKED BY FINE MUSIC PROGRAM

This week's meeting of the Glendale Rotary club, held Thursday noon at the Egyptian Village Cafe, was marked with an unusually excellent musical program of three numbers given by Edwin Skedden, famous baritone opera singer, accompanied at the piano by his wife. Mr. and Mrs. Skedden are recent newcomers to the Glendale district and at present are residing at La Crescenta. He sang "Lift Up Thine Eyes" (Logan), "Invinctus" (Huhn), "My Ain Folk" (Lemon) and "Take Joy Home" (Bassett).

The attendance of membership at Thursday's meeting was increased by the return of several members from their vacations. Among the visiting Rotarians present were A. E. Sears, Elliott B. Wyman, Byron Badham, John Bloeser and Dick Reithmiller of Los Angeles, W. J. Riley and Leonard F. Collins of Burbank and Kirke H. Field of Redlands. Other visitors included Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Skedden. Willis Hutchinson and Art Lusby were welcomed as new members.

The suggestion was made that a family picnic be held at Brookside Park on Friday, September 14, at 3 o'clock, and President George B. Karr appointed a committee to look after arrangements.

Roy Kent, who has just returned from an extensive eastern trip, was called on to tell the members of his trip, which he did in a very interesting manner. Owen Emery gave the welcoming speech to Willis Hutchinson and Art Lusby, the two new members. Mr. Hutchinson is a partner of Rene Olin in the auditing business, and Mr. Lusby is a member of the Lusby Mortgage & Investment.

The meeting was then turned over to Jim Newton, who was in charge of the program. Mr. and Mrs. Skedden delighted the members with several very high class selections, Mr. Skedden, baritone singer, being accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Skedden.

Mr. Newton later gave a short talk on his business. He has been located in Glendale for thirteen years and his talk was carrying out the plan to have some member tell of their business at each week's meeting.

GLENDALE PROSPERITY EDITION IS BEFORE YOU FOR INSPECTION

Scan Every Page Carefully and Catch a Glimpse of What Strides Glendale Has Made in the Few Years Just Past

AMAZING GROWTH IS CLEARLY REVEALED

Citizens Should Not Neglect Opportunity to Show Friends in East Chances Glendale Affords Them; Send Copies to Relatives and Neighbors

Here we are, with the greatest edition ever turned out by a Glendale newspaper. And it is "all in the day's work." We call this the Glendale Prosperity Edition and take a pardonable pride in including the Daily Press as one of the shining examples of our city's remarkable growth.

A little more than two years ago the Glendale Daily Press started with a very meager equipment in decidedly cramped quarters at 22 South Brand. As the paper grew, partitions were pushed back and still further back. Then the building was extended 40 feet to the alley. But still the amazing infant grew, keeping pace with the city's marvelous growth and today we find ourselves in a brand new brick building at 333 North Brand, 50x150 feet in dimensions, with every department fully equipped and a new Goss rotary press that turns out a completed 24-page paper at the amazing rate of 25,000 an hour. And the big force of happy, contented workers, all one big family is shown in the cut at the left.

But the Glendale Press is not the only Glendale institution that has shown such an amazing growth since March 1, 1921. We can point with pride now to a four-story and a five-story building completed and occupied, while a six-story structure is rising fast. Steel frame construction has been inaugurated in Glendale during the period named also.

Then the immense new plant of the Glendale Sanitarium, on a beautiful wooded tract of 20 acres, has been conceived and is well along toward completion; an air port has been established, scores of industrial plants erected and put to work, a million-dollar high school plant projected and brought near to completion, new churches built, hundreds of single residences and duplexes as well as scores of flat buildings, apartment houses and courts constructed, additions made to many school houses and many other building operations carried out.

Church and lodge membership has dubled and trebled, new orders and business organiaztions have been launched and growth in every line of activity has been most wonderful.

All this is faithfully recorded in today's mammoth edition, which is worthy a wide distribution, taking in the whole nation. Glendale residents who are justly proud of their wonder city should not neglect the opportunity of showing friends in the east what our city has done in the past, is doing now and has planned for the future, but should send liberally of this edition to loved ones and neighbors who still are fated to live "back east."

Auto Camp Control Provided for In New Ordinance

The Glendale city council took the initial step Thursday night toward a more stringent control of the auto camp within this city. This consisted of the introduction of an ordinance by Councilman Horn, the requirements of which will compel the owners of auto camp grounds here to maintain respectable places.

Following are a few of the requirements of the new law:

Full name of applicant, where and how employed last five years, four endorsements, plan and area of the grounds, maximum number of autos to be housed and maximum number of people. The grounds must undergo thorough inspection, permit may be revoked within five days, must keep custodian on grounds at all times, every camper must register, camp must be graded and streets oiled, houses must not be less than 12x16 feet in size and must have kitchen 5x8 feet.

Camp must be well lighted, it must have hydrants, toilets, showers and no person can remain at the camp more than 30 days.

NAVY DEPARTMENT FILMS SHOWN MONDAY EVE

Navy in Action, Navy in Near East and Other Depictions

In connection with its recruiting campaign, a motion picture of the navy department will be shown Monday evening at Glendale high at 7:30, which will be free to the public and which is designed to educate the public in regard to life on a U. S. man of war, and the duties of men in the navy in peace and in war.

J. N. Kanratke, chief quartermaster at the navy recruiting station in Los Angeles visited Glendale yesterday and made arrangements for the entertainment. Mr. Tucker, of Community Service, agreed to cooperate by securing a program to supplement the moving pictures.

The films shown will include: "Our navy in action," and "Our navy in the Near East," which will carry the audience to the scene of the present outbreak between Greece and Italy. It will show the rescue of refugees during the burning of Smyrna in the Greco-Turk war. The Smyrna pictures are the only ones of their kind in existence.

Another reel will show the Panama canal from end to end as revealed from an airplane and demonstrate the failure of the French government and why.

A special inducement is being offered to high school boys at this time by the U. S. navy, which is anxious to secure them. Applicants are given a short course in body training and are eligible to admission at Annapolis if they can pass the preliminary examination. This is equivalent to a four-year college course, with cost, and they are graduated as officers.

BUY TICKETS NOW FOR "WAYFARER" GLENDALE NIGHT

The warning has gone out that Glendalians who desire to attend the "Wayfarer" on Saturday evening, which will be Glendale Night, and the night on which Mrs. Charles Temple of this city will personate "Columbia" should secure their tickets before 12 o'clock noon on Saturday at the Chamber of Commerce, as the reservations will be sent to Los Angeles that afternoon.

As it is a great compliment to Glendale to have a special night reserved for it at this wonderful spectacular production to be given at the Los Angeles Coliseum, when 7000 persons will be in the cast, with a chorus of 4000, all Glendale should turn out for this particular night for the credit of the city and in compliment to Mrs. Temple, who is to fill so important a role.

THE WEATHER

All California: Fair and continued warm tonight; moderate westerly winds.

COUNCIL COVERED MUCH GROUND LAST NIGHT

Ordinances and Resolutions Passed, Some Measures Laid Over

Calla Lily Creamery Problems

Shall the Calla Lily Creamery Company be permitted to construct a garage on its property at 1245 East Windsor or shall it not? This was a question which caused considerable discussion at the meeting of the Glendale city council Thursday night.

The Calla Lily Creamery is a commercial proposition and it is located in a strictly residential zone. Being there before the zoning ordinance was put into effect it was impossible for the council to move it.

The creamery company wants to build a garage on its property to house its various machines and trucks. The zoning ordinance specifically states that no additions shall be made to any industrial institution that is located within a residential district. This would stop the company from building the proposed garage, according to a ruling of the city attorney, declares Building Superintendent Van De Water.

"The ordinance should be amended so as to permit buildings such as these to be constructed," said Councilman Kimlin.

Councilman Horn said:

"I can see where an amendment such as is suggested would prove a detriment to the city. It would permit any industrial plant located within a residential district to make various additions to its plant so long as the new structure was not attached to the company's existing buildings.'

"I think the council should be very careful in amending this ordinance," said C. W. Ingledu, "as it might do a great deal of damage to the residential property surrounding these industrial institutions."

The matter was closed by Councilman Hall moving that the city attorney be instructed to amend the present zoning ordinance so as to cover the situation in question.

When the vote was taken all councilmen voted "aye" except Councilman Horn, who voted "no."

At this meeting bids were received for the improvement of the first alley east of Louise street between Lexington and Doran. These were referred to the city engineer for checking and report.

The bid of the city of Glendale for the furnishing of water pipe for the improvement of Park avenue, Acacia avenue, Virginia Place, Sierra avenue and Hill Drive were accepted.

There were no protests against the improvement of Hillside Drive, Vista Court and Green street and the next step in these pieces of work were ordered taken.

The city attorney was instructed to draw up the necessary proceedings for the establishing of a commercial district at the corner of Adams and Windsor, and also for a commercial district at Gilbert and Pacific.

An ordinance was adopted ordering the work of opening and widening of Doran street.

A resolution was adopted ordering the improvement work on Raleigh street.

An ordinance establishing the grade on Cerritos avenue was offered.

A map of the Hillslopes section of the Bellehurst tract was accepted.

A communication was received from J. William Slater, asking that additional lights be placed on Harvard between Central and Brand. This was referred to the superintendent of plant and production.

The National Cast Iron Pipe Co. was awarded the contract for a carload of cast iron pipe for the city of Glendale.

An ordinance establishing the grade on Elm avenue was offered.

CENTRAL AVENUE SETBACK

The owners of property on Central avenue are puzzled as to where the front lines of the buildings they propose to erect shall be placed. Mr. Tower appeared before the board and stated that he wants to erect a building on Central. He at first placed his foundation on the present building line, he said, then when he heard of the proposed 10-foot set back he moved the foundation to that line at a cost of about $200. Later he heard that a petition was being circulated for the setting of the line back four feet.

"I do not know what to do in this matter," said Mr. Tower, "and I am coming to you for information."

"We cannot help you in the least," said Acting Mayor Kimlin. "We have ordered the city attorney to draw up the necessary proceedings for this 10-foot set back. If it is not protested out it will go through all right. We are anxious that it should. If it is protested out we are helpless to do anything."

The discussion developed the fact that the ordinance will be presented at the next meeting of the council and passed the following Thursday. After that it will require thirty days before the time of protest will have expired. Up to that time the property owners on Central must either hold up their improvement work or take a chance in connection to the building line.

George Seal, who is interested in the widening of Central avenue, stated that he was confidnt that those who are opposing the ten-foot setback line would not be able to get sufficient signatures to knock out this improvement.

Glendale Avenue Business District

Nothing will be done by the Glendale city council toward removing Glendale avenue north of Monterey road from the business district, according to a statement made by Acting Mayor Kimlin at the meeting of the Glendale city council last night.

There was considerable pressure brought to bear with the council, it is understood, in connection with taking this section from the commercial district, and the members of the board deemed it advisable to let the matter rest as it is.

No Meeting Next Week

There will be no meeting of the Glendale city council next week, so far as can be ascertained at this time, according to a decision of the council Thursday night. The various members of the council, it is understood, will be out of the city on the regular meeting nights, and as they are not certain when they will return it is impossible to set any definite date for the meeting.

New Truck for Street Work

The purchase of a new truck for the street department of Glendale was authorized by the Glendale city council at the meeting Thursday night. This action was taken on the recommendation of the city engineer. Provision has been made for the purchase of this truck in the 1923-24 budget, it is understood.

Water Reights of Leimert Co.

Attorney Evans appeared before the Glendale city council Thursday night and asked that body to set a time when the question of the water rights of the Walter H. Leimert Company can be considered.

The members of the council express their desire of taking up this matter without delay, and assured Mr. Evans that a date would be set at the earliest possible moment.

Happiland Commercial District

The matter of establishing a commercial district at Happiland park was again laid over for two weeks by the Glendale city council, Thursday night.

This action was taken as the result of a protest against the move by Dr. Harry Crocker, who lives in the vicinity of the park and a written protest, which was signed by residents in that district.

COUNTRY CLUB HIGHLANDS GAVE MONEY AND AUTO

In the selling campaign that is being conducted by the Country Club Highlands Tract on West Pico about half way between Western avenue, Los Angeles, and the beach, which has been on the market only three weeks, the company gave away last Sunday sixteen $5 bills and a Ford automobile.

They also had a fine musical program provided by a jazz orchestra and by Captain D. Ripley Jackson, postmaster of Glendale, and Katherine Clifford, a movie actress, who gave away the auto.

E. G. Warren of Glendale was the lecturer. He gave the crowd of about 5000 people considerable information about Southern California, its history, its prospects and the increase of population, especially in Los Angeles.

Next Sunday a similar musical program will be given, a different movie actress will give away the car and there will be drawings for the money at 2 o'clock, 3 o'clock and 4 o'clock. At 5 o'clock the auto will be given away.

Mr. Warren will lecture again starting at 2 o'clock and will give four or five ten-minute talks before the car is given away.

SLOGAN CONTEST IS CREATING COMPETITION

"The Four Wheel Drive, Schooled to the Grade Like Glendale," "Four Wheel Drive—Straight Ahead, Just Like Glendale," "The Truck With the Peacock Strut," "Glendale's Quartet of Pulling Power—the Four Wheel Drive Truck," "The Una-Drive Truck—Pulling Up the Grade With Glendale," or "A Quad of Pulling Power from Glendale, California."

These are just a few of the slogans coming in for the Roger Una-Drive Truck slogan contest for which a prize of $100 is offered. The rules are simple and the winner will doubtless receive the attractive addition to his bank account for a few moments' work. Many of the slogans received do not link up the truck with the fact that it is a Glendale product, manufactured in this city. This is the one definite stipulation of the Roger's Truck company officials, owing to the fact that they desire to use the winning slogan as the basis of their advertising all over the country. They wish the idea the truck is manufactured in Glendale to go out and become familiarized to the thousands of people who will read this advertisement. The slogan that wins will be the one that gets this over with the hardest blow.

The contest is open until midnight of September 15. Any slogan in the mail before that hour will receive consideration. Make them ten words or less, linking the truck with Glendale, and mail them to The Roger's Una-Drive Truck company, P. O. Box 428, Glendale, California.

W. C. T. U. Met Today With Mrs. White

The Glendale W. C. T. U. met Friday afternon at the home of Mrs. John Robert White, corner of Lexington and Orange, where it was addressed by Mrs. M. E. Jenkins of Los Angeles, state lecturer of the state organization and county superintendent of "Co-operation with Women's Clubs Department." The last named was her theme and it proved a broad one as handled by her. She reserved a part of the time allotted her, however, for a talk on the campaign which the W. C. T. U. is strenuously waging at this time against the widely spread narcotic evil, which overshadows in some degree its work for the enforcement of prohibition.

OLDEST LAUNDRY IS THE GLENDALE

Keeping Glendalians clean has been an industry here for over 14 years.

Always operated under the name of the Glendale Laundry and serving surrounding towns as well, this big establishment was purchased July 1 by J. F. Springer, who bought the property from W. E. Hewitt. The last named owner had operated the laundry for the past 10 years.

The plant employs 75 people with a weekly payroll of between $1700 and $1800, represents an investment in Glendale of $100,000. The laundry operates 12 delivery wagons, serving customers in all walks of life in Glendale, Burbank, Eagle Rock and surrounding country.

Mr. Springer is a veteran laundryman and has engaged in the business in Southern California during the past 12 years.

The big plant is located at Columbus and Arden avenue.

WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES IN MANY FIELDS OF WORK

BUSINESS WOMEN FIND OUTLET IN OWN CLUB HERE

Organize 200 Works Along Vocational Lines for Women Workers

The Glendale Business and Professional Women's club fills a special place in the community as the one organization which brings together for mutual pleasure and benefit the large and growing colony of women who are their own bread winners.

It now has a membership approximating 200. Its aim for the coming year is to increase its work along vocational lines and to establish as soon as possible a secretary to handle its business affairs and to push the vocational service.

It also aims to promote legislation for the benefit of women and children by means of its affiliations with the federated clubs of business women and other federated organizations.

A series of monthly program dinners has been started for members and their friends which have thus far proved so popular that they are likely to be continued by the program committee.

Besides these gatherings which are purely social, a business session of the full club is held the second Tuesday evening of each month.

A considerable amount of the routine business of the club is transacted by the cabinet, composed of officers and committee chairmen, who meet the first Tuesday in each month, the present cabinet being composed of the following members: Miss Emily Gertrude Gibbs, president; Mrs. Mary Baxter, vice-president; Dr. Laura Brown, vice-president at large; Miss Edna Platt, recording secretary; Miss Lucile Crowell, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Anita Anderson, treasurer; Miss Myrtle Knapp, auditor; Mrs. Loretta Williams, chairman of Ways and Means; Miss Julia Moniot, chairman of Hospitality; Dr. Elizabeth Early, Program Chairman; Miss Ethel Ford, chairman of Membership; Miss Clara Sayre, chairman of Occupational Committee; Mrs. Ethel Riddell, chairman of Publicity; Miss Alice McCoy, chairman of Legislative Committee; Mrs. Katherine Whytock, chairman of Outing Committee.

WELFARE COUNCIL IS FINANCED LOCALLY BY PHILANTHROPIC WOMEN

Encouraging others to help themselves by giving temporary assistance is one of the big aims of the Glendale Welfare Council, an auxiliary of the Glendale Welfare Bureau that is maintained by the city. The Welfare Council consists of all of the organizations in Glendale that do welfare work. Its first purpose was to avoid duplication and humiliation in local philanthropic work.

Many, many times really worthy people who through misfortune are in need of temporary assistance hesitate and refuse to apply to some of the numerous charity organizations and have their names made known. With the exception of the director of the council or bureau of the Glendale Welfare work, who investigates the various cases, the names of those applying for assistance are not made public.

The Welfare Council has a regular visiting committee to call on the sick and if families are in need the city, through the bureau, sends relief at once. Mrs. L. W. Sinclaim is director of the bureau. Her headquarters are at the branch library building, corner of Los Feliz road and South Brand boulevard.

Mrs. E. D. Yard is the president of the Glendale Welfare Council. The other officers of the Council include C. E. Kimlin, vice-president; Mrs. F. S. Card, local relief representative from the Tuesday Afternoon club; Mrs. L. T. Rowley, secretary, who represents the Parent-Teacher association work.

The bureau conducts a free employment bureau, under the direction of Mrs. L. W. Sinclair, and has been doing some very fine placement work. Anyone in need of work or workers may get in touch with Mrs. Sinclair at Glendale 1300, or Mrs. E. D. Yard, Glendale 1142W, 431 North Maryland avenue.

The Glendale Welfare Council is financed by the organizations who are affiliated with it. Each organization pays a membership of $5 per year. Private individuals may become members by the payment of an annual fee of $1.

At Thanksgiving and Christmas time the Council distributes baskets of food to the needy. There are Christmas toys and gifts for each member of the families visited. According to Mrs. Yard, the people of Glendale and the churches, clubs, doctors, etc., have cooperated wonderfully in the splendid work that the Bureau and Council are doing.

The executive board of the Council and Bureau holds regular meetings the first Tuesday in each month. Mrs. Yard, who is in charge of the work of the Welfare Bureau, has been doing similar work for eleven years. She was the first president of the local work.

WOMEN'S UNION LABEL LEAGUE SEEKS WELFARE OF WAGE WORKERS

By MRS. O. G. THOMPSON
Secretary Women's Union Label League

The Women's Union Label league No. 400, of Glendale, meets the first and third Wednesday nights of every month at 8 o'clock at the Odd Fellows hall, corner of West Broadway and Orange street, at which time the regular business is taken care of. During the month, social gatherings are held at the homes of the different members. Mrs. H. Black, of 122 South Orange street, is the newly elected president, and the league is looking forward to making great strides during her term of office.

The obejcts of the league are: To promote the welfare of the wage earners; to discountenance the sweat shop system of production, by aiding and encouraging the sale of union-made goods; to gain a universal eight-hour day; to abolish child labor; to secure equal pay for equal work, regardless of sex; to aid the Sunday and early closing movement; to sustain fair employers, and to urge industrial and political equality for women.

The Women's Union Label league was organized and exists to teach women how to work together for the betterment of humanity, beginning in the home with every-day work, but ending only in the final victory over wrong. The union label is not the shining star of Bethlehem or the sun of the universe, but it is a genuine guide to protection against the diseased and germ-laden goods made in sweatshops and other vile dens. If every woman connected directly or indirectly with the trades union movement, either through being a wage earner herself, or by husband, father, brother or son being affiliated with some of the organized crafts, fully understood or realized the almost unlimited power within her grasp to help lift the heavy yoke of industrial oppression from the thousands of our weary, ill-paid, down-trodden workers, she would unhesitatingly rise to meet the occasion and help create a demand for the union label. The label is a certification that the article has been made in a sanitary workshop and not handled by persons having any infectious disease; that it has not been made in a sweat shop, the breeding place of tuberculosis and many other equally fatal diseases which may easily be transmitted to purchasers of sweat shop and prison-made goods. Certainly no greater mission work confronts American women today than the union label movement. We strongly urge all members to patronize Glendale merchants, especially those carrying union label goods, and those who employ Glendale mechanics when having work along this line.

To the Glendale Daily Press we wish to express our thanks for the wonderful press notices they have given us in the past and to wish them the greatest of success in the future. We trust that they will continue to grow rapidly and soon have to erect a still larger building to accommodate them.

The list of officers for the Glendale organization of the Women's Union Label league includes: Mrs. H. Black, president; Mrs. A. Baines, first vice-president; Mrs. A. A. Stoner, second vice-president; Mrs. O. G. Thompson, corresponding and recording secretary; Mrs. J. Gemmell, financial secretary; Mrs. A. D. Hurd, treasurer; Mrs. W. W. Stoner, doorkeeper; Mrs. F. W. Dern, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. P. Charles, Mrs. H. T. Carr and Mrs. F. W. Dern, trustees.

MARLENEES HOME FROM OUTING

Dr. and Mrs. Charles L. Marlenee of 301 South Central avenue have returned from a short but pleasant outing at Hermosa Beach where they were guests of Mrs. Marlenee's mother, Mrs. M. Armstrong. Mrs. Dorothy Armstrong Welcome is at Hermosa Beach with her mother and is planning to leave on September 19 for Chicago, where she will spend the winter doing concert work. In the spring she will go to Paris to continue her violin studies.

MUTUAL BENEFIT READING CIRCLE IS ENJOYABLE

Founded by Mrs. Toll, It Fills Own Sphere of Usefulness

By MRS. CHARLES H. BIRD
Publicity Chairman, Mutual Benefit Reading Circle

The Mutual Benefit Reading Circle of Glendale was founded by Mrs. Charles H. Toll in March, 1916. A small group of mothers met every Wednesday at Mrs. Toll's home to read and discuss everyday child problems. The help and encouragement received by these women has been of great value to them.

In the last seven years the group has grown steadily until there are now over 100 active members. The circle now meets in the juvenile room of the public library on Harvard street and is very fortunate in receiving the heartiest cooperation of the librarian, Mrs. J. C. Danford. The meetings are held from 11 a. m. until 2 p. m. every Wednesday during the school year. At noon the members enjoy a social half-hour at lunch.

After the opening of the meeting and the reading of reports, a review of some article of current interest is given by one of the members. These reviews are voluntary and form one of the most interesting features of the day. A general discussion follows in which everyone is urged to join. Roll call is answered with quotations.

The afternoon session is spent in reading aloud from one of the books in the lists which are published by the National Bureau of Education at Washington. The members are free to interrupt the reading with comments and general discussion. The Glendale circle has now completed one course and is on the second.

The Mutual Benefit Reading Circle of Glendale has been nationally recognized for its splendid work and its aims and methods have been reported over the radio from the National Bureau of Education at Washington and also at state and national conventions of the Congress of Mothers.

Mrs. Toll's report at the last national convention of the Congress of Mothers at Louisville, Ky., was received with the greatest enthusiasm, and she brought home a large list of names of delegates who were especially interested in the work.

A committee is ready at all times to help and advise other communities in the organization of reading circles. During the past year this committee has answered a great many calls throughout the country. Letters and lists of books have been sent to mothers in various states who were anxious to organize circles.

The Mutual Benefit Reading Circle celebrates its birthday each year by entertaining all its babies, and on "old members' day" a special effort is made to have all the old members present as guests for the day. The meetings close at the end of the school year with a picnic.

A very small yearly fee for dues makes it possible for anyone who is interested to join and all are welcome who desire mutual benefit in home and child problems.

W. C. T. U. GROWS IN MEMBERSHIP AND INFLUENCE

Mrs. Ruby Jordan Smart Describes the Plans of the Local Chapter

By MRS. RUBY JORDAN SMART
President

The Glendale Unit of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union is an alive, thriving and growing body with 225 members, increasing in membership at every meeting. Conforming to the plan of the National organization they are in an intensive campaign to assist in securing a million members by 1924. These are allegiance to the constitution members. Their names and address on cards to be filed at Washington, D. C., according to congressional districts, to be used to influence votes in Congress in support of the 18th Amendment and in protest against wine and beer. A similar effort is being used by the wets in their attempts to overthrow our government. Our purpose is to conteract as far as possible such designs.

Any voter, man or woman, can join our ranks by signing the pledge and paying $1.00 dues, thus showing loyalty at Washington, even though not able to take up active service in the organization.

A pleasing feature of this campaign was the gathering of members of a birthday bouquet to Miss Ama A. Gordon, World and National President of the organization, which occured on July 21 inst. Glendale was glad to add twenty-five to the Los Angeles county quota. This significent gift was a large bouquet of beautiful everlasting flowers, suspended from which were twelve white ribbon streamers one yard long, one for the state and each of the eleven counties. To these were attatched cards bearing the name of the county, the number of new members thus far secured and a motto. The motto for Los Angeles county was: "Los Angeles, a Paradise for Children." Many states joined in similar tribute of appreciation to our great leader.

Prominent in our year's work is the course in "Studies in Government." A large class is studying under the care of the vice-president, Mrs. C. W. Bacon. Lessons are monthly at regular meetings and anyone is welcome to attend.

The department of anti-narcotics, against cigarettes and the dope evil, is receiving special interest, together with medical temperance against alcohol in medicine and extracts. We continue our work in child welfare and scientific temperance in schools, teaching the rising generation the disastrous effects of alcohol and narcotics on the human system. World prohibition and temperance and mission is of growing interest and effect. January 1, 1924, will usher in the 50th year ("Jubilee Year") of the national organization when there will be great activities and interesting celebratios, pageants, camp fires, etc., in observance of the successful mark of half a century for "God and Home and every Land." We cordially invite every one to unite with us to God's glory, and the welfare of humanity.

COLLEGE WOMEN'S CLUB ACHIEVES POSITION IN CITY WITHIN 6 MONTHS

By MRS. A. L. FERGUSON
President Glendale College Women's Club

The College Women's club of Glendale is somewhat recent in origin. It was started by a group of ten college women in January, 1923. The membership was opened up to all women meeting the following requirements: "Any woman shall be eligible to membership who is not registered as an undergraduate and who has sixty university credits, or who has taken two years of full academic work in any university or college having a four-year course and granting the degree of A.B. or its equivalent."

Sixty-five joined as charter members and chose as the object of this club, "To unite college women and to concentrate their influence on the problems of social service and the advancement of education."

Officers chosen at the first meeting, to serve through the month of June, were as follows: Mrs. A. L. Ferguson, president; Mrs. Chas. Barker, vice-president; Mrs. Helen S. Moir, secretary; Mrs. Max Green, treasurer.

In the six months of the club's existence, membership has increased to ninety, representing altogether thirty-two colleges and universities.

Meetings are held on the second Saturday of each month. Teas alternate with luncheons. The teas are held in the larger homes of the members and the luncheons are held at the Tuesday Afternoon club. Programs have been provided both of a social and serious nature and speakers have been procured who have had a special message to convey to college women.

The club is now completing arrangements to become a branch of the American Association of University Women, an organization which is international in its scope and interest.

The officers for the coming year are: Mrs. A. L. Ferguson, president; Mrs. Paul E. Webb, vice-president; Mrs. Helen S. Moir, secretary, and Mrs. Julian Hayward, treasurer.

During the summer vacation months the officers and board of directors are making plans and preparing programs for the coming year.

WAR MOTHERS ARE GROWING SLOWLY AS THEY SERVE

Lester Meyer Chapter of War Mothers of this city is a patriotic organization numbering about forty members. Mrs. Anna Morgan is its president and Mrs. Estelle Stevenson, its secretary.

Its object is to aid in all practical ways, ex-service men and their families.

Last year it did considerable for the cheer and welfare of men at Sawtelle and in the County Hospital, aided others to secure employment and to finance themselves while out of work.

Work the coming year will probably be along the same quiet, unobtrusive lines. The chapter is making slow, but substantial growth and is much respected in

Truths in Epigram

Every conqueror creates a muse.—Waller.

Old houses mended cost little less than new before they're ended.—Cibber.

THE MOTHER-IN-LAW JOKE

Long, long ago, probably in a land far, far away, somebody invented what has been known ever since as the mother-in-law joke. By so doing he wrought a great evil upon his fellows. They have suffered from this sorry jest ever since. It is not really a joke; rather it is a stupidity. It has been served up in many forms, but always the essence has been that the mother-in-law is a plague, and her death the legitimate occasion for merriment. Now a coterie of women in the east say they will make war on the venerable slam. They are welcome to do their utmost. Final and formal obsequies of the joke would be an event attended by the sound of a great and abiding joy.

The wrong conception that lies at the basis of the slander directed at the mother-in-law, is perceived readily when she is viewed in some different aspect. For instance, let the married man regard her as the mother of his wife; as the one who helped him over the obstacles that beset the path of true love. Or suppose that he take the view of her as the grandmother of his children. Nothing repellent about a grandmother. On the contrary. Often she is the best friend of the little ones, their mentor and nurse. Her affection for them is full and fine and unselfish. She is not inclined to interfere, despite a hateful tradition. She is not likely to sponge, but far more likely to be able and glad to advance something to ease the young folks along until they are able to go on their own.

Many a man has found, perhaps to his own surprise, that his mother-in-law has become as dear to him as though the tie were that of blood. He resents the slurs upon the type. He thinks the slurs crude and vulgar to the point of idiocy. He will be ready to assist the women in their righteous war, even though his humble role be that of casting a poor egg at the vaudeville performer who may try to get a laugh out of the customary libel.

VIEWS OF IMMIGRATION

There are views on immigration directly opposed to each other. On one hand is the citizen desirous of a bountiful supply of labor, which he believes will be cheap because of being abundant. He would throw the gates wide open. On the other hand is the citizen who holds that the quality of the immigrant, mental and moral, his purpose in coming, his fitness for being made into an American, are equations to be considered.

Judged by the situation in the south of Europe ... large population there upon which America should hesitate to draw for material to enter the melting pot. It may be regarded as smelters regard obstinate ore. This is ore that contains precious metals, but so combined with base as to make doubtful the profit, or even the possibility, of separating them.

From the south of Europe pour, fast as permitted, aliens who have no thought of being naturalized in the land they are entering. Upon arrival they seek out those of their own nationality, and with them form communities wholly foreign in sentiment and conduct. Far from fitting themselves to be units in a constitutional government, they remain totally unaware of the nature of such government. The only feeling they are conscious of towards it is that of hostility. When they have accumulated a sum that seems to them a fortune, they sail away; and that ends their relation to the United States.

Immigrants from the north or from central Europe often become fine and useful citizens. Loyal to their old homes, as the ex-Iowan dwelling by choice in California has a tender regard for his old state, they are truly loyal to America. They do not remain exclusive. Industrially and socially they enter into the general stream of activity.

These facts seem to show that there should be a choice, and that quality rather than number ought to be the test. Of certain grades of applicants there could not well be too many, while rigid exclusion suggests itself for the ignorant, the vicious, and the unassimilable.

ENDURANCE RECORDS

In relation to endurance records the only question that arises is to why anybody should want them. Most of them stand for an utter waste of time. There is no occasion, for instance, why an attempt should be made to swim the English Channel. Human ingenuity has devised several superior methods of getting across. A man tried to swim from San Pedro to Catalina Island the other day. He could have given no good reason for the desire to do so.

There are piano players who will sit at the keyboard for scores of hours on the stretch, drawing upon their vital energies to accomplish that which, being accomplished, represents the zero of achievement. Men and women have been silly enough to try to dance uninterruptedly longer than any silly folk ever had succeeded in doing before. There are contests to see which glutton out of a number can encompass the greatest amount of a specified kind of food or drink in a given time.

All of these practices are harmful. They do not stand for any worthy ambition. The only emotion they excite in the normal mind is that of disgust. The fact that they draw admiration from curious crowds merely serves to show the low plane of intelligence that naturally is drawn to such exhibitions. To be sure, physical prowess, regarded as indicative of sound health, is worth attaining. Putting excessive strain on the natural capacities is not conducive to preserving either health or strength.

HELP FOR JAPAN

The catastrophe that befell Japan a few days ago did damage beyond all estimate. How many perished may never be known, but the sombre facts that cannot be concealed show enough to rank the cataclysm with the most appalling ever recorded. The rich and poor, the titled and the lowly, died in a deluge of elemental fury. The earth rocked, the waters rushed in destructive flood, the winds swept over the scene with hurricane velocity, and last of all came the flames to claim the people as they sought to flee in darkness and terror.

It is difficult to picture the horrors of the hour, but as the mind attempts to realize the truth, a vast pity is awakened. There will be great suffering in the stricken land. For a long time there must be shortage of food, and cowering populace without shelter or proper clothing. The lack of water will accentuate the agony. In the very nature of things disease will follow in the wake of the visitation. Hence there will be demands for supplies of every sort, food, clothing and medicine. Money will purchase these necessaries.

The sympathies of America already have begun to respond, but it would be impossible for the response to be greater than the occasion demands. Naturally the Red Cross took early steps to meet the emergency, but this great organization must have support. Its resources are not boundless, but are to be measured by the generosity of the public.

California cities have been quick to recognize the pressing needs and to seek to fill them. Los Angeles, San Francisco and smaller municipalities are ready to do all they can. Similar activities may be noted all over the country.

These Japanese are a friendly people. They are in deep trouble. To relieve them to the utmost becomes the bounden duty of humanity.

For years there have been under consideration plans for a great steel plant at the harbor. The project involves so much capital that it could not be pushed to completion until industrial conditions had developed considerably. The development has been accomplished, and now it is said the capital is available. Doubtless the plant will be erected. There is economic demand for such an institution.

FEELINGS

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

How precious are the feelings of others?

And how much should one sacrifice in order to preserve intact these very tender possessions of one's fellows?

Estelle Lawton Lindsey

During the past week I have talked with a number of troubled souls who were in a state of high hesitation on this important subject. In each case they faced a choice between hurting somebody's feelings and taking a serious health risk.

One woman had in her home a visitor afflicted with a grave contagious malady, but who refused to observe any sanitary precautions in the interest of either her hostess or the family.

Another was a young man who, because he refused to use a common drinking cup—which, by the way, it is against the law for any employer to compel his men to use—found himself exposed to ostracism and ill feeling from his co-workers.

Reduced to their simplest terms the problems of both these people are simply this, which is more important to live in health or to coddle the feelings of some one who because of ignorance or selfishness menaces your health, your greatest asset and most precious possession?

The answer seems so plain to be overlooked. The important thing is to preserve the health and let such feelings as may be injured ache.

People are always getting their feelings hurt about absurd things, anyhow. I know one mother who is endangering the health of all her children by refusing to scald the dishes and silver used by a tubercular daughter because "I can't bear to hurt dear Emily's feelings."

Now if "Dear Emily" is so abysmally selfish that she is willing to endanger everybody in her family rather than be remedied by the scalding of the dishes that is a potential danger, she deserves no consideration. She and not others should be the first to offer the protection of sanitary precaution to her people.

As people of gentle breeding we should scorn to hurt the feelings of another uselessly, but it is a wise man who knows when to sacrifice feelings in the interest of more substantial benefits.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

He was a stranger to me. Therefore I do not guarantee his story. But he fixed me with his glittering eye and began:

"We Americans," he said, "poor fools—do not realize the market value of beauty."

I passed over his attack upon my people to find out what he was trying to talk about. He said that in his rapidly growing town——

"The next small city in three states, and I can prove it by facts——"

A young architect opened an office a few years ago. He had so little money that he supported himself for a time by night work for a newspaper. But he advertised as follows:

"I will not draw plans for a house that is not to be beautiful.

"I will not help build a house on an unattractive street.

"I will not build a house for a life of less than fifty years."

Somehow, the idea hit people. The young architect meant just what he said. He did not need money so badly, he said, that he could be compelled to build the four walls and a roof sort of house that is unfortunately so prevalent. Further, he was able to demonstrate that beauty of line is no more costly than ugliness. A gem of a small house can be built at no greater cost than an enormity that decreases values along the whole street.

"His houses always resell," said my unknown friend. "That was the proof of the pudding in one town. We're practical business people and had to be shown. His houses sell at an advance where others will sell at a loss. The streets he favored are the best streets today. Other builders followed suit. Part of the town's growth is due to the fact that it is beautiful in its residences. We're proud of it. You ought to hear us brag."

We all know, of course, that beauty is salable. The new idea to me was that beauty is no more costly than architectural shame. If that is the case, some of our small town architects should be lynched.

AMERICAN LEGION POST UPHOLDS STANDARD OF CONSTITUTION HERE

Chalmer D. Day, Commander of Post 127, Describes the Work Done and What Remains to Be Accomplished in the Service of Veterans and Nation

An outline of the constructive work of the American Legion for better citizenship has been written by Chalmer D. Day, commander of Glendale post No. 127, at the request of the Glendale Daily Press, and also the following communication:

It is a pleasure to take advantage of the opportunity you have so kindly offered to Glendale post No. 127, American Legion, relative to your large issue on your new press machinery. First, allow me as commander to extend the most hearty congratulations of the Legion in the acquiring of your new home and equipment, and, second, accept sincere thanks and appreciation for the publicity which you have so generously and unstintingly given to the Legion and its affairs.

Very truly yours, CHALMER D. DAY, SR.,
Commander Glendale Post No. 127, American Legion.

"For God and country we associate ourselves together for the following purposes:

"To uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States;

"To maintain law and order;

"To foster and perpetrate a 100 per cent Americanism;

"To preserve the memories and incidents of our association in the great war;

"To inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the country, state and nation;

"To combat the autocracy of both the classes and the masses;

"To make right the master of might;

"To promote peace and goodwill on earth;

"To safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom and democracy;

"And to consecrate and sanctify our comradeship by our devotion to mutual helpfulness."

By CHALMER D. DAY

The above preamble to the constitution of the American Legion, is both the foundation and superstructure on which will in a very few years appear the more useful, consecrated, efficient and proud organization of the American Legion. By "proud" we do not mean alone the pride that the individual member takes in wearing the American Legion emblem, but the pride that the citizens of Glendale take and will take more of in the future of their own Glendale Post No. 127.

It is not alone merely an organization of honorably discharged ex-service men and women, but in it is embodied all the forces which were at work toward the successful conclusion of the World war and in which every liberty loving citizen of Glendale does, or must sooner or later, share a keen interest.

The citizens of Glendale have expressed their interest in their post in a most practical manner by voting on April 7, 1923, to sell to it for $100 valuable territory at the northeast corner of Mountain and Campbell streets. This piece of property will in all probability never be built on as a home for Glendale post for three reasons: First, it is not at the present time centrally located for the attendance of its membership and the membership of other patriotic organizations; second, a building on that location would be difficult of self-support; and third, a club house there might ultimately prove detrimental to the surrounding territory as a residential section of Glendale. In view of these circumstances the Glendale post has purchased the property known as 127 South Maryland avenue for its possible future home. It is, however, committed to no absolutely definite plan for building at the present time.

Glendale post has an active membership of 200 while it has a potential membership in the city of approximately— 750. Only ex-service men and women who bear honorable discharges and who served between April 6, 1917 and November 11, 1918, in the army, navy or marine corps are privileged to belong to the American Legion. These are not urged to join its ranks, but there is not a Legionnaire who will not go more than half way to assist a fellow ex-service man or woman to become a part of that great organization.

The Legion has its membership drives, but these are primarily to bring the opportunity of membership closer at hand, rather than to court the favor of or coax an ex-service individual to become a member of the organization. Eligible ex-service individuals who wish a membership in the Legion and who are not financially able to pay its fees are gladly made such without discrimination

As noted in the preamble to its constitution, the American Legion is organized for unselfish purposes, it is organized for service to our community, state and nation. Those ex-service men yet outside the Legion are shifting to willing shoulders a part of the burden of re-construction and "carry on," which is rightly theirs.

The chief concern of the American Legion is the proper care and attention of the disabled, those for whom the war did not end on November 11, 1918, but who will pay its tolls in actual suffering or hardships until the last taps, or until properly rehabilitated. The nation and state organizations have far reaching plans in this direction, but not a case of merit comes to the attention of the members of Glendale Post No. 127 but that receives all possible consideration.

The local post is a unit in the massive and harmonious organization now of world dimensions. There are posts not only in every city and community in the United States but on every part of the globe where ex-service men or women may communicate with each other.

The Glendale post holds regular meetings every Friday night at 8 o'clock in the Legion hall at 610 East Broadway.

Ed Radke's Specialty, Children's Glasses

Getting ready for the approaching school days means more than buying school togs and books, Ed N. Radke, 109 South Brand, optometrist and specialist in fitting glasses for young eyes, points out.

"Rendering proper application to school work is often an impossibility because of the serious consequences of continued eye strain," this specialist explains.

Mr. Radke has made a specialty of fitting glasses for school children. Graduating from the Chicago Optical Institute in 1887, he has fitted thousands of cases during his 30-odd years of practice in San Francisco. He has been giving Glendalians the benefit of his long experience during the past year and a half.

FRIENDLINESS IS NOTE OF SOCIAL RECREATION

Get Together for Play in Leisure Hours Is Success

By MRS. J. R. CASE
Chairman Social Recreation Committee, Glendale Community Service

Glendale, with a population largely made up of newcomers, has heartily welcomed the broad recreational program recently organized by Glendale Community Service. This program has for its keynote FRIENDLINESS and a get-together spirit for more happy leisure hours. It is a city-wide movement, not based on any arbitrary creed or sectional barriers, but binds the people together on the basis of a community of interest.

The program was initiated at a dinner held June 14 at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. A complete survey was made of all recreational facilities in Glendale and, by means of questionnaires sent out to hundreds of young people, knowledge was obtained of those activities which they were interested in and therefore the logical ones to organize first.

On June 26 the first community dance was held at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. A joint committee of Tuesday Afternoon club members and young people themselves were formed to carry out details of the evening. Special supervision and chaperonage was carefully worked out, making supervised community dances of great value to Glendale. At the second dance, held in July, the registration system was inaugurated. Under this arrangement, everyone attending the community dances must present an admittance card which is given them after the name and reference are filed at the main office of Community Service. An admission charge of 25 cents is made, thus making this activity absolutely self-supporting and a source of revenue for others.

Realizing that swimming would necessarily play an active part in any recreational program, and after counting 100 signed requests for this sport, the first swimming party was planned for Patterson park pool early in July. Committees were formed to take care of program details and judges were selected for different races. The bonfire after the swim is largely attended by the mothers, fathers and small children, who have watched the sports. Community singing is a feature of this part of the evening and refreshments are sometimes served. Cooperation of the Los Angeles Athletic club swimming department, under the direction of Fred Cady, was secured and in August, national champions invaded Glendale and gave an exhibition which was attended by hundreds and which resulted in much enthusiasm for this sport. Swims are planned every other week and one excursion swim a month. Swimming teams for both boys and girls will be organized, and inter-town competition will be held during the month of September.

Tennis is probably the most difficult sport to enjoy alone. Many in Glendale play tennis, but are not acquainted with anyone who plays. A tennis tournament was organized under able leadership of a strong committee. Trophies were offered by the Glendale Daily Press and entry blanks were sent out, which resulted in the registration of 62 players. These are matched according to their skill and sets will be played off during their leisure time on the high school courts, under the supervision of the city playground directors. Two tournaments were held in August, one for juniors and one for seniors. The same will be done in September, the winners of each month playing together to vie for the championship trophies.

Horseback riding has become a great favorite with those wishing to learn to ride. Arrangements have been made with the Oakmont Riding academy at $1.50 for one hour instruction and one-half hour ride. Supper rides are being planned and excursions into the different canyons back of Montrose have been inaugurated. All instruction and excursions are supervised and well chaperoned.

As the season changes, the recreation program will be changed as occasion demands, but it is not probable that the winter program will show many eliminations. Additional sports and pastimes will be added, such as dramatics, glee clubs and basketball, etc.

The success of the summer season has been the result of the generous cooperation of the local papers, the Tuesday Afternoon club and the enthusiastic support the chairman has received from her committee, which is made up of the chairmen of the sub-committees, as follows:

Dance committee—Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, chairman; Mrs. C. C. Cooper, Mrs. A. W. Eastman, Mrs. Farrow, Mrs. Frank Ayars, Mrs. Emory A. Troth, Miss Grace Crampton, Miss Dorothy Morton, Miss Ruth Ryan, Miss Ruth Spafford, V. M. Hollister, A. R. Eastman, C. C. Cooper, George Hastings and Emory A. Troth.

Swimming committee — J. C. Smith, chairman; J. R. Case, Jr., B. E. Anderson, Doris Moyse, Helen Tupper and Beulah Dunbar.

Tennis committee—William Bode, chairman; George E. Farmer, Frank Balthis, Howard Butterfield, Mary Barbara Taylor and Lillian Shattuck.

Glee club—Mrs. C. C. Cooper, chairman, and Helen Sawyer.

Horseback—Ruth Ryan, chairman.

Dramatics—Myrtle Helmer, chairman.

EXCHANGE CLUB DINNER DANCE

A very delightful dinner dance was the "ladies' night" given by the Exchange club of Glendale at the Egyptian Village cafe Thursday evening in honor of its president, D. Ripley Jackson, and its vice-president, George Whitaker, who will soon be leaving to attend the national convetion of Exchange clubs, to be held in Springfield, Mass.

Covers were laid for about 30, including guests from the Hollywood Exchange club. The brief program included songs by Henry Cantor, operatic tenor, and piano numbers by Mr. Nielson, the dancing between courses and later furnishing the chief diversion of the evening.

"SHERLOCK BROWN" BERT LYTELL'S GREATEST

Bert Lytell, the Metro star, will be seen in his latest photoplay, "Sherlock Brown," at the Glendale Theater today, three great shows. This new picture, adapted for the screen by Lenore Coffee from a story by Bayard Veiller, is the story of an earnest, trusting young clerk whose life ambition is to become a detective.

Five dollars sent to a correspondence school brings him a shiny new badge which he proudly displays at his modest boarding house, to the amusement of some of the cynical and unsympathetic lodgers. He is not to be deterred by their ridicule, however, and though engaged in the grinding routine of his job as a clerk, his mind is filled with the ever present possibility that just around the corner may lie his opportunity to win fame and fortune as a sleuth.

And sure enough one day he bumps straight into a mystery which has stirred the entire United States secret service. The secret formula for a powerful explosive has been stolen from a young lieutenant to whose custody it had been temporarily committed.

Sherlock Brown follows the trail, finds the document, loses it through a trick of the conspirators and ultimately recovers it again after a series of most amusing adventures in which a sure-enough instinct as a crime hound is revealed.

"Sherlock Brown" is a Bayard Veiller production for Metro. In the cast supporting Mr. Lytell are Ora Carew, Sylvia Breamer, Dewitt Jennings, Theodore Von Eltz, Wilton Taylor, Hardee Kirkland, George Barnum and George Kuwa.

THRILLING ACTS IN "BLUEBEARD'S 8TH WIFE," T. D. L.

There are many smashing scenes in "Bluebeard's 8th Wife." Those which will cause spectators to gasp are:

The scene where the husband finds his wife in a room with another man.

Miss Swanson's dive from a 40-foot cliff.

Revealing of the supposed Egyptian mummy, planned as a surprise, to be Miss Swanson. She is scantily dressed and slaves slowly unwind ribbons from her bronzed body. It is a complete surprise.

More pathetic scenes include:

The wife's sacrifice, when she displaces beauty and romance to marry wealth, to save her bankrupt family.

Her sorrow when she discovers that her husband has had seven previous wives.

The husband is bound to excite sympathy at his treatment by his wife, who taunts him at every turn. His love is sure to win sympathy.

Scenes of cut back (Miss Swanson's imagination to the ancient fairy tale, "Bluebeard's Chamber of Horrors." This dark chamber, wherein hangs the bodies of seven women, is powerful.

This great play is showing at T., D. L. Theater today and tomorrow only.

RINTINTIN, CANINE MARVEL, AT GATEWAY

One of the finest pictures that ever came to town opened yesterday at the Gateway Theater. This is "Where the North Begins," a story of the north woods, featuring the marvelous trained dog, Rintintin, who is so clever that one feels a man's brain must be lodged in his skull.

The setting in the far north is a fitting background for the tense drama unfolded before the handful of mortals living and struggling in one of the outposts and fringes of civilization, a remote Hudson Bay trading post.

This classic of the screen has everything. The wolf-dog episodes bring out the adventurous strain in every spectator, and the struggle of Shad Galloway to get rid of the young French-Canadian trapper, Gabriel Dupre, and so have Felice McTavish in his power, is dramatic, bound to provide a session of undistilled entertainment in which everything else will be forgotten. Such a thing could be said only of an unusual picture, and that is just what "Where the North Begins" is.

It is the sort of "movie" worth going out of one's way, if necessary, to see, and for that reason it is strongly recommended. To overlook it is to miss a picture with a fine plot, perfect acting and wonderful photoplay—the three things necessary to the real movie fan's enjoyment.

Chester M. Franklin directed the picture. The cast consists of Claire Adams as Felice McTavish, Walter McGrail as Gabriel Dupre, Pat Hartigan as Shad Galloway, Myrtle Owen, Charles Stevens, Fred Huntley and Rintintin, the police dog.

Doubly guaranteed by manufacturer and dealer.

FOUR NEW BOY SCOUT TROOPS ARE PLANNED FOR GLENDALE PROPER AND COURT OF HONOR FOR DISTRICT

Boy Scouts Fast Becoming an Organization of First Importance in Glendale, One That Will Shed Honor Upon City We All Love

OVER 350 SCOUTS AND LEADERS REGISTERED

Scouting Has Grown in Past Year and a Half From Practically Nothing to Eleven Troops With a Leadership of Fifty-three

One of the organizations of big importance in Glendale is the Verdugo Hills Council which heads Boy Scout activities in this community. It is of importance not alone for the boys of today, but because it has to do with the making of the future citizens of the republic. Its present status and plans for the future have been thus outlined by its executive, Harold Lenner.

The Boy Scout movement in Glendale and throughout the Verdugo Hills district is keenly active and teeming with the community life with which it is so closely allied. According to the records kept on file at the district office there are now over 350 scouts and scout leaders registered with the National Council Boy Scouts of America.

Scouting has grown in the past year and a half from practically nothing to eleven organized troops embracing volunteer man-power leadership of 53, who are serving either as scoutmasters, assistant scoutmasters, troop committeemen or deputy scout commissioners.

In addition to this Verdugo Hills district council, which embraces the communities of Burbank, Roscoe, Sunland, Tujunga, La Crescenta, Montrose, Casa Verdugo and Eagle Rock—has a membership of 57 big calibered men of vision who represent every phase of community life—social, civic, fraternal, business, religious, etc. Scouting attracts men like this because it is a non-sectarian movement in addition to being non-military and non-political. Its very broadness spells the success of its appeal to outstanding national figures as well as local men of affairs.

Plans are now under way for the organization of four new troops in Glendale, three in Eagle Rock, one at Montrose, another at Roscoe and still another at Tujunga. The organization of the latter is practically completed. It will be under the sponsorship of the men's Brotherhood of the Tujunga Community church.

Local churches are more and more realizing that a troop of Boy Scouts under leadership recruited from their own constituency is a big asset to the constitution and its future. Fully two-thirds of all the Boy Scout troops in the United States are conected with the churches of America. No wonder sentiment for the scout program is gaining so rapidly in our local churches. While scouting is a non-sectarian movement it is essentially a religious movement in that it teaches that every boy should believe in God and be true to the faith of his parents. Scouting has just passed the infant stage in this district and with the hearty co-operation of practically everyone it is standing out more and more in the brilliant light of permaneney. Scouting is here to stay.

The outstanding thing about the Boy Scout movement is not that it is "chuckfull" and "brimming over" with bushels of activities for the young—but that through and by its organization and methods it is teaching the community to help itself in the control and curbing of juvenile delinquency.

The troops, by whom sponsored, where they meet, officials, etc., may be found in the list below:

Glendale Troop No. 1—Sponsored by Knights of Pythias. Meets at the Glendale avenue Intermediate school Fridays from 7:30 to 9. Scoutmaster, Hal E. Leedom.

Glendale Troop No. 2—Sponsored by First Congregational church. Meets at church basement from 7 to 8:30. Also has cabin in Verdugo Woodlands where occasional meetings are held. Scoutmaster, H. B. Robinson.

Glendale Troop No. 3—Sponsored by Glendale Chamber of Commerce. Meets at high school Fridays from 7:30 to 9. Scoutmaster, W. L. Walker.

Glendale Troop No. 4—Sponsored by Glendale post No. 127 American Legion. Meets at American Legion hall Wednesday from 7 to 8:30. Scoutmaster, H. B. Lockwood. Assistant scoutmasters, Dick Nelson and C. M. Solano.

Burbank Troop No. 1—Sponsored by Burbank Chamber of Commerce. Meets at Thomas A. Edison school Fridays from 7:30 to 9. Acting scoutmaster, Leonard F. Collins.

Burbank Troop No. 2—Sponsored by Kiwanis club. Meets at John Muir junior school Thursdays from 7 to 8:30. Scoutmaster, E. B. Thomas.

Burbank Troop No. 3—Sponsored by Burbank post American Legion. Meets at Legion hall Fridays from 7:30 to 9. Scoutmaster, Dr. E. H. Wilson.

Burbank Troop No. 4—Sponsored by First M. E. church. Meets at church basement Fridays from 7:30 to 9. Scoutmaster, Harold E. Pomeroy.

Tujunga Troop No. 1—Sponsored by Monte Vista post No. 250, American Legion. Meets at Legion hall Fridays from 7:30 to 9. Scoutmaster, M. E. Hill.

Tujunga Troop No. 2—Sponsored by Men's Brotherhood of Tujunga Community church. Scoutmaster, E. C. Reslock.

La Crescenta Troop No. 1—Sponsored by First Presbyterian church. Meets Fridays from 7:30 to 9 at church. Scoutmaster, C. W. Angier.

Eagle Rock Troop No. 1—Sponsored by school board. Meets at Central school from 7:15 to 8:45. Scoutmaster, Ray B. Sanders. Assistant scoutmaster, Fred Schnoor.

GLENDALE ROTARY CLUB FORGING AHEAD

Among Other Good Deeds Is Aiding Boy Scout Work

By RUIE DOWNING
Chairman Special Publicity Committee

The Glendale Rotary club meets at noon each Thursday. At these meetings, various matters are discussed and plans formulated for special work to be undertaken. During the past year, several important matters were instituted, foremost among which is the plan fostered and carried out to completion by the Rotary club for the purchase of eighty acres of land, located in Haines canyon, near Tujunga. This tract of land is to be used as a campground and meeting place for the Verdugo Hills council of Boy Scouts, Y. M. C. A., and any other group or organization of boys, under proper supervision. The tract has a stream of running water, big trees and a cabin.

The plans of the Boy Scouts in connection with this tract consist of the development of a good road into the canyon, development of an athletic field, building trails and the reforestration of the mountainsides adjacent to the canyon. The reforestration will be done under the supervision of the ranger in charge of this territory.

The Glendale Rotary club was organized January 4, 1922, with the following charter members: George Bentley, C. C. Cooper, Gilbert Cowan, David Crofton, A. H. Dibbern, Owen Emery, F. J. W. Henry, W. E. Hewitt, V. M. Hollister, Wm. A. Howe, George B. Karr, Roy L. Kent, George U. Moyse, R. E. Olin, J. E. Phillips, C. A. Redmond, J. W. Rhoades, J. Herbert Smith, W. A. Tanner, Thomas D. Watson, Harry S. Webb and Richardson D. White.

Since organization the following members have been added to the club: Paul Carson, A. R. Eastman, C. E. Jones, Ernest Ford, Wm. Hunter, C. H. Kirkman, J. I. Wernette, Dan Kelty, Ruie E. Downing, James A. Newton, Ed. Nisle, Fay Stone, Preston Hatch and John G. Huntley, the last named being the only member the club has lost and this was through his death in June.

The first officers of the Glendale Rotary club included C. C. Cooper, president; Roy L. Kent, vice-president; Richardson D. White, treasurer; J. Herbert Smith, secretary; Owen Emery, sergeant-at-arms; W. E. Hewitt and W. A. Tanner, directors.

The present officers are: George B. Karr, president; J. Herbert Smith, vice-president; R. E. Olin, secretary; J. I. Wernette, treasurer; Carl Kirkman, sergeant-at-arms; Wm. Hunter and Ernest Ford, directors.

Rotary encircles the globe. Starting in Chicago in 1905, it has spread to 29 countries. No matter what country or what language, its teachings are the same and the late President Harding said, at the international convention in St. Louis last June: "If I could plant a Rotary club in every community throughout the world I would do it, and then I would guarantee the tranquility and the forward march of the world."

GAS COMPANY'S MANAGER ON TRIP

S. C. Singer, general manager for the Southern California Gas company in the San Fernando Valley district, will leave Sunday for Del Monte to attend the annual convention of the Pacific Gas association.

At the close of the convention he will go to San Francisco and Lake Tahoe for a two weeks' vacation.

Mr. Singer will be accompanied on his trip by his wife and son.

KAFATERIA SHOE STORE PUTS BIG SALE

CarriesSane Lines and Has Same Prices as Other Kafateria Stores

The Kafateria Shoe Store, 126 North Brand, has an advertisement elsewhere in this issue which shows that this store is offering extraordinary values in shoes. Mr. Cushman, the popular manager of the store, says there is a reason for this, namely, "their sixteen store buying power, and the fact that they buy shoes for cash and take all the discounts possible."

School bells will toll in a few days, and the children must have shoes. Mr. Cushman assures the buying public that he is well prepared to take care of their wants and to serve them in a most acceptable manner. New goods for the school time have been brought in and prices are lower than ever," says Mr. Cushman.

The Kafateria Shoe Store has as its policy "service and right prices" and is constantly making special offerings to the public. The Glendale store carries as varied a stock as any of the other Kafateria stores, and sells at the same low prices.

OLD SETTLERS CALLING ALL TO SOMERSET FARM

The annual Old Settlers' picnic will be held on Saturday, September 8, at the Somerset farm home of J. C. Sherer, 717 South Verdugo road. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to attend. This yearly event is one of absorbing interest to the old settlers in particlar, but every resident of Glendale who attends will get a thrill from greeting the pioneers, mingling with them and hearing their stories of the early days.

JEAN TRUDEAU MARKS 10TH BIRTHDAY

Miss Jean Trudeau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Trudeau of 603 East Windsor road, was the hostess to a number of her little girl friends, yesterday afternoon. The party was in honor of her tenth birthday.

A pink color scheme was carried out in all the decorations as well as the birthday cake. Each little guest was given some souvenir and an enjoyable time was had by all present.

FREEMAN-MORTON WEDDING LAST EVENING

At the home of Mrs. Louise M. Morton, mother of the bride, at 412 North Isabel street, the wedding of Miss Ruth Isabel Morton and Hugh Barton Freeman took place at 8 o'clock Thursday night, September 6, 1923, in the presence of a group of sixty relatives and intimate friends.

The ceremony was held under a bower of greenery and flowers in the living room of the Morton home. The color scheme of pink and white was carried out in the decorations of dahlias and asters. Bouquets of these flowers were placed artistically throughout the house, vases made from shells from the battlefields of France being used as containers. A partiotic setting for the wedding was also provided by the large American flag that was draped on the mantle. Palms and ferns completed the decorations.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Fern Opal Dixler of Los Angeles sang "At Dawning" and "I Love You Truly," accompanied at the piano by Miss Dorothy Hinckley of Hollywood, who also played the wedding march from "Lohengrin." Rev. D. D. Snudden, pastor of the First Methodist church of South Pasadena, formerly of the First M. E. church of Glendale, read the double ring service.

Miss Eleanore Brice of North Kenwood street and Miss Vesta Morrow of West Doran street were the bridesmaids. Miss Brice wore blue georgette over satin, with bead trimming, and Miss Morrow wore pink taffeta. They both carried bouquets of pink and white sweet peas. Mr. Benton of Pasadena was the best man.

The bride wore a charming gown of white canton crepe with pearl trimmings and embroidery, and a bandeaux of brilliants. Her shower bouquet was of bride's roses and maiden hair fern.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held and refreshments, including a wedding cake, served. Mr. and Mrs. Freeman made their "get-away" by switching off the lights. They will spend their honeymoon in the mountains near Ventura. They will be at home to their friends after October 1 at 612 West Alexander street.

Mrs. Freeman has been an active member of the First Methodist church of Glendale for several years. She attended school in Glendale and also a private school in Los Angeles for some time. Mr. Freeman is a member of the Baptist church of Glendale and is a senior at the California Institute of Technology, and will complete his education there. For two years he served overseas with the 117th Rainbow division of Engineers. Mr. Freeman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Freeman of West Doran street.

Mrs. F. E. Burt, Mrs. Benton of Los Angeles, Mrs. A. W. Holmes and Mrs. Joseph Fortunato assisted in receiving the guests.

90 Per Cent of Loans Made to Finance Homes Says Chas. N. Elder

Helping Glendalians to "own their own" homes, the Golden State Building Loan Association has been an important factor in the building and development of the city.

Out of 100 loans made by this association since opening its doors January 2 of this year, fully 90% have financed new homes, according to Chas. N. Elder, secretary of the company. The majority of these loans were made for a long period of years and to be repaid in small monthly payments in order to encourage home building.

The wisdom of this method of loaning money for building purposes is best attested to by the fact that the first building loan association was organized in the United States 100 years ago. Since then, Mr. Elder points out, these associations have increased in number and popularity until now these are more building loan associations than national banks in the country.

"They have helped many a renter to become a home owner," Mr. Elder explains, "and have helped materially to relieve the housing shortage throughout the United States."

Several millions of dollars worth of new homes are made possible in Southern California each year through the assistance of Los Angeles building loan associations, he says.

Mr. Elder cites statistics to show that if all the homes financed by California building loan associations had been built on adjoining 50-foot lots, the line of homes would extend down the coast highway from San Francisco to San Diego.

The Golden State Building Loan Association was chartered January 2 of this year with authorized capital of $1,000,000. Present loans are in excess of $225,000, according to a recent statement issued by the institution.

On August 1 the Glendale Building and Loan Association was consolidated with the Golden State Building Loan Association, adding two-fold strength to the greater institution.

Mr. Elder, who gives his personal attention to making the residence loans, formerly was with the Western Loan and Building Company, and has had a wide range of experience in the building and loan business.

These Hot Days

The subject of heating seems to be out of place. Past events have proven to be true the old adage: "In time of peace, prepare for war."

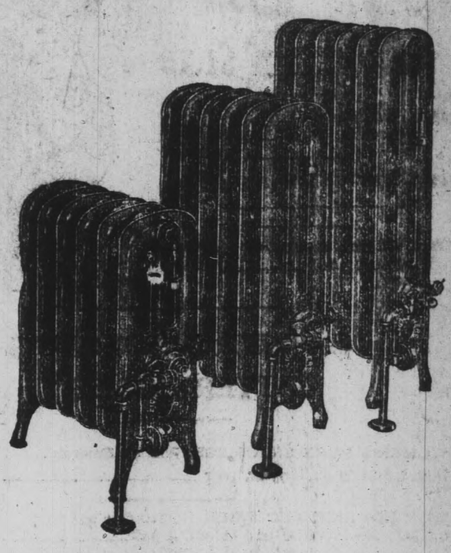
It will not be long until the weather will change and your comfort and health will depend on your heating plant.

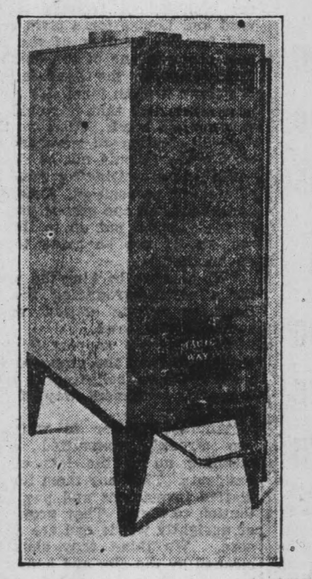
No company is in a better position to care for your needs. It makes no difference what system you prefer, we can satisfy you.

We carry a full line of gas heating appliances, including the Magic Way Control Unit Heaters, Gas Fired Steam Radiators, Cast Iron Gas Radiators, Gas Floor Furnaces or Gas Furnaces of most any type.

For heating economy install our Gas Fired Steam Radiators or Cast Iron Fumeless Radators, vented or without vent pipes—each Radiator a complete unit and giving the maximum amount of heat with minimum of gas consumed.

With automatic regulation, Gas-Steam Radiators make for healthful heating. They cost less and are easily installed in new or old homes.



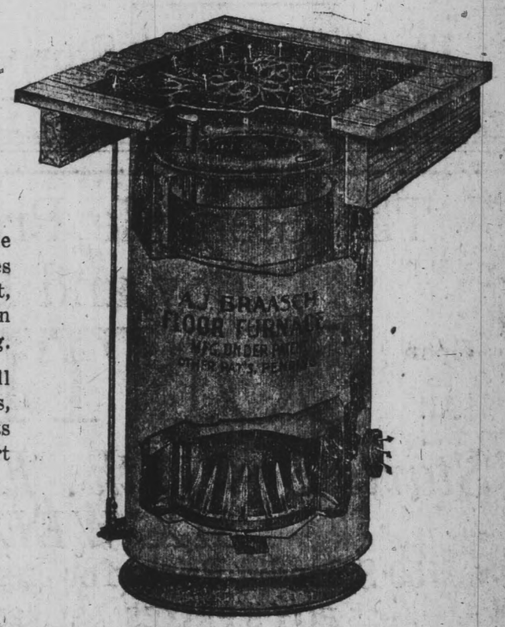


Unit Heaters afford the modern method for heating small homes, bungalows and larger residences.

This Unit Heater will comfortably heat a living room, dining room and one bedroom of a moderate size home.

If you want to heat more rooms—simply add another unit, or as many additional units as are needed.

The manner in which our installations are made will assure you plenty of heat WHEREVER and WHENEVER wanted.



Gas floor furnaces can be installed either in new houses or in homes already built, where no heating provision was made at time of building.

A good heating system will insure increased rentals, quicker sales, satisfied clients and make for genuine comfort in the home.

FOOTHILL FOLKS APPROVE CIVIC CENTER P. O.

Want More Parks and Schools, Also Lights on Kenneth

The Foothill Improvement association of which Alexander Mitchell is president and Mrs. Myrtle Buckman secretary, has been one of the most active organizations of its kind in the city. It meets once a month for a business and social session and always has a program toward which it is working, its interest centering in its own district but being always ready to back any movement for the civic betterment of Glendale regardless of the particular district affected.

When interviewed concerning its objectives for the coming year, Mr. Mitchell said:

"For our own section we are seeking an ornamental lighting system on Kenneth road, another grammar school, the Grand View school being now overflowing, and the conversion of the acreage at Tenth and Western avenue, owned by the city, into a public park.

"For the city in general we are backing the purchase of the present high school grounds at Harvard and Louise for a civic center and for the location of the main post office in one of the buildings, as suggested by the Glendale Press. We think it is an ideal site for the post office and that it would help to carry the bonds. Also, we think a bond election to purchase this civic center should not be delayed while we are waiting for some kind of a sewer proposition. Delays are dangerous and one proposition that is ready to be put up to the people, should not be made to wait on another.

"We also are backing the project for a park surrounding the new Southern Pacific station in the south part of town.

"Likewise we support Community Service and the proposed Community Chest, believing it is the logical and efficient way of handling drives.

"Another matter to which we are strongly committed is the cleaning up of the lots of non-residents. They buy them for speculative investment and pay no attention to them. They grow crops of unsightly weeds and are an eyesore. We think they should be cleaned by the city and kept clean, and that the cost should be charged to the owners. Our association has an enrollment of about 150."

EVANGELISM TO BE STRESSED THE COMING SEASON

The Tropico Presbyterian church at the cornner of Central and Laurel is planning an active campaign for the winter, according to its pastor, Dr. James F. Winnard, who says:

The young people are starting the movement with a big rally service, to be held Sunday evening, September 9.

"The church proper holds its 'Family day' service the first Sabbath in October.

"Special stress is to be laid this winter on evangelism and plans are now being made to carry the gospel into every home in the district.

"This church is not hampered by any building propositions, as its building is well arranged to care for a large Sunday school and congregation. 'Standing room only' is the attendance motto for the winter."

D. A. R. SLOGAN IS 'AMERICAN CITIZENSHIP'

Chief Future Work on Line of Conservation and Thrift

The coming year, the General Richard Gridley chapter of the D. A. R. will meet the first Wednesday afternoon of each month in the parlor of the First Congregational church of this city.

"American Citizenship" will be the slogan of the year and will be emphasized at the first meeting, October 3, which will be in charge of Miss Ida Myers, vice regent and state chairman of conservation.

During the coming season the activities of the chapter will be more closely confined to D. A. R. work, as outlined by the national organization. "Constitutional week," the second in September, will be observed.

Under its "conservation and thrift" program, which applies to humans as well as to things, the chapter will continue its philanthropic work for the Albion street school and Maternity Cottage in Los Angeles, and will encourage the preservation of land marks and the planting of trees.

As Mrs. Warren G. Harding, wife of the ex-President, is a D. A. R., it is altogether probable that under its patroitic program it will contribute to the fund that is being raised to erect a monument to President Harding at Marion, Ohio.

The chapter will also aid in the support of the "Ellis Island Manual," a publication printed in seven different languages, which is invaluable to the immigrant. All D. A. R. chapters are being asked to do this in the carrying out of their slogan, "American Citizenship."

The chapter, which started with a membership of thirteen, now has an enrollment of fifty-one. A number of applications for membership have been received during the summer and more are certain to come in because many women who are members of chapters elsewhere have recently moved to Glendale and will naturally wish to transfer their membership. The officers are extending a most cordial invitation to all visiting "daughters" or those eligible to membership to attend the first meeting October 3.

September 20, officers will meet to map out a program for the year along patroitic lines.

Mrs. C. H. Houston heads the chapter as regent, the other officers being: Miss Ida Myers, first vice-regent; Mrs. S. C. Leppelman, second vice-regent; Mrs. J. A. Crawford, recording secretary; Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Walter Lyman, treasurer; Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward, registrar; Mrs. T. W. Preston, historian.

SONS OF VETERANS SHOW LOYALTY TO G. A. R.

Regular meetings of N. P. Banks Camp No. 22, Sons of Veterans, are held the first Tuesday of each month in the American Legion hall, 610 East Broadway. The members of the Camp have for their purpose for the coming year a continuance of their loyalty and support to the Grand Army of the Republic and the Women's Relief Corps, the inculcation of patriotism and respect to the flag of our country and obedience to constituted authority.

The members of this organization are the sons, blood relatives, of that rapidly diminishing body, the Grand Army of the Republic, and as such feel a deeper interest in the welfare of the "boys" of '61 and '65 than any other organization.

The present officers of N. P. Banks Camp No. 22, Sons of Veterans, of Glendale are: Charles F. Stuart, commander; Harry A. Hall, senior vice-commander; Mr. Richardson, junior vice-commander; R. A. McGee, secretary; A. H. Davis, treasurer; William A. Goss, chaplain; Joseph Griffin, past division commander.

WOODLANDS FOLK WORKING HARD

The Verdugo Woodlands Improvement association is a rather loosely organized body of which all the residents of the woodlands and the canyon, numbering about 160 adults, are supposed to be members. It has no regular meeting time but assembles at the call of the chairman, Hiram Graves.

At the present time it has several active committees at work to promote the improvement of streets, the completion of the sewer system, of which the trunk line has already been laid in Canada boulevard, and improvement in the telephone system. A telephone trunk line to serve the entire canyon has been promised by the local telephone company, but work on it seems to have stopped at Opechee. If it is not going to be continued, an appeal will be made by the association to the Railroad Commission, says Mrs. J. R. Butler, secretary of the association.

LOCAL CHAPTER OF RED CROSS IS ACTIVE

Red Cross work has been definitely outlined by the government and the Glendale Chapter has been functioning efficiently along those lines under the leadership of its chairman, Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, the past year.

Its activities during the coming year will probably be quite similar but will depend to a considerable extent upon its financial support. Every year it conducts a local Red Cross drive, but 50 per cent of the receipts go to the national headquarters to help form the fund to be drawn upon in time of national calamity.

During the past year considerable has been done by the local chapter under the head of "human service" in the way of loans to worthy ex-service men whose compensation has been held up by the government for one reason or another, and also in helping the families of such men. So heavy has been the demand that its fund for this purpose is almost exhausted.

Mrs. Arthur C. Brown, who has been at the head of this department of the chapter's work ever since the war closed, has found no diminution in the demands upon her time and sympathies. Most of these grow out of the red tape of the department at Washington. Whenever an ex-service beneficiary changes his address there is always a long wait before his mail containing his compensation orders reaches him. The same is true when his status changes in any other way. As an example she has cited a certain ex-service man of fine character whose health failed to a degree which made it necessary for him to drop out of the vocational work he had undertaken. For four months he has received nothing from the government, only the Red Cross chapter standing between him and starvation.

A good many lost memory cases fall under the care of the chapter. One specially mentioned by Mrs. Brown was that of a man whose mind was so shattered that he could not at all times remember where he was. He was able, however, to follow a routine of work and found employment in Glendale. One day he disappeared and later turned up at Sawtelle, where he now is, gradually improving in mental condition. In the meantime, Mrs. Brown had managed to trace and communicate with his family, and will continue to keep in touch with him. The chapter is being constantly appealed to by army and hospital authorities and Red Cross officials to investigate cases, their home conditions and heredity, and it means a tremendous number of personal visits, telephone calls and correspondence, a kind of devoted service that money cannot compensate. In speaking of it Mrs. Brown has said: "The Red Cross service is an emergency work. We never know when the calls will come or how many there will be. We have had three cases this week, but I feel it is a work God has given me to do. I carry it on as best I know how, and leave the results with Him."

The chapter is still making layettes to be sent to destitute mothers abroad. A sewing bee was held for this purpose within the week at the home of Mrs. John Robert White, secretary of the chapter.

Another gracious work is the manufacture of "comfort bags" as Christmas remembrances for boys still in service in the Hawaiian Islands as soldiers, sailors and marines. At the same time the local boys at Sawtelle and elsewhere are remembered with gifts of clothing, jelly, and other good things at the yuletide season.

Life saving is the great mission of the Red Cross. It is therefore entirely legitimate for it to more and more endeavor to instruct groups in ways to prevent loss of life through instruction in first aid, swimming, and other life saving activities. Within the month large classes of boys and girls of Glendale have been given free swimming lessons.

Plans are already beginning to be made for a Red Cross Drive in Glendale, either as an independent effort or in conjunction with the proposed Community Chest provided it begins to function in time. The chapter's funds are nearly exhausted and if its work is to continue, its treasury must be replenished.

The personnel of the official board remains the same as last year with Mrs. H. E. Bartlett serving as chairman; Mrs. John Robert White as secretary; Mrs. W. W. Worley as vice-president; Miss Neva Veysey as treasurer.

Cohen and his wife dined at a fashionable restaurant for the first time. After being handed the bill Cohen scrutinized it closely and said to the proprietor:

"I say, you've charged us for dessert. We never touched it."

"But," explained the owner, "regardless of whether you ate it or not, it was there for you."

"There you are," remarked the Hebrew, as he handed over the money in payment of the bill.

The proprietor counted the money and discovered that it was a dollar short. Upon being informed of the deficit Cohen replied: "That was for kissing my wife."

"Absurd!" said the owner. "I never touched your wife!"

"Dot's your fault," concluded the Hebrew, as he walked out. "She was there, wasn't she?"

CONSTRUCTIVE PROGRAM IN MUSIC AND DRAMA

COMMUNITY SINGS BECOME FEATURE OF CITY LIFE

New Element in Glendale Shows Uniting Force of Project

By A. L. BAIRD
Chairman Music Committee

The community sings held at the high school last spring drew such a large attendance that the music committee of the Glendale Community Service has decided to continue them next fall and winter. Arrangements are being made to secure a capable and experienced musician to make them a success the coming year. Community singing brings people together and stimulates a feeling of friendship. It is our intention to have these gatherings at regular intervals, if possible every two weeks.

The Exchange club has taken up the community band as a project very worth while in Glendale and is making it a success. Weekly rehearsals are held under the able direction of Mr. Adolph Le Bourgeois, a man who has had wide experience in that type of work. Mr. Le Bourgeois has generously given his services toward training the young men for a concert. Thereafter arrangements will be made by the Exchange club to pay the director and provide the band with uniforms. With our band under such an able director and sponsored by such a strong group of men as the Exchange club, we may rest assurred that it will be a success. It is planned to have the first concert in October.

One of the biggest developments in our music program is the plan to organize a choral club. Mr. J. A. Meyers, an accomplished musician and director who has just come to Glendale, has offered to give his services in directing a community chorus. He has become interested in Community Service and feels that Glendale will support a good chorus. It is his plan to begin rehearsals the first of October on some very worth while music. The chorus will then be used in the big community Christmas program.

We are especially fortunate in securing Mrs. Alexander Mitchell as the chairman of a committee to organize this community choral society. Because of her wide acquaintance and musical experience, she will be able to bring in the majority of good singers in our city. A great deal of interest has already been shown and we feel that by October we can start out with a big chorus.

Long Beach, Los Angeles and Hollywood brought some wonderful programs to our special music evenings at the high school. With our choral society, community band and orchestra, we hope to return their favors and advertise Glendale by taking our talent from Glendale and putting on a return program.

The music committee provides leaders at many of the community sings throughout the city. Any group or gathering that desires leadership will receive the careful attention and help of the committee.

LOCAL TEACHER IN NOTED LADIES ORCHESTRA

Miss Evangeline Quackenbush Will Play in L. A. Again

Miss Evangeline Quackenbush, 1119 East Colorado, will again be a member of the Ladies' Symphon orchestra of Los Angeles, in October. Miss Quackenbush has played the violin with this brilliant organization for four years. It comprises about seventy-five members, and their concerts in the Philharmonic auditorium are musical events of the season. The unique feature of this group is that the only man who appears in the whole orchestra is the director. It is a distinct honor accorded feminine members of the musical world to be chosen as players in this group.

Miss Quackenbush, who teaches the piano as well as the violin, studied under Julius Beirlich, A. W. Albers, and a number of other prominent figures in the musical world. She uses the true old Italian system in training her violin pupils, and has her own original system with beginners on the piano. She welcomes pupils of all ages, from 6 years up. She has a number of very brilliant pupils, several of whom are well advanced and will appear in solo work this fall.

Miss Quackenbush is planning a number of recitals for her pupils during the winter season.

MARCELLA WEBB—Teacher of artistic dancing, who opens new studio with the Cavanahs.

LAURA JONES HAS TAUGHT MUSIC 25 YEARS

Mrs. Laura Jones, pianiste, has twenty-five years of teaching upon which she bases her present work. Six years she has been teaching in Glendale and has some well trained pupils to her credit. She finds herself successful with children, but takes great delight in guiding the musical development and watching the self-expression of her more advanced students.

While Mrs. Jones teaches piano exclusively, she is a pipe organist also. She was assistant organist of the Presbyterian church here for two years.

She received her own training from William Sherwood of Chicago, taking practically all of her work with the same instructor. In teaching, she uses Dr. Mathewe's system, with the Mason touch and technique.

Mrs. Thomas H. White, who was the house guest of Mrs. A. S. Chase of 400 Riverdale Drive, left for her home in Cleveland, Ohio, yesterday. Mrs. White enjoyed her stay very much and was especially impressed with Glendale.

RELATION OF THE GLENDALE MUSIC CLUB TO THE CITY

Mrs. Mattison B. Jones Describes Place of Organization in the Civic Life of the Community; a Service Without Stint

By MRS. MATTISON B. JONES

Relationship involves responsibilities and duties. What are the responsibilities and duties of the Glendale Music club toward the community? The real key to this relationship is the much abused word co-operation — organic co-operation between the club and community is the only basis for a just relationship.

Communities are made up of human beings, and it is to the citizens and builders of this community that the Glendale Music club appeals and is responsible to for its existence, growth and achievements. What has been accomplished is history, so we will only speak of the future.

Our by-laws state that "The object of this club shall be to foster and promote the art of music in the community." That we are doing this has been proved beyond measure by the response of the citizens of Glendale, both men and women, to our endeavors.

The Glendale Music club holds a unique position in the community, since it is the only organization which exists primarily for the developing and carrying on of all lines of musical activity and no officer or director receives a salary. Our funds go toward paying our artists and necessary running expenses, such as printing, postage and rentals, and our dues are extremely low. The lines of work being covered are: Concert Series, Junior and Juvenile auxiliaries, Artists' section, Composers' section, Teachers' Round Table, Scholarship Loan Fund, Artists' Registration Bureau and Educational work in general.

Plans are now being made to organize an educational department, to include chairmen of committees for the following subjects: American Music, Music Appreciation, Festival and Oratorio, Opera and Orchestra, Pageantry, Library Extention, Public School Music and Music of the Church. This is in accord with the work of the National Federation of Music. A head of this department is to be appointed by the board of directors and a chairman for each committee.

It is our desire to organize each department as the opportunity arises for such work. This will include one evening a month in musical appreciation, ensemble playing and singing, also choral work, and will be open to the community free of charge.

The artist concert series will be held on the second Friday of each month, beginning in October, and will be staged in the auditorium of the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. These are open to members only, but anyone who buys a $5 season ticket is counted as a subscription member and secures a reserved seat for the season. Anyone who buys a $10 patron membership secures two reserved seats for the season. The seats are reserved by the treasurer in the order in which the money is received therefore.

The club is doing a real civic work in bringing to Glendale nationally known artists at the rate of only 62½ cents per concert for members. The junior and juvenile dues are only $2 per season, admitting the members to all artist concerts. This is a real community work and any child in Glendale is eligible to these auxiliaries. The juvenile age is 6 to 14 and juniors 14 to 20. Each auxiliary has its own officers, with three adult directors appointed by the senior club board.

Any citizen of Glendale or nearby communities may buy a season membership and secure same by merely sending check of $5 to the treasurer, Mrs. Warren Roberts, 617 East Elk avenue. Active members, however, must be passed upon by the board, since they are responsible for the carrying on and the policies of the club.

The Glendale Music club has about 75 active members who are artist musicians and about 30 affiliated members, musicians who are not public performers. We have several hundred subscription members, men and women who love good music, and over 100 patron members. The club year-book goes to press in September, when the exact number of members will be tabulated. Our by-laws were amended recently to allow patron memberships in order to guarantee our fund for the artist series. All big artists are booked for engagements during the summer, quite far in advance of the time our dues are payable, so the patron list at $10 for two memberships, payable now, is to make us safe financially and allow us to secure our artists in time. One thousand dollars has been raised in this way and we hope to secure $2,000, as we wish to present to Glendale music lovers next season the following nationally known artists: Clarence Whitehill, of the Metropolitan Opera company; Cecil Fanning, celebrated American baritone; Edna Thomas, contralto; Josephine Lucchese, coloratura soprano, termed the American nightingale, a Metropolitan star; Allen McQuhae, the new Irish tenor, as well as other artists; also our California artists, composers and ensemble groups.

This is a great program and Glendale should certainly "go over the top," musically speaking. With such a series of artists, our various sections, auxiliaries and educational department at work, the officers, directors, committees and our citizens at large are assured of a great musical season.

"Know that thy highest dwells at home. There art and loyal inspiration sing. If thou wouldst touch the universal heart, of thine own country sing!"

The officers and directors of the Glendale Music club for 1923-24 are: Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, president; Mrs. Nathan Rigdon, first vice-president; Mrs. Dora Gibson, second vice-president; Mrs. Frank Arnold, recording secretary; Mrs. Helen Campbell, corresponding secretary; Miss Myrtle Pulliam, assistant corresponding secretary; Mrs. Warren Roberts, treasurer; Mrs. Percy Priaulx, financial secretary; Mrs. F. H. Wallance, auditor; Mrs. Alexander Mitchell, historian; directors, Mrs. Calvin Whiting, Mrs. Eva Cunningham, Francis J. W. Henry, Mrs. Charles Marlenee and Mrs. E. W. Kinney; president of the junior auxiliary, Miss Lucile Allen; president of the juvenile auxiliary, Miss Susie Smith.

Charles B. Guthrie Predicts Big Season

The Charles B. Guthrie Co., prominent realtors at 110 East Broadway, is opening the fall real estate season with a wide variety of attractive listings of all kinds of property, business or residential. Judging from the manner in which homeseekers and those seeking property for speculative and business purposes have flocked in during the past few weeks, Mr. Guthrie judges that this is to be one of the most active seasons in the growth of Glendale.

LOCAL MUSICIANS AIDED IN MUSIC CREATIVE WORK

Club Institutes New Element in Local Art Circles

Giving local composers whose work really merits recognition an opportunity to have their compositions placed before the public, is the primary object of the Creative section of the Glendale Music club, a new branch of that fast growing musical organization. The club is indeed fortunate in securing a person of such broad musical knowledge and experience as Mrs. Lillian Ballagh, founder of the Matinee Musical club of Los Angeles, which was organized some sixteen years ago, as the first curator of this section.

The aim of the section is in line with the work of the Glendale Music club and the state federation of music clubs, in fostering American composers and artists. In connection with the main object of the section, Mrs. Ballagh makes the following statement:

"No matter how wonderful a composition is, unless it can be put before the public, it has no real value. If a composer has anything worth-while to offer, give him the chance to put it before the public. The composer should strive to do higher, better things and should submit only his best."

With her wonderful experience, Mrs. Ballagh will be enabled to achieve much as curator of this new section of the Glendale Music club. Although she personally studied voice under some of the most prominent masters of Europe, as well as America, she has this to say for an American musical education:

"There is no doubt but what America can give as great a musical education as can be secured in any of the countries in Europe. The only thing, perhaps, is that in Europe the countries have that historical atmosphere that we have not yet arrived at here in America. As far as ability to give people a real musical education, however, we are equally as good here. And, too, a great many of the old masters of Europe have passed away, so things are not as they were before.

"The American public is getting more and more to the point where it no longer judges a musical composition or artist by the fact that it is the work of a foreigner, but are basing their judgment on merit alone."

The plan is to have the Creative section of the club meet about once a month at the home of members, where worth-while compositions of the local musicians will be played over and discussed. Through her wide acquaintance in high musical circles, Mrs. Ballagh will be able to see that really deserving work is brought to the right source for public presentation.

Mrs. Ballagh, in addition to being very active in musical clubs and other organizations, has also won considerable recognition for her own talent as a signer. She has won scholarships at both the Chicago Musical college and the American Conservatory of Music. She visited the principal cities of this country on a concert tour, and later conducted a school of voice culture and piano at Chicago.

Mrs. Ballagh has many interesting stories to relate regarding the advancement of women in the musical world. She had charge of the first big program given by women composers at Chicago, about 25 years ago, in which Mrs. Carrie Jacobs Bond and many other now nationally known composers took part.

The Matinee Musical club of Los Angeles, founded by Mrs. Ballagh, was the first musical organization in Southern California to offer prizes for original compositions, and held several contests. Julius Kranz, composer-violinist of Glendale, received honorable mention in one of these contests. Mrs. Ballagh is to have charge of a program of Southern California composers and artists, to be given during the year before the Glendale Music club, and has asked Mr. Kranz to play this composition.

Mrs. Ballagh also has the distinction of having formerly been president of the Schumann Musical club of Chicago, a very prominent organization.

WOMEN'S RELIEF CORPS WORKS ON OWN LINES

Activities of Year Extends to All Veterans and Child Welfare

The work of the Women's Relief Corps of which Mrs. Flora Pixley is president and Mrs. Julina Hayes, secretary, will be conducted along about the same lines as last year. Its first care will of course be for the surviving veterans of the Civil war who are members of N. P. Banks Post with which it is affiliated. Its work is not wholly limited to these, however, but extends to veterans of the world war and child welfare. Just what form it will take in 1923-24 will depend largely on the new crops of officers to be elected the first meeting in December and installed in January.

Like the post it co-operates in the celebration of all patriotic events, especially Memorial Day, and it can always be depended upon to take the right stand on every matter which calls for the support of patriotic citizens.

Clarence Crawfords Home From Long Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Crawford and children, Tom and Jack, of 1319 North Central avenue, returned late last evening after a four weeks' vacation. They went by train to Seattle and had their auto shipped to that point. From there they toured to many points of interest, including Mt. Rainier. They returned home by way of the coast route, stopping for a week to camp near the Columbia river, where they had excellent luck salmon fishing.

Miss Ethel Oliver of South Central avenue is entertaining a number of her girl friends at her home today.

MARCELLA WEBB OPENS NEW STUDIO

She Has Just Completed Course with Pavlowa's Dancing Partner

Miss Marcella Webb, teacher of dancing as a higher art, will open a new dance studio in the Cavanah studios, 130 North Orange street, on September 15. She has lined up many attractive new plans for the coming year. Among them she expects to open a class in Grecian, Oriental and interpretive dancing for adults. The work will be designed to teach self-expression, grace and poise.

"The simplicity, grace and expression of interpretive dancing cannot be mastered without well directed practice," says Miss Webb. "It is incorrect to suppose that because the secret of this term of dancing will be 'naturalness,' that naturalness can be acquired without definite meaning, definite movements and a clearly rendered interpretation.

"The true interpretive dance is not improvised on the spur of the moment, and however unconventional it may appear to the spectator, each figure and pose is the result of careful study and preparation in advance. Only under a careful instructor and the self-expression method of teaching can the dancer hope to become a true artist."

Marcella Webb hopes that this new class will appeal to business women who are interested in a cultural form of physical training and recreation.

Miss Webb has just completed an intensive course of study with Harry Losee, the artist dancer who has toured several seasons with Ruth St. Dennis and Pavlowa. Harry Losee, in California for the summer between bookings, gave Miss Webb the rare opportunity to work out an original dance course under his instruction.

She has the distinction of being the only authorized teacher in Glendale from the celebrated Ernest Belcher's Celest School of Dancing. She has had four years of study with Mr. Belcher.

While she specializes in teaching Russian and Italian ballet, Miss

MRS. PHOEBE MARLENEE

Webb also teaches Spanish, Slavic, character, interpretive, national, Oriental and toe dancing. In order to insure rapid advancement and the maximum of individual attention, Miss Webb restricts all classes to ten pupils. She stresses the importance of technique in her work, strengthening the muscles of the children before they are put into the more difficult classes.

Miss Webb, herself dainty and charming, trained to perfection of poise and grace, is the popular number on many big programs. She is now rehearsing for the ballet in the magnificent production of the opera "Aida," to be given in the Hollywood bowl.

GEORGE PHELPS BUY IN GLENDALE

George Harris Phelps and wife, who before her marriage was Miss Alma Geiger of Glendale, have sold their Hollywood home and have purchased the F. J. Roger residence at 535 North Kenwood street, Glendale. Mr. Phelps is a broker. Both Mr. and Mrs. Phelps are delighted with their Glendale home and plan to remain here permanently.

GLENDALE ART LOVERS FORM OWN ASSOCIATION AND MAKE FINE RECORD

One of the comparatively new organizations of the city is the Glendale Art association, but it has already made a record of which an older institution might be proud. Mrs. Roy Ballagh, its president, when asked to say something of its accomplishments and plans for the future, replied:

"It has wonderful results to show for its five months of existence. There are now three centers in which fine art is being exhibited—the public library, the Tuesday Afternoon club and the Central avenue school. At two of these, lectures are being given which prove that the people of Glendale are more than willing to support fine art as well as music and every other cultural movement.

"Within the next few weeks the association plans to arrange for some classes in fine art for both beginners and life study workers. Any one interested in either of these classes can help to establish the work by giving his or her name to me or to any of the officers of the association.

"The November exhibit will be for the children of the high school and we are more than desirous to have all students in the art department participate. We know we shall find a lot of talent. Why should not Glendale do as well as McPherson, Kan., a town of 5,000 inhabitants, which has become one of the best art centers in the United States? Practically every home in and around McPherson has good paintings, etchings or statuary. Let us make our city more beautiful by appointing art commissioners to pass on our public buildings. Let us join in a movement to secure a fine arts auditorium or gallery in connection with our public library and make it one of the finest cultural centers of the west.

"Community art week is to be one of the big events of the fall work. We feel that community work is a real melting pot where art can join hands with the people."

WOODS SCHOOL OF KLEVER KIDDIES PLANS WORK

Season of Careful Training Lies Ahead of Talented Young Artists

With vacation days drawing to a close, the children and young people are turning their thoughts toward winter activities. It is with interest that many of them are considering the pleasure in store for them at the Woods School of Klever Kiddies. This school is well named, for the results obtained through the careful training and personal supervision of Mrs. Nanno Woods and her talented daughters, Dorothy and Kathleen, are quite remarkable.

The abilities of both boys and girls along dancing and dramatic lines are developed with surprising effects and their joy in the work is reflected in the radiant faces of the youthful performers.

Among the discoveries of talents made by Mrs. Woods this past year may be included the names of Rex Morthland, Joseph Taylor, Elizabeth Haviland, Evelyn Molz, Ruth Bender, Saxon Barney, Jerry Fittenger, the Steelman sisters, the Sprinkle sisters, and others, children who have appeared at many entertainments this past season and for whom arrangements already have been made to appear in attractive programs this coming year.

In order to give all children an opportunity for self-development; Mrs. Woods has originated what she calls "opportunity classes." In these classes, instruction in dancing, dramatic art and singing is given to all the pupils and through this method, surprising talent is discovered and developed. These opportunity classes, furthermore, are put within the financial reach of every child in Glendale. The School of Klever Kiddies will produce a beautiful Japanese play entitled "Santa Claus in Japan," in December. This will include dances, songs, solos, choruses and dramatic work. Following the play Mrs. Woods announces the production of one of the most charming of fairy stories, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." The star parts in this play will be allotted to youthful star performers, in other words, to those who work the most faithfully and who show the best results.

The Woods School of Klever Kiddies will reopen on September 1, when private pupils may register and start work, and limited class groups will be formed. Registration for the opportunity classes should be made before Friday, September 21, on which date that work will begin.

Mrs. Woods is director of the Glendale Community Players and a life member of the Tuesday Afternoon club. She has taken an active interest in the community life of Glendale. Her daughters, who have been on both the Orpheum and Pantages circuits and have twice been featured by Pathe, Inc., are now devoting their entire time to the School of Klever Kiddies at 122 West Milford street. Mrs. Woods will be at home to phone calls after August 20, at Glendale 394.

ARTISTS' SECTION CALLED TO MEET ON SEPT. 21

To Assemble at Bosserman Home to Work Out Fall Program

With a preliminary meeting called for September 21 at the home of Mrs. Leroy Bosserman, detailed plans for the work of the Artists' section of the Glendale Music club will be worked out at that time.

The Artists' section is one of the newly organized branches of the Glendale Music club, and will have as its first curator Miss Gertrude Cleophas, talented pianiste. Constructive work among local artists is to be one of the aims of the section.

There will be given, at the different meetings of the year, programs by the members of the section. These will include piano, voice and chamber music numbers, featuring the works of the composers of the different countries. Committee chairmen will be announced at the meeting in September.

In connection with the programs, papers will be read on the composers represented by the selections rendered. The first regular program meeting of the Artists' section will be held in October and will be an evening of American music.

For the November music the subject will be modern Russian music. Tentative plans for the programs for other months include the following: December, evening of Schumann music; January meeting, at home of Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, French music; February, English and Scandinavian; March, an evening of operatic selections; April, evening of Beethoven; May, California composers; June, big party.

The meetings of the section, which is open to all artist members of the Glendale Music club, will be held at the homes of members. Dues will be $1 per year.

MRS. B. CHESTER INTERESTED IN CHILDREN

Aid in a Practical Way All Ex-service Men and Their Families

Mrs. Bessie Chester, 301 North Kenwood, has a special system for training children. She takes great interest in the musical education of the little folks whose parents put them under her supervision. She has worked out a distinctly original and effective method of training for these beginners. Mrs. Chester also has a great many advanced pupils of real talent.

Although she is a graduate pupil of F. Loui King, Mrs. Chester is still studying under Herbert Douglas, of Los Angeles. She has had a music studio here in Glendale for about two years, and is in great demand among parents who wish their children to get special attention.

TEACHERS' ROUND TABLE NEW WORK IN GLENDALE

Hopes to Put Construction into Glendale Music Life

It is the hope of the members of the Teachers' Round Table section of the Gledale Music club that much real constructive work in the musical life of the city may be accomplished. This section was organized on July 2, 1923, with sixteen members. One of its principal aims is the discussion of musical problems and other items of a musical nature.

Mrs. Eva J. Cunningham is chairman of the section. The regular meetings will begin in September and will be held once a month at the luncheon hour.

The following committees have been appointed for the fall season: Speakers, Mrs. Dora Gibson and Mrs. Catherine Collett; program, Mrs. Lillian Smits, Julius Kranz and Mrs. Virginia Freeman; legislative chairman, Mrs. Mattison B. Jones; publicity, Mrs. L. G. Sherman. Miss Mabel Carver was appointed to represent the Round Table in assisting the directors of the Juvenile club in arranging its programs.

The Round Table is open to all teachers who are members of the music club. The present list of members includes Mrs. Alma Gibbs, Mrs. Eva Cunningham, Miss Lilla Litch, Mrs. Calvin Whiting, Miss Nettie Campbell, Miss Helene Morgan, Julius Kranz, Harry Girard, Mrs. Eugene Murman, Mrs. Dora Gibson, Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, Mrs. Zoula Hagood, Mrs. Catherine Collette, Mrs. C. L. Marlenee, Mrs. Gertrude Champlain Erb, Mrs. Charles Parker, Mrs. Virginia Freeman, Mrs. Warren Roberts, H. E. Cavanah, Mrs. H. E. Cavanah, Mrs. Grace Jackson, Mrs. Lillian Smits, Mrs. Roberta Young, Miss Clara Wolter, Miss Mabel Carver and Mrs. Martha Russell.

MARY SEARCY BALL CHARGED 25C A LESSON

She Taught First Pupils When She Was 13 Years Old

Mary Searcy Ball, 516 North Central avenue, teacher of pipe organ, piano and harmony, had an interesting start in her work when she was only 13 years old. Two little neighborhood children, both boys, asked her to teach them to play the piano. Their parents were quite willing, so they received their elementary work for 25 cents a lesson. After succeeding with them, Mrs. Ball says, she was encouraged to try for more pupils and soon had as much work as she could do.

Mrs. Ball has been teaching in Glendale about a year. Her training has extended over a number of years, and she has had wide experience with some of the finest teachers in the country, among them Max Leckner, who was at one time president of the Music Teachers' association of America.

Mrs. Ball studied in Indianapolis for four years with Claire J. Winton before going to Boston to take an intensive course in technique from Percival Owen. While in Boston she also took up work with George E. Whiting. More recently she has been studying with Charles H. Demarest, well-known pipe organist of Los Angeles.

She teaches through an original system of finger development which she suits to the individual. In this way she endeavors to develop the personality and interpretive sence of each pupil. Although she takes children from the age of 5 up, she is always keenly interested in the advance of her older pupils. She had one pupil only 4 years old, who did all her practicing in a high chair. Mrs. Ball has a wide circle of pupils, both in Glendale and Los Angeles.

ARTS AND CRAFTS SECTIONS PLAN FOR WINTER

Pillow Making, Basketry, Flowers, Bead Bags, Are on Schedule

For the woman who is interested in handwork the arts and crafts sections of the Tuesday Afternoon Club will be most popular during the club season of 1923-24. The arts and crafts section are open to all Tuesday Afternoon Club members in good standing. The dues are $2 per year and each member furnishes her own materials.

During the last season the members of the section designated the following as being among some of the work they desired to take up this year: pillow making, basket weaving, French flowers, bead bags and glacine lamp shades. Some very beautiful articles were made by the members last year at a big saving over the cost of similar articles if purchased.

The arts and crafts work of the club is divided into two sections. Section A will meet the first and third Thursdays of each month from 10 a. m. until 2 p. m. in the palm room of the clubhouse, corner of Central avenue and Lexington drive. Mrs. H. A. McPherson is curator of this section and Mrs. R. C. Lane is secretary.

Section B will meet the second and fourth Thursdays of each month at the same location. Mrs. W. C. Wattles is curator of this section and Mrs. C. R. McCulloch is secretary.

MISS EDITH LINDSAY—Popular dancing teacher of Glendale and Hollywood.

GLENDALE MUSIC CLUB'S OPENING CONCERT, OCT. 12

Arrangements have been made to secure Clarence Whitehill for the opening concert of the Glendale Music Club to be held in October. Mr. Whitehill is known both nationally and internationally. He has been with the Metropolitan and also the Chicago Grand Opera companies. London papers acclaim him as being the greatest "Elijah" they had ever heard.

Mr. Whitehill is coming to the coast to appear as the artist for the opening concert of the Philharmonic Artists' series in Los Angeles. He has been secured for the Glendale Music Club program prior to his appearance in Los Angeles.

Cecil Fanning, another celebrated artist, will appear on a program before the club members early next spring.

LITERARY SECTION BROADENS WORK IN COMING SESSIONS

Covering a broad range of subjects, the work of the literary section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club for the year 1923-24 will follow along the lines suggested by the district and state organizations. The subjects to be taken up for study will include Americanization, Child Welfare, Women's Work, Conservation and Indian Welfare, together with new books, magazine reviews and current events.

At least three programs during the year will be devoted to California and its interesting people, from the earliest days to the present time.

With so varied a program it is the desire to interest many of the members of the club who do not at present belong to the section, and to stimulate greater desire, perhaps, for a more exhaustive study along these lines. A cordial invitation is extended to all club members to meet with the section at any time.

The regular meetings of the literary section, of which Mrs. H. C. Wilcox is the curator, will be held in the tea room of the clubhouse, corner of North Central avenue and Lexington drive, the first and third Wednesday of each month at 2:30 o'clock. There are no dues. The meetings are very informal, a fine place for club members to become acquainted.

MUSIC SECTION WORK POPULAR STUDY

Takes Up Harmony of Many Nations With Success

So many interesting things are being planned by all of the sections of the Tuesday Afternoon Club that it is indeed going to be difficult for the members of this organization to choose between them. One of the most popular sections of the club has been the music section. This is open to all members of the club who are interested in music.

The section takes up the study of music of the various countries, some of their famous composers and programs of unusual merit are given. An opportunity is also given for the informal discussion of things musical.

Mrs. Warren Roberts is curator of the music section. On account of the large number of members who showed a preference for this section last year it was found that it would be advisable to hold the meetings this club year in the auditorium of the Tuesday Afternoon Club house at Lexington drive and North Central avenue, where they will be held unless otherwise announced in the outline for the year's work. The dues are $1 per year.

The music section has arranged for two lecture-recitals during the year, to which the club membership is extended an invitation to attend. Some splendid programs have been planned, the time and subjects of which will be found on the music page of this issue.

VIRGINIA FREEMAN FAMOUS IN GRAND OPERA

Appeared for Many Seasons in Metropolitan Opera Company

Many know of Virginia Freeman, the teacher of voice, whose studio is at 316 Dryden, but few know of her great honors in the metropolitan musical world. Quoting from an old number of the New York Musical Courier, it speaks of her as "a member of the Metropolitan Opera company of New York, who has a voice 'made in heaven.'" She has always sung. She began her public career as soloist in the First Presbyterian church in Washington, D. C., at the age of 15 years. The beauty and strength of her voice soon attracted much attention and she sang with large orchestras throughout Washington, D. C., Pennsylvania and New York. Seeking a broader field for her work, she came to New York and sang for Herr Conried, on the Metropolitan stage. In the wings stood a few friends and Caruso, the tenor, who was Conried's greatest drawing card. In mourning for her mother, lonesome and sad, she sang "Ocean, Thou Mighty Monster," and as the last notes, resonant and full, died into silence, she won her success. Conried rushed on the stage and grasped the singer's hand, as he said: "Truly, you have a wonderfully glorious voice. What can I do for you?" He then awarded her with the highest scholarship in the opera school, with the advantages of voice culture, dramatic art, repertoire, languages, free admission to all rehearsals and operatic performances, and, at the end, a European trip. The unlooked for career of the operatic singer began for her with success.

Among Mrs. Freeman's friends have been Caruso, Alice Gentle, Calve, Sembrich, Cecil Fanning, Olive Fremstead, Clifford Wiley, Schumann-Heink, Galli-Curci, Geraldine Farrar and countless others.

When she took up teaching in the school given her in New York, her individual work was examined every three months by the New York authorities on teaching methods and voice placement. Besides the Metropolitan scholarship which she won over eleven other singers, Mrs. Freeman was awarded one by Carnegie Hall.

After touring for years she opened a studio in the east, but left there to become a resident of Glendale.

Mrs. Freeman will conduct another season of open lessons, where pupils may invite friends to see the technical work upon which she bases her teaching.

There are many other honors which Mrs. Freeman has won as a stage heroine and teacher, and much more which might be said of her as a real artist.

DELPHIAN GROUPS PLAN FOR THE WINTER

Delphian Study Club Will Study Drama This Year

Glendale numbers among its women's organizations a Delphian charpter and two Delphian groups. The chapter meets the second and fourth Thursdays of each month, beginnig at 10 a. m. These have been held heretofore at the public library on Harvard street. The meetings will be resumed the latter part of September.

Mrs. P. O. Lucas is president of the Delphian Study club and Miss Martha Cox is secretary. Mrs. Bolton is leader of the Ivy group and Mrs. Paul C. Mason is leader of the Lotus group.

During this year the club will take up the subject of the history and growth of the drama, beginning at the very beginning of drama in ancient Greece and following it through to the modern drama. The chapter meetings include programs dealing on what has been studied in the groups and papers are read by the various members. It is also planned to have speakers during the year.

MUSICAL CIRCLES WELCOME THE SKEDDENS

Musical circles of the Glendale district are indeed fortunate in having as their most recent additions Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Skedden, who at the present time are making their home at La Crescenta. Mr. Skedden is the possessor of a wonderful baritone voice. He was formerly a member of the Metropolitan and Covent Garden Opera companies and other operatic organizations. Mrs. Skedden, or Miss Pike as she is known in the musical world, is one of America's foremost concert pianists.

Among the notable achievements of Mr. Skedden was the first venture of the Minneapolis Munipal Open Air Grand Opera, of which he was managing director, when it most successfully produced the opera "Aida."

Mr. Skedden was managing director of the Edwin Skedden American School of Opera of Minneapolis, Minn., and also of the Minneapolis Municipal Opera company and his wife, Katherine Pike-Skeddon was assistant director and accompanist.

Among the opera roles that have been sung by Mr. Skedden include Amonasro and The King in "Aida," Valentine in "Faust," Escamillo in "Carmen," Telramund in "Lohengrin," Sharpless in "Madam Butterfly," Tonio and Sylvio in "Pagliacci," Alfio in "Cavelleria Rusticana" and King Herod in "Herodiade." The opera roles that he has sung in concert form or studied include Tales of Hoffman, Tannhauser, Il Trovatore, La Boheme, Martha, La Gioconda, La Tosca, Girl from Golden West, etc.

Mrs. Katherine Pike-Skedden is said to possess rare talent as a piano soloist and accompanist. She has played for such artists as Marie Rappold, Mme. Bernice Pasquali, Lila Robeson, Robert Leonhardt and Mme. Clementine DeVere, all of the Metropolitan Opera Company, Reinald Werrenrath, Vera Barstow, Marcella Craft and many others.

As the interest in things musical in Glendale is constantly increasing, it will undoubtedly not be long before many demands will be made on the time of Mr. and Mrs. Skedden to join in the work of the local musical organizations and the music activities of Glendale Community Service.

Glendale's many real musical artists is increasing at such a rate that it will no doubt be but a short time before the matter of a municipal opera company for Glendale might be considered.

A great many Glendale residents will remember Mr. Skedden through his work in the membership drive of the Oakmont Country Club with whom he is connected.

SHORT CUTS IN ECONOMICS IS PLANNED

Home Economics Section to Welcome All Members in New Program

Tentative plans for the year's program for the home economics section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club include educational talks from informed persons on subjects pertaining to the home, from furnishings to the short-cuts in work, home economics and management. The study of interior decorating will also be taken up. This will include the matters of quality and texture of rugs and draperies so as to train the members to become better buyers. The program as far as planned will follow the home economics program as outlined by Mrs. Charles Toll for the district, so that all clubs may be working towards the same aim.

The Home Economics section is open to any member of the Tuesday Afternoon Club. There are no dues and any member of the club is cordially invited to join. Mrs. T. G. Widmeyre is curator and Mrs. G. O. Piercy is secretary.

The Home Economic section was organized by members of the non-section group, that had been working under the direction of Mrs. A. H. Montgomery since November. The first big entertainment by the non-section in March. Since its organization it raised $1500 towards payment on the lounge room furniture and almost $1000 additional. During the fall season another non-section group will be organized by Mrs. Montgomery.

The regular meetings of the home economics section will be held the first and third Thursdays of each month at 2:30 o'clock at the clubhouse.

During the summer the section has been giving a series of informal card parties every Tuesday afternoon. This series will close on September 11, when the grand prize will be awarded to the one having the highest grand total. Score cards have been kept from all the parties and these will be totaled, the one having the highest total score to receive the grand prize.

A Piano! A Piano! it is an easy word to say, but what constitutes a Real Piano?

ONLY A FEW PEOPLE CAN ANSWER THIS QUESTION EXPERTLY. THEN—WHAT HAPPENS TO THE PROSPECTIVE PIANO PURCHASER WHO SETS OUT TO BUY? HE OR SHE MUST DEPEND LARGELY UPON THE HONESTY, INTEGRITY AND SINCERITY OF THE SALESMEN WITH WHOM THEY MAY COME IN CONTACT.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB'S GREATEST YEAR TO OPEN OCT. 2

President's Day to Signal Opening of Season With Fully Equipped Clubhouse; New Program Committee to Present First Number

Activity of the Tuesday Afternoon Club of Glendale for the 1923-1924 season will open very auspiciously on October 2, which has been designated as president's day. At that time Mrs. Daniel Campbell, as president of the organization, is to give her address of welcome to the members. In addition to this the new program committee, of which Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward is chairman, has arranged for a program to be given by the Matinee Musical club of Los Angeles, of which Mrs. J. Spencer Kelly is president, under the direction of Mrs. Lillian Ballagh of Glendale, founder of the Matinee club.

The program will include lullaby songs and dances of the nations, in costume, among which will be the following numbers:

1. Tableau, "The Virgin and the Infant" (Botticelli). Song by Mrs. Plesants, "Mary's Manger Song" (Salter).
2. French lullaby from "Jocelyn" (Goddard), sung by Mrs. Poor.
3. Negro lullaby, by Mrs. Palmer.
4. Norwegian lullaby, "Saa Stille" (Grondahl), by Mrs. Plesants.
5. Russian and Scotch dances by Helen Johnson.
6. a. "English Lullaby" (Syril
   b. "Baby's Smile" (Gladys Knesel Thatcher), sung by composer.
   b. "Little Papoose" (Cadman).
   b. "Land of the Sky-Blue Water" (Cadman), sung by Mrs. Pickering.
8. Spanish.
   a. "La Paloma" (Yradier).
   b. "Marguerita" (Josephine Johnstone), Sung by Mrs. Streith-Miller of Glendale.
9. Italian—Scene from "Il Trovatore" (Verdi), sung by Mary Linck Evans.
10. Chinese.
10. Chinese.
    a. "In China" (Motzan).
    b. "Lullaby" from "East is West" (Bowers), sung by Miss Patterson.
11. American Handicap dance, by Helen Johnson.
12. Tableau, "The Sistine Madonna" (Rafael).

Beginning with the club year in October meetings will be held at the clubhouse, corner of Central avenue and Lexington drive, every Tuesday afternoon. The first and third Tuesdays there will be luncheon meetings, open to all members of the club, up to 300, who make reservations. At 1:30 o'clock there will be talks by luncheon speakers. The regular business meeting will follow at 2:30 and at 3 p. m. the program will begin. On the second and fourth Tuesdays the regular meeting will begin at 2:30, and program at 3. Special events will be planned for any fifth Tuesdays.

For the meeting on October 9 the program will be given by Upton Close (Josef Washington Hall), who has been very prominent in the restoration of China. Mr. Close was also special writer for the National Geographic magazine and other prominent magazines and newspaper syndicates. His specialty is China and his program will be titled "The Melodrama of China," the personality, politics and people of the country. The remainder of the October programs have not as yet been determined by the committee.

Maude Fenlon Bollman will give a cycle called "The Song of Life," depicting the joy, sadness, love, etc., at the first meeting in November.

The second Tuesday in November will be charter day and there will be a special program arranged, with the charter members as the honored guests of the day.

Ann Zelanka, a brilliant Russian woman who is the wife of one of the professors at the University of Southern California, will give a representation of Russian life in song, dance and story, at the meeting of the club the third Tuesday in November.

Another treat that is planned for later in the club season will be the appearance of Princess Chinquilla, a real Indian, whose talk will be illustrated with Indian songs and stories. She will appear in Indian costume.

ARTS SECTION OF TUESDAY CLUB IS PLANNING WORK

Mrs. Roy Ballagh, Curator, Tells of Work It Will Undertake

Of plans which have been made for the fine arts section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, recently organized, Mrs. Roy Ballagh, its curator says:

"The fine arts section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club is planning to make great progress in the study of art appreciation this year. Who is there that would not like to know what goes to make up a good painting or why one is a masterpiece, another mediocre?

"We plan to have the best exhibits every month that are obtainable. We also hope to bring to Glendale some of the masterpieces of art for short exhibits. In addition to these features we expect to have one lecture a month on paintings, etchings or sculptures by well known artists. These will afford a wonderful opportunity to get acquainted with artistic ideals and learn what artists are trying to create.

"As the home is the foundation of civilization, it should be our first duty to make it harmoniously beautiful. Unconciously we are refined through the influence that radiates from a cultured environment.

"To promote a love of art in the community we plan to co-operate with Mr. Tucker, director of Community Service, in giving one or two evenings a month when the public can have access to these exhibits and hear short talks on art."

BIBLE SECTION IS OPEN TO PUBLIC ATTENDANCE

Like other active and growing women's clubs throughout Southern California, the Tuesday Afternoon Club of Glendale has established a Bible study section, which is entirely a non-sectarian and non-denominational organization. This will be the only section of the club that is open to the public. Members may invite any person they desire, or those seeing notices in the paper may come without personal invitation. There are no dues.

There will be an inspirational leader secured free of charge through the Bible institute to give instruction to those attending. The section's work will be more of a study of the history of the Bible and leading facts contained therein, things that will bring the Bible to fit into every-day life.

At a recent memorial service conducted at Washington, D. C., and attended by President and Mrs. Harding, the pastor in charge stated and his remarks were heartily endorsed by the distinguished visitors, "The proudest heritage of this country is that all through its history there has run like a golden thread a deeply religious strain, and in the compact signed in the cabin of the historic 'Mayflower' it began 'In the Name of God.' Having undertaken for the glory of God and the advancement of the Christian faith, these are the opening words of the first state paper ever adopted for the government of a community on American soil.

The section is for the people who want to study the word of God. Meetings will be held at the clubhouse every second and fourth Monday in each month. Mrs. Charles H. Temple is curator of the Bible Study section.

One of the club programs for early in 1924 is to be given by Herbert L. Willet, who is pastor of the Memorial Church of Chicago, Illinois. Rev. Willet will give a lecture on "The Place of the Bible in Modern Thought." He is a well-known traveler and lecturer and members of the club are looking forward with much interest to this program.

WAYS AND MEANS SETS HIGH GOAL FOR YEAR'S FINANCIAL OPERATIONS

Mrs. A. H. Montgomery Plans to Make $10,000 to Aid in Discharging the Club's Debt; Some of the Events That Are Planned

For the women of Glendale, and particularly the members of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, the club year of 1923-1924 is to be a very busy one, with a variety of big events planned. All activities of the Tuesday Afternoon Club for money making this club year will be handled under the ways and means committee, of which Mrs. A. H. Montgomery is chairman. She has set her goal for the year to raise $10,000 towards payment on the clubhouse debt.

Among some of the events planned are a concert, progressive dinner party, luncheons, card parties, dancing parties, society circles, minstrel show, cooked food sales and many other features.

The first affair will be the Henry Cantor farewell concert to be given at the clubhouse auditorium on September 22.

An outstanding feature of the events planned will be the progressive dinner and party to be held at the homes of members residing in the foothill district of Glendale. Different courses of the dinner will be served at the various homes. At one residence there will be an entertainment, with probably a radio concert in the evening. There will also be a dancing party at the Rattray home.

In October, it is the plan of Mrs. Montgomery and her committee, to hold a big Hallowe'en luncheon and card party at the clubhouse, with dancing in the evening.

The dates of November 16 and 17 should be well remembered, for that is the time set for the second annual Society Circus and bazaar. A story of the tentative plans for this event appears elsewhere in this issue.

Sometime before the Christmas holidays a rummage sale will be held.

Early in 1924 a big minstrel show will be given. Tentative plans are also being made to hold a dancing party once a month in the clubhouse ballroom. Curators of sections and committee chairmen are arranging to assist Mrs. Montgomery at the weekly luncheons that are being served at the club to the Exchange and Kiwanis Clubs of Glendale.

A series of cooked food sales, to be held every two weeks, will be conducted throughout the year under the auspices of the hospitality committee. As the club year advances further plans will be completed for raising money.

The ways and means committee includes Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, chairman; Mrs. W. S. Rattray, Mrs. Allen Fairchild, Mrs. H. E. Clough, Mrs. Ernest Carr, Mrs. C. T. Jones, Mrs. A. H. Dibbern, Mrs. F. L. Hollingsworth, Mrs. Pierson Hanning, Mrs. L. H. Wilson and the following section curators: Miss Ida Myers, Americanization and Legislation; Mrs. H. A. McPherson and Mrs. W. C. Wattles, Arts and Crafts Sections A and B; Mrs. Charles H. Temple, Bible section; Mrs. Max Green, Drama; Mrs. Roy Ballagh, Fine Arts; Mrs. T. G. Widmeyre, Home Economics; Mrs. H. C. Wilcox, Literary; Mrs. C. G. Putnam, Maids and Young Matrons; Mrs. Warren Roberts, Music; Mrs. C. A. Brandstater, Parliamentary Law; Mrs. Walter Jones, Shakespeare, and the curator of the Travel section.

PARLIAMENTARY LAW SECTION PROGRAM

Mrs. C. A. Brandstater, Curator, Outline Work of Coming Year

By MRS. C. A. BRANDSTATER
Curator Parlimentary Law Section
Tuesday Afternoon Club

The object of the parliamentary law section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club is to assist its members, by actual practice, to accomplish in the best possible manner the work designed by the club. Gladstone said "It is the purpose of all law to make it hard to do wrong and easy to do right," hence the necessity for everyone expecting to take an active part in meetings of a deliberative assembly, or be able to appreciate to the fullest extent those who do, or for all who wish to become valuable acquisitions to society to have a knowledge of the established rules of parliamentary procedure.

Parliamentary usage may vary or differ in the details of its rules, but the underlying foundation or principles upon which the super-structure of parliamentary law is founded are the same: justice and equality to all, courtesy to all, one thing at a time, and will of the majority, the right of the minority to be heard, partiality to none.

A program full of helpfulness to those who will study in this section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club has been arranged for the coming club year, a synopsis is as follows: a study on "The Value of Parliamentary Usage," by Mrs. A. A. Barton.

"Organization and Duty of Officers," by Mrs. P. S. McNutt.

"The Main Motion," by Mrs. B. O. Holbrook.

"Subsidiary, Privileged and Incidental Motions," by Mrs. W. E. Evans.

"Amendments," by Mrs. Harry Greenwalt.

"Unclassified Motions," by Miss Eva Daniels.

Debate by Mrs. W. M. Brown.

"To Amend by Substitution" and "The Previous Question," by Mrs. H. E. Bartlett.

"Resolutions," by Mrs. John Robert White, Jr.

"Relating to By-Laws," by Mrs. P. S. McNutt.

"Elections," by Mrs. W. H. Verity.

Question box conducted by Mrs. John Robert White, Jr.

At the close of the year a contest will be conducted by Mrs. P. S. McNutt.

The parliamentary law section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club will meet the second and fourth Mondays of each month at 2 o'clock at the clubhouse. The opening meeting of the club year 1923-24 will be on October 22. All club members are given a cordial invitation to join this section. Guests are always welcome.

The officers of the parliamentary law section are: Mrs. C. A. Brandstater, curator; Mrs. Harry Greenwalt, secretary; Mrs. P. S. McNutt, instructor; Mrs. W. H. Verity, hospitality chairman.

APPEAL OF CLUB IS BROADENED FOR MEMBERS

Many New Sections and Committees Are Made and Appointed

With several new sections and a large number of committees added to the Tuesday Afternoon Club's corp of officers, the new club year promises to be one of greater efficiency and larger scope, thereby having a broader appeal for its members and placing it on the same plane as some of the largest women's clubs of the state.

The sections of the club for 1923-1924, as outlined thus far, will include the Arts and Crafts Sections A and B, Bible Study, Drama, American Citizenship and Legislation, Literary, Maids and Young Matrons, Music, Parliamentary law, Travel, Shakespeare, Home Economics and Fine Arts.

The work of the committees is to be very interesting and will increase the efficiency of the club work. One of the new committees will be the International Relations Committee. This will include three naturalized citizens and two native born, Mrs. Hugh Blue, Mrs. John Roman, Mrs. H. L. Clotworthy, Mrs. C. E. Norton and Mrs. Porter.

The standing committees of the club include the following: Program, Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward; Mrs. Frank Ayars, bulletins; Mrs.

'SPIRITUAL FORCE OF UNDERSTANDING' AIM OF CITY'S CLUBWOMEN

Accomplishes Wonderful Work and Plans Fulfillment of Long Program of Improvement During Coming Year Through Main Committees and Sections

Just as the slogan of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, "Conservation," was most effectively demonstrated and carried out in the work last year of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, so is it the intention of this organization to aim toward "The Spiritual Force of Understanding," which has been set forth as the slogan by Mrs. John Urquhart, state president of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, as being the center of thought for the federation this year.

The Tuesday Afternoon Club of Glendale, of which Mrs. Daniel Campbell is president, has accomplished a wonderful work during the past year, in the erection of its beautiful club home at the corner of North Central avenue and Lexington drive. Something has been carried on and put to completion in such form that even the most optimistic member of the club did not expect to see in such an excellent condition as it is today for nearly five or six years to come.

According to Mrs. Campbell, president, all the furniture in the clubhouse is paid for and the club just owes $50,000, with the four lots clear. Good furniture has been added to the various rooms during the summer and the club is now beautifully equipped. It is expected that the club will have two wrought-iron torchiers, one for each side of the stage, installed for the opening of the club. It is also expected that the acousticon will be ready for use by October 2, on which date the club will hold its first meeting of the winter season. Fire extinguishers have been installed throughout the building.

It is planned to have everything in the finest possible shape for the convention of the Los Angeles District Federation of Women's clubs, to be held here on April 8, 9 and 10, 1924. The district federation includes 173 women's organizations in five counties in this section of the state. The local club feels doubly honored to be hostess at the convention, in that the district president, Mrs. Charles H. Toll of Glendale, is a life member of the organization, and Mrs. John Dunn, corresponding secretary, who is also a life member.

An inovation to be introduced during this club year and to be observed annually thereafter will be the Past Presidents' Day. During 1923, a President's Association has been started, with Mrs. Robert Blackburn as president and Mrs. H. E. Bartlett as secretary.

The financial affairs of the club for 1924 are to be run on a budget system, which has been adopted by the executive board of the organization. This system is being advocated by all clubs and was strongly recommended at the state convention held recently at Eureka by Mrs. Edgar Dexter Knight, who gave a talk on "Finance and Budgeting." The members of the budget committee of the Tuesday Afternoon Club are Mrs. Daniel Campbell, chairman; Mrs. A. A. Barton and Mrs. M. E. Plasterer.

Regular meetings of the Tuesday Afternoon Club will be held every Tuesday. On the first and third Tuesdays of each month there will be a luncheon served by a caleress at 12:30 o'clock. The members will be requested to purchase tickets one week before hand at the office, as only 300 will be accommodated at the luncheons. Tickets may be secured from Mrs. A. A. Barton. During the luncheon hour it is the intention to have prominent luncheon speakers talk on world wide subjects of interest and current events. This is being taken care of through the chairman of programs, Mrs. E. W. Hayward. At 2:30 o'clock there will be a business session and the regular club program will begin promptly at 3 o'clock.

On the second and fourth Tuesdays the meetings will open at 1:30 o'clock with an hour or community singing, led by Hugo Kirchofer. At 2:30 there will be the business session and promptly at 3 the regular program. Equally as good programs will be provided for the fifth Tuesdays as for any other time during the year.

The officers and directors of the Tuesday Afternoon Club for the year 1923-1924 are: Mrs. Daniel Campbell, president; Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, first vice-president and chairman of ways and means; Mrs. C. W. Houston, second vice-president and chairman of year book; Mrs. Wm. Hunter, recording secretary; Mrs. Frank Ayars, corresponding secretary; Mrs. M. E. Plasterer, treasurer. The directors include these officers and also Mrs. J. T. Crampton, Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward, Mrs. J. E. Sargent, Mrs. Lillian Dow, Mrs. H. E. Bartlett and Mrs. A. A. Barton.

YOUNG MEMBERS THRONG MAIDS AND MATRONS

Home Life and Circle Are Main Study Subjects

All young members of the Tuesday Afternoon Club interested in the home and home life, both from an economic and artistic standpoint, are eligible to become members of the Maids and Young Matrons section. The meetings are held every second and fourth Thursdays at 2 p. m. in the tea room.

The curator of the section is Mrs. Claude G. Putnam of 424 North Glendale avenue. Mrs. E. B. Sutton is secretary and treasurer.

The aim of the section is to help the young women and mothers with their home problems and cares, to broaden their vision and outlook and at the same time to add to their social good times.

Through lectures, books, certain study, round table talks where ideas may be freely given and thoughts exchanged, and through some forms of entertainment it is hopped that these things may be accomplished, in a measure at least.

DRAMA SECTION PLANS STUDY OF WORK OF ALL DRAMATISTS OF NOTE

Preliminary plans have been made for the work of the drama section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club for the coming year. The early part of the fall work will be given over to a review and discussion of the summer plays and productions.

This will be followed by a brief period spent in the study of a group of plays representative of the Spanish, French, German and Russian authors. A portion of the section's time will also be given over to our own modern plays and a few of the old classics.

According to Mrs. Max Green, curator of the section, it is the hope of the section to have an open meeting or two during the year, with specially prepared programs, when friends and club members who are not members of the section will be invited to visit and learn of the work and study being undertaken by the drama department of the club.

The meetings of the drama section will be held the first and third Fridays of each month at 2 o'clock in the clubhouse. The dues are $1 per year. It had been expected that the section would be an open one when the clubhouse was completed, but at the final meeting of the year it was voted almost unanimously to open the section gradually, rather than all at once. The members hoped by doing this that it would remain more of a study group and perhaps be more apt to draw in those who were really interested in the study of the drama.

However, the membership was increased from thirty-five to fifty members, and those who are interested in this line of work and would care to join should get in touch with the curator, Mrs. Max Lynn Green, Glendale 1452-R, or the secretary, Mrs. A. P. Findlay, Glendale 1994-J, while there is an opening.

Standing committees that have already been appointed for the coming year are: Mrs. C. O. Kling, chairman of publicity; Mrs. Colin Cable, chairman of courtesy committee; Mrs. W. E. Halstead, chairman of hostess committee. Other committees will be appointed as needed after the opening of the club year.

SOCIETY CIRCUS TO BE CARDINAL NOTE OF FALL ACTIVITY

Second Event of Kind to Be Staged, Scheduled for Production November 16 and 17 at the Clubhouse; the Plan of Work

All the old-time lure of the circus with its thrills, side shows and other features, will be the drawing card to attract hundreds of residents of Glendale, both grown-ups and the younger folks, to the Society Circus to be given by the Tuesday Afternoon Club on November 16 to 17 at the clubhouse, corner or Lexington drive and North Central avenue. Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, assisted by the members of the ways and means committee, will have general charge of the affair, and will be the second of its kind given under her supervision.

Details for many of the side shows and special features have not all been completely worked out. The tentative plans include the following concessions, to be in charge of the various sections and committees of the club:

Creative booth, fancy articles, etc.—In charge of Arts and Crafts Sections A and B with Mrs. H. A. McPherson and Mrs. W. C. Wattles curators, supervising the sales.

Ye Olde Booke Shoppe—Fine Arts section, Mrs. Roy Ballagh, curator, assisted by Mrs. Charles H. Temple, curator of the Bible section, and the curator of the Travel section.

"The Streets of Cairo," side shows and fortune telling—Drama section, Mrs. Max Green, curator.

Cooked Foods—Literary section, Mrs. H. C. Wilcox, curator.

Handkerchief booth—Maids and Young Matrons, Mrs. C. G. Putnam, curator, assisted by the calling committee, of which Mrs. H. P. Cory is chairman.

Fancy Work booth—Music section, Mrs. Warren Roberts, curator.

Parcel Post booth—Parliamentary law section, Mrs. C. A. Brandstater, curator, assisted by the club auditor, Mrs. Robert Blackburn; community service chairman, Mrs. C. C. Cooper, and chairman of Ex-Service Men and Women, Mrs. E. W. Gilliland.

Doll booth—In charge of the chairman of better films, Mrs. E. S. McKee, assisted by Mrs. H. R. Boyer, accompanist; Mrs. Leroy Bosserman, chariman of Juvenile Protective Association committee; Mrs. S. C. Leppelman, patriotic chairman, and Miss Eva Daniels, publicity chairman.

Hope Chest—Courtesy committee, Mrs. Alexander Mitchell, chairman. Aprons—International relations chairman, Mrs. Hugh Blue, assisted by Mrs. T. H. Hudson, chairman of philanthropy, and Mrs. F. S. Card, chairman of local relief.

Fish Pond—Decorations committee, Mrs. J. E. Eyerick, chairman, assisted by Mrs. B. O. Holbrook, chairman of Indian Welfare, and Mrs. John Robert White, chairman of reciprocity.

Kandy Box—History and Landmarks committee, chairman; Mrs. G. H. Rowe, assisted by Mrs. Minnie Patterson, chairman of emblems and Mrs. S. C. Packer, chairman of gifts and memorials.

Goose—In charge of Mrs. William P. MacMullin, chairman of civics committee, assisted by Mrs. A. M. Hunt, badges; Mrs. Harry Lockwood, furnishings; Mrs. P. S. McNutt, parliamentarian.

Hot Dog Booth—Mrs. F. L. Hollingsworth.

Red Cross Seals — Miss Ida Myers, chairman of Americanization and Legislation.

There will also be a balloon booth, radio concert and many other features. Post cards of the interior and exterior of the clubhouse will be on sale.

The members of the home economics section, of which Mrs. T. G. Widweyre is curator, will have charge of the evening dinner to be served on the first night of the circus. The Shakespeare section, with Mrs. Walter Jones as curator, will supervise a big dancing party on the second night.

There will be light noon lunches and afternoon veranda teas served on both days by the members of the hospitality committee, of which Mrs. Homer Lockwood is chairman.

The check room will be in charge of Mrs. C. J. Higgins, chairman of community singing; assisted by Mrs. Arthur Pomeroy, chairman of club literature, and Mrs. J. B. McClellan, chairman of remembrance.

Cashiers for the two days will be Mrs. A. A. Barton, social secretary of the club; Mrs. M. E. Plasterer, treasurer, and Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward, chairman of program.

Now that the club is in its own home it will be possible to make this affair a bigger and better Society Circus than the one given last year, at which a large sum of money was raised towards payment on the clubhouse.

SHAKESPEARE SECTION TO PRESENT 'TWELFTH NIGHT' ON OCTOBER 15

First Meeting to Be Held on October 15 in the Tea-room to All Members of the Tuesday Afternoon Club

As the first subject for study, the members of the Shakespeare section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club will begin the new club year's work with the play "Twelfth Night." The first meeting of the section, of which Mrs. Walter Jones is curator, will be held on October 15 in the tea room of the clubhouse at 2 o'clock, when all club members interested in joining the section are invited to attend. The regular meetings of the section are held on the first and third Mondays of each month. The dues are $1 per year.

Something that will prove of great value and usefulness to the section will be the costume wardrobe that Mrs. Jones proposes to start during her term as curator. As the section progresses from year to year new costumes will be added. The section recently raised $50 at a sport dance and card party. This is to go towards costuming scenes from "Twelfth Night" that will be presented by the section at an evening program during the fall.

A better understanding and acquaintance with the plays of Shakespeare, as well as giving an opportunity to those who care to take part in the production of the plays are some of the aims of the section. Mrs. H. W. Ralston is dramatic director of the section and during the summer will assign the parts for the presentation of scenes from "Twelfth Night" to be given sometime in the fall after the study of the play has been completed. Mrs. Mazie Fullman Garrett is teacher of the section.

Mrs. W. E. Evans was the first curator of the Shakespeare section, which she organized in June, 1913. Meetings were held at her home for two years on the first and third Mondays. At the beginning of the second year under Mrs. Evans' term Mrs. Mazie Fullman Garrett was secured as instructor. The curators who had charge after Mrs. Evans were Mrs. Menzo Williams, Mrs. Charles H. Temple, Mrs. E. D. Yard, Mrs. O. E. Von Oven, Mrs. A. H. Montgomery and Mrs. Walter Jones, who is now serving her second term.

All club members interested in the study of Shakespeare are invited to attend the meeting on October 15.

ODD FELLOWS MET LAST EVENING

Members of the Glendale lodge of Odd Fellows held their regular meeting Thursday night at the I. O. O. F. hall on West Broadway. The initiatory work was put on for practice. The lodge is planning to start soon on a membership campaign that will continue for over a month.

Mrs. Belle Johnson Has 18 Years' Experience

Mrs. A. Belle Johnson, pianist and teacher, 126 North Isabel, is one of the teachers who have been with Glendale and played their part in the musical circles for a number of years. Mrs. Johnson came to Glendale six years ago and since that time has conducted classes here.

She specializes in accompanist work, and has had eighteen years' experience, both as an accompanist and a teacher. She is now associated in her instruction work with Vernon Spencer of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Johnson is pianist at the Seventh Day Adventist Church. She will present her pupils in recital sometime later in the fall.

EDITH LINDSAY PREDICTS THE WINTER DANCES

"Sixstep," "Parisienne," and "St. Francis Glide" Will Be Popular

Miss Edith Lindsay, well known for her original dances and ballets, predicts popularity during the coming season for the "Nugo," the "Parisienne," the "Sixstep," (the "six-six-four") the "Modern Waltz" "Tango Waltz," "French Tango," the "St. Francis Glide" and many other dances. She has just returned from the convention of the California Society of Dancing Masters in San Francisco.

At the recent National Convention of Dancing Masters in Los Angeles Miss Lindsay was active, taking all the new ballroom dances of Oscar Duryea. She has recently put on some well staged ballets at the Loew's State Theatre in Los Angeles. One of these was "Idilio," which was given as the prologue to "Trilby," and the other, "Glimpses in Sunny Spain."

For seven seasons Miss Lindsay has been recognized for the artistry of her work in Hollywood and Glendale. She will open her classes here this season in the I. O. O. F. hall, Saturday, September 15, and her Pasadena school will open the following week. The Hollywood studio will be opened on September 10. In October her pupils will be presented in a recital.

Miss Lindsay is taking over the work of Miss Violet Romer and enlarging her school. She welcomes visitors interested in the art of dancing at any of her classes.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Liffiton of 1217 East Orange Grove avenue and Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Stimson of 1127 North Adams place spent the week-end at Santa Barbara.

MADRIGAL CLUB PREPARES FOR FALL WORK

Becomes Active in October; Gives Two Concerts Yearly

Glendale numbers among its most prominent musical organizations the Madrigal club, which was organized about five years ago by Mrs. Charles A. Parker for the purpose of fostering part-singing, to cultivate the vocal talent of its members by a through and systematic training, and to promote a spirit of good fellowship among the women of Glendale.

MRS. C. A. PARKER
Organizer and Director Glendale Madrigal Club

Any women whose musical ability is approved by the executive board may become a member of the organization upon payment of $1 initiation fee and one-half of the yearly dues.

The club is active from October to May and gives two concerts a year. These concerts have been a great succemss in every way, and even greater achievements are planned for the coming season. The club has been holding its regular meetings every week at the Odd Fellows hall, corner of West Broadway and Orange street.

The active membership of the club has increased from fifteen to thirty-eight. This year the club will work along somewhat new lines. There will be not only active memberships but also associate members, who will be entitled to certain privileges and concessions, and also patron and student memberships. These must be secured early in the season.

The Glendale Madrigal club is an organization the city should well be proud of having. On numerous occasions its members have participated in radio concerts and have also appeared in Los Angeles and various suburban cities on musical programs. Most of the soloists for the club concerts given during the year were selected from the club members, among them being Mrs. Helen Graham Cole, Mrs. A. M. Draper, Mrs. Virginia Freeman, Mrs. Helen MacMullin, Mrs. John Cotton, Mrs. G. D. Roach, Mrs. Hartley Shaw and others.

The first president of the Glendale Madrigal club was Miss N. Williams. She was succeeded by Mrs. John Ray. For the past two seasons Mrs. John Cotton has held the president's chair. Mrs. John Wright has been the club accompaniste since its organization, and Mrs. C. A. Parker, founder, has been its very capable director.

The following officers have been elected to carry on the business of the club for the coming year: Mrs. Paul Hoffman, president; Mrs. Wm. MacMullin, vice-president; Mrs. H. V. Henry, secretary; Mrs. A. R. Chappell, treasurer; Mrs. C. L. Viereck, librarian; Mrs. H. L. Bullinger, Mrs. A. M. Draper and Mrs. L. E. Richardson, directors.

THURSDAY CLUB GETS BUSY OCT. 4

Beginning with the meeting on October 4, the winter season's activities of the Thursday Afternoon club will be under way. This active organization of about 100 women, most of whom are residents of the southern section of Glendale, meets the first and third Thursdays of each month at the home of Mrs. A. L. Bancroft, cor- South Brand boulevard and street.

One of the big things that will probably be decided during the club year of 1923-24 will be that of the erection of a club home.

Instead of forming sections, at the meetings during the year speakers will be secured on topics of interest to the housekeeper, such as home economics, interior decorating, as well as topics of civic interest. The dues of the Thursday Afternoon club are $2 per year.

Mrs. W. C. Mabry is president of the Thursday Afternoon club; Mrs. E. V. Bacon, first vice-president; Mrs. Kemper Campbell, second vice-president; Miss Eva Daniels, recording secretary; Mrs. Roy Bancroft, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. S. E. Brown, treasurer.

FOUR STRONG P. E. O. CHAPTERS WIELD GOOD INFLUENCE IN CITY

Interesting programs for the new club year have been arranged by the program committee of the four P. E. O. chapters of Glendale. The Glendale P. E. O. reciprocity bureau is composed of eight members, the president and past president of each of the local chapters. The bureau this year is composed of Mrs. Letitia Lusby, president; Mrs. Cora Webster, vice-president; Mrs. Kate Parker, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Genevieve Goss, Mrs. Fannie Beach, Mrs. Lizzie Hayward, Mrs. Edith Arnold and Miss Martha Cox. The plan for the year's work will include contributions of cash and clothing to the Children's hospital, Red Cross, True Love home and Salvation Army, Orthopaedic hospital and the Glendale welfare council.

At each meeting of the chapter, time is spent in sewing on garments for the needy.

Chapter L. was the first P. E. O. chapter to be organized. Its officers this year will include Mrs. Genevieve Goss, president; Mrs. Letitia Lusby, vice-president; Mrs. Esther Pearce, recording secretary; Mrs. Lunett Hunt, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Elizabeth Read, treasurer; Mrs. Jessie Russell, chaplain; Mrs. Fern Roberts, guard; Mrs. Ann P. Bartlett, organist; Mrs. Margaret Campbell, parliamentarian.

The program for the year, as outlined by the committee of Chapter L., will include papers on "Women of the Revolutionary Period," and also the following subects: "American Scientists," "Women of the White House," "Experiences as the Wife of an Assemblyman," "American Authors," "American Poets," "National Parks," "American Music," "Study of the Constitution" and "The Educational Fund of the P. E. O." The husbands of members, or B. I. L.'s, as they are called, will be entertained at a picnic supper at Brookside park, Pasadena, sometime in October.

Chapter A. H. was the second P. E. O. chapter to be organized in this city. Its officers for the ensuing year include Mrs. Fannie Beach, president; Miss Blanche Davenport, vice-president; Mrs. Bernardine Worley, recording secretary; Mrs. Maude Tuttle, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Leslie Eames, treasurer; Mrs. Edith Smith, chaplain; Mrs. Cora Webster, guard; Mrs. Alice Gray Wellman, pianiste.

Program subjects for Chapter A. H., P. E. O., will include "Study of the Relief Question in the Near East," "Interior Decoration," "Garden and Flowers," "Women of the White House," "History and Landmarks," "Musical and Social Affairs." A picnic will be arranged for the close of the year.

The next P. E. O. chapter in Glendale was Chapter B. A., whose officers for 1923-1924 will be: Mrs. Edith Arnold, president; Mrs. Josephine Brant, vice-president; Mrs. Hallie Stamps, recording secretary; Mrs. Effie Preston, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Alice Ripley, treasurer; Mrs. Nellie Case, chaplain; Mrs. Blanche Wintersgill, guard; Mrs. Eva Cunningham, pianiste.

Programs for the year have been arranged on the following subjects: "Famous American Women," this to include Helen Keller, Florence Barclay, Jane Addams, Dorothy Canfield Fisher, Mrs. H. H. A. Beach, Louisa M. Alcott, Ella Wheeler Wilcox; "American Women Composers and Interpretors of the Drama," "Founders and Famous P. E. O. Women." The B. I. L.'s will be entertained on February 15.

The youngest P. E. O. organization of Glendale is Chapter C. J. Its officers are Mrs. Lizzie Hayward, president; Mrs. Eva Barton, vice-president; Mrs. Vera Hinchcliff, recording secretary; Mrs. Vevia Onstott, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Isabel Kimball, treasurer; Mrs. Elizabeth Kent, chaplain; Mrs. Sydelia Moule, guard; Mrs. Fannie Crampton, historian.

The program committee of Chapter C. J., P. E. O., has arranged an interesting miscellaneous program which will no doubt prove very interesting. Original work is encouraged, as evidenced by the announcement of a serial story of eight chapters. Each chapter is to be written by a different member of C. J. and will be read during the year. There also will be a number of musical programs and readings, a talk on "El Camino Real and Fra Junipero Serra," "Women in Politics," "Home Education," "Artists of California," "The Film Industry in California," "Poets of California," "Makers of Modern Fiction, Men," "Makers of Modern Fiction, Women." October 30 has been set aside for the entertainment of the B. I. L.'s at the home of Mrs. E. D. Yard.

MRS. CHAS. GLOVER ENTERTAINS THE "WEDNESDAYS"

Mrs. Charles Glover of 414 West Myrtle street was hostess yesterday to the members of the Wednesday club. A cafeteria luncheon was enjoyed and a delightful social afternoon spent. Special guests included Mrs. Alice Moore, Mrs. Joseph Wagner, Mrs. Clarence Kaighin and Mrs. Martin. Club members present included Mrs. G. D. Roach, Mrs. J. F. Hearnshaw, Mrs. Frank Hester, Mrs. W. F. Nash, Mrs. Wm. Gibson, Mrs. H. A. Reed of Long Beach, Mrs. Charles Freshman of Los Angeles, Miss Clara Ringert, Mrs. Emma Reed of Long Beach, Mrs. E. S. McKee, Mrs. C. H. Sanedrs, Mrs. H. L. Clotworthy, Mrs. Julia Perkins and the hostess.

PARLIAMENTARY LAW STUDY CLUB FINDS FIELD

Organized for Transient Work, It Finds Permanent Existence

Organized as a summer study club, the Parliamentary Law Study class has been found to fill a great need and it has been voted to organize it into a regular Parliamentary Law Study club.

Through the invitation of Mrs. Harry Greenwalt and Mrs. A. H. Brown, several women who were interested in parliamentary law met at the public library on Friday, June 29, 1923. At that time a parliamentary law study class was organized to meet until the beginning of the school year, and the following officers were elected: Mrs. Charles H. Whitney, president; Mrs. Charles Bennett, secretary; Mrs. A. H. Brown, manager; Mrs. O. H. Spradling, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. Dean Phillips, courtesy chairman; Mrs. Mary Reese, membership chairman; Mrs. Hjorth, press chairman; Mrs. Harry Greenwalt, class instructor.

The meetings have been held each Friday morning from 10 until 11:30 in the juvenile department of the public library on Harvard street. The membership has grown until now there about thirty members.

The class has been attended largely by newly elected officers of the various organizations of the city. Each has been given the actual experience of conducting the meetings, as a different member has been appointed by the president to conduct the meeting each Friday.

The plan for the permanent Parliamentary Law Study club, which will be under the direction of Mrs. Harry Greenwalt, is for meetings to be held at the public library every two weeks.

PACIFIC AVE. P.-T. A. IS ACTIVE

With the first meeting of the Pacific Avenue Parent-Teachers association scheduled for Thursday, September 20, the busy season of that organization's activities will begin. Meetings of the association will be held the third Thursday of each month during the school term.

At the first meeting of the Pacific avenue P.-T. A. Mrs. Dean Phillips, president, will announce the chairmen who will serve on the various committees for 1923-24. The officers of the association include Mrs. Dean S. Phillips, president; Mrs. Charles Marshall, vice-president; Mrs. Walter Stamps, secretary; Mrs. Ralph Brown, treasurer; Mrs. Mae Rosenberg, parliamentarian.

ACTIVITIES OF THE GLENDALE GIRL SCOUTS

Four Troops Are Now Quietly Functioning in This City

Everybody knows about the Boy Scouts of America and its troops that have been organized in Glendale, but not everybody knows that an equally important organization of Girl Scouts is quietly growing and functioning in this city, inspired by the work inaugurated by Miss Gladys Sharpe, vice principal of the Glendale Avenue Intermediate, who realized the importance of the movement and started it in Glendale by the organization of Troop 1, of which she is the captain. She has been ably assisted by fellow teachers, one of whom is her sister, Miss Margaret Sharpe, captain of Troop 2.

The leadership of the various troops and the work they have done the past year has been briefly set forth in the following record. Activities the coming year will be along similar lines:

Troop 1. Captain, Miss Gladys Sharpe; lieutenant, Mary Stanley. Organized 1920. Ten first class Scouts in troop, most of the members being juniors and seniors at the Glendale high school.

Activities. Troop one spent a week camping on the Santa Ana river this summer. Holds monthly all-day meetings during the winter months and weekly meetings during the summer. Many outings have been enjoyed this summer by the girls. During the past winter Troop 1 presented "Patty's Flag," a colonial romance, at the Broadway school. They expect to carry on a good deal of civic and charitable work during the coming winter.

Troop 2. Miss Vera Sinclair, captain. Organized 1922. Members are Glendale high school girls. Their charity work has been directed particularly for benefit of the Children's Hospital.

Troop 3. Miss Frances Jackson, captain; Mrs. Mable Horner, lieutenant. Organized 1922. Membership includes girls in the Seventh eighth and ninth grades.

Activities. This troop has made the most of the out of doors and have many of their meetings at Brookside and Griffith parks. In July they spent a week camping at La Crescenta and expect to carry on during the coming winter with many more good times.

Troop 4. Miss Margaret Sharpe, captain. Organized 1922. Membership includes girls from 12 to 15 in the Holy Family parish.

Activities. The troop raised about $125 during the past winter, part of which was used for charitable purposes and the rest spent outfitting the troop with uniforms. In December, "Ye Earle Hubert's Christmasse Gifte" was presented and during May "Moth and the Princess Moonbeam," as the chief means of raising funds. The troop meets weekly and plans to devote its fall meetings to scout work of all kinds, emphasizing good citizenship.

The Girl Scout movement in Glendale is growing in popularity and at La Crescenta and Burbank there are active troops of girls working for the betterment of themselves, their city and country. The Ten Scout Laws, when lived in the lives of the girls, do much to make of them some of the best citizens a community could desire. They stand always ready to do more than their share in work for the community; they are proud to march behind their country's flag in demonstration of their patriotism, they are tireless in their efforts to make of themselves the most useful and unselfish of citizens.

The city of Glendale should feel a great pride in her Girl Scout troops and lend them her hearty support and encouragement.

MOTHERS FORM R.T.W. CLASS OF BAPTISTS

The R. T. W. class of the First Baptist church as organized about eight years ago. Its members are all mothers. The class has helped in the church life in various ways by calling on the sick and on new members, also by making gifts to the needy. It has helped pack the missionary boxes for the missions. The members have also been busy making layettes in connection with the women's union of the church in their work for the White Cross.

The monthly business and social meetings of the class are held the last Thursday in each month and have been an important factor in the growth of the class. The present membership is 75. Mrs. Jennie B. Doxsee has taught the class for the past five years. The officers are: Mrs. J. Roger Bentley, president; Mrs. Fred Abbey, first vice-president; Mrs. Eva Perkins, second vice-president; Mrs. A. Van Wormer, secretary; Mrs. Bert Marple, treasurer.

The following committees are appointed each year to take care of the work of the class: social, Mrs. Park Arnold, chairman; program, Mrs. Fred Abbey; working committee, Mrs. C. S. Jewsberry; calling committee, Mrs. Walter Stamps; flower committee, Mrs. J. F. Headlee; publicity, Mrs. A. J. Maxwell. The regular meetings of the class are held at 9:30 o'clock every Sunday morning at the Baptist church, corner of Wilson avenue and Louise.

Alma Geiger Phelps With Cadman Trio

Alma Geiger Phelps, pianist and teacher, has just closed her work as a member of the Cadman Trio with the Pacific Palisades Chautauqua company. This group associated with Constance Balfour has proved to be one of the most popular numbers with the Chautauqua management who have requested them to appear year after year, during the months of June, July and August. This is a distinct honor as the same numbers are seldom required from one season to another.

Mrs. Phelps is opening a new studio in her home at 535 North Kenwood.

BRUNSWICK SHOP MOST ARTISTIC IN CALIFORNIA

In a recent survey of all the exclusive Brunswick Phonograph shops in California, the local agency, 123 South Brand, managed by the Salmacia Brothers, who also have the Glendale Music Company and the San Fernando Music Company, was judged the most artistic store in the state. This is a distinct honor as the Brunswick shops everywhere are noted for their beauty of design and display.

Salmacia Brothers spared no expense in the interior decorating of the establishment, personally supervising the work as each detail was completed. The entire designing and furnishing, while exclusive and elaborate, is still not so lavish as to be out of harmony. The coloring is exquisite, soft shades blended and toned by lighting effects.

The Egyptian room is a marvel of decorating to all those who enter it. Even the furniture is carried out in the Old Egyptian design, while a unique note is brought out by the two beautiful paintings adorning the walls in life size. These embody in oils the material interpretation of the haunting "Souvenir," and Schubert's "Serenade."

Fifty-five hundred dollars was spent in the decorating. The quiet beauty of the store fairly fills it with the spirit of music and harmony. The beautiful Brunswick models on display seem somehow to each fit in the exclusive atmosphere.

The business of Salmacia Brothers has grown in the eight years that they have been established here from one half of a store and no extra help, to their three big establishments, employing thirty salesmen. They handle eight makes of nationally favored pianos, buying in carload quantities and offering the right prices.

GLENDALE CAT CLUB HAS GROWING GROUP OF TABBY FANCIERS

By DR. LIBBIE ASHCROFT
President Glendale Cat Club

Interest in the raising of fine pedigreed cats has been evidenced in Glendale since its early days. Back as far as ten years ago cat shows were held two successive years in conjunction with local poultry exhibits. Those most actively connected with these shows, Mrs. N. N. Brown, Mrs. Helen Harmon, Miss Mary de Witt and Mrs. Walter Ross, were recognized as among the leading fanciers in the west.

The first task of the Glendale Cat club was the holding of a silver specialty show. The size of the club and the size of the town were not at all commensurate with the size of the show. Sixty-four cats, all silver in color, were entered. This was a number slightly in excess of New York's famous silver show of that year. Entries came from San Francisco, Ventura, Imperial Valley and nearby towns. The judge, Mrs. C. S. de Blin, formerly of Beresford Cat club, Chicago, wielded a rod of iron, bringing disappointment to many novice exhibitors. As usual, time healed these wounds and the unhappy exhibitors with their troubles packed in their old kit bags smilingly appeared with their favorite pets at the show a year later.

This second show was a double affair—a silver specialty and a show for all colors and kinds—a stunt managed nowhere else except in New York City. During the year the club enrollment had grown to twenty-five and interest had kept apace. Consequently a larger show was the natural sequence. The silver specialty show had an entry of forty-eight and the general show had eighty-one. The former was judged by Mrs. M. Tomlins of San Gabriel and the latter by Mrs. Walter Ross.

The third show was held last November and was judged by Mrs. Ross, whose integrity and fairness in judging induced the club to engage her a second time, a most unusual proceeding. One hundred and forty-five cats were entered, quality having kept pace with the increasing quality.

The normal, steady growth indicates that the show to be held this winter will far surpass the former shows in numbers and interest. The club, which now has a membership of about fifty, is working industriously and perseveringly to make the 1923 show the best show on the coast. Heretofore the show has been primarily for Glendale cats and Glendale fanciers. Visitors have been welcome but their patronage has not been solicited. The slogan has been "a fair deal to every entry, regardless," and by the carrying out of this policy the Glendale Cat club has gained the reputation of putting on shows that are conducted upon a strictly honest basis. Fanciers all up and down the coast are now applying to Glendale for admission to its next show.

The Glendale Cat club holds monthly meetings the first Monday night of each month at the homes of members. The programs consist of practical talks on various matters pertaining to the breeding and raising of Persian cats, topics ranging from "the best way to feed the feline" to "the provisional hypothesis of Pangenesis." Good music, a social hour concluded by good "eats" make the monthly meetings evenings of profit and pleasure.

While the essential reason for the existence of a cat club is the putting on of shows, other lines of work are carried out. Reporting and otherwise dealing with cases of inhumane treatment of animals, creating a sense of responsibility upon the part of the owner of the common alley cat, keeping an eye on the city council lest they inadvertently pass unfair legislation concerning pets and fostering in the school children a spirit of "live and let live" are some of the side lines in which the local club is engaged.

Among notable cats owned and exhibited in Glendale the late champion, Northern Silver Lion, of Verdugo Cattery stood first. Lion was a massive silver of English stock. Exhibited twelve times in Canada and the United States, he never met defeat.

Plans for the show to be held in December are well under way. A beautiful and commodious hall has been engaged and this will give opportunity to display the beautiful cats in their new sanitary cages. An order is now being sent to Battle Creek, Michigan, for 100 new wire cages. Silver cups and other trophies are being donated by Glendale merchants and residents to be used as awards. The prize ribbons are being ordered from the east, as well as the medals.

The business manager of the show is Mrs. B. O. Holbrook, Glendale 1706J. Dr. Ashcroft is show manager and Mrs. Fred Hendrickson is show treasurer. Information concerning entries, etc., may be secured by calling Mrs. Holbrook, or Glendale 2100M, during Dr. Ashcroft's absence in the east.

The officers of the Glendale Cat club are: Dr. Libbie Ashcroft, president; Mrs. B. O. Holbrook, vice-president; Miss Clarabel Grim, corresponding secretary; Mrs. M. Durnford, recording secretary; and Dr. Pearl S. Rittenhouse, treasurer.

THEOSOPHY HERE TO EXEMPLIFY BROTHERHOOD

The Glendale Theosophical lodge has decided it can better serve through the great principle of brotherhood, for which it stands, by being centrally located in our "fastest growing city." The new store room located at 113 South Orange street has been engaged and will be leased at once, and within the next ten days they will be settled in their new quarters.

An attractive free reading room, with a lending library, will be conducted. Theosophical and metaphysical books and magazines will be available for all who desire to read or study.

Among the various activities will be the regular meeting of the lodge Wednesday evenings at 7:30. Each Friday evening at the same hour a series of free lectures, for beginners, will be conducted by Prof. Alfred K. Jenkins, whose capacity as a teacher is unexcelled. Sunday mornings at 9:30 the Knights of the Round Table, which order was organized last week, will meet. This last organization is especially for children, to train the fathers and mothers of tomorrow, and we advise parents and educators to investigate this ancient teaching founded on the Knights of King Arthur, so beautifully told by Tennyson. The motto constantly held before these young crusaders is: "Live pure, speak true, right wrong, follow the King."

This centrally located hall will be for rent to other small organizations which have found the high rentals of larger auditoriums prohibitive.

THE FUTURE IN CITY AND HIGH SCHOOLS AND AUXILIARIES

SUPERINTENDENT WHITE DISCUSSES CITY SCHOOLS AND THEIR DEVELOPMENT

By RICHARDSON D. WHITE
Superintendent of Public Schools

In attempting to make plans for the future in connection with the schools of Glendale, we are faced with the same difficulty that all must meet who attempt to forecast the growth and development of the fastest growing city in America.

For the past five years the growth of Glendale has been so rapid that it has been almost impossible for any local institution to keep up with the demands placed upon it. The schools are no exception to this rule, and in outlining here the plans that the board of education has for the coming year, it is necessary to remember that the plans are tentative and are subject to change to meet the actual conditions that will arise as we progress through the year.

One of the outstanding features of school development in the coming year will be the enlargement of nearly all of the plants. On March 15 of this year the citizens of Glendale voted a bond issue of $500,000 for the purpose of enlarging the elementary school system. This money is now being used to purchase two new school sites, one in Verdugo canyon and one in the northwest part of the city; to enlarge the grounds at four of the present school sites, and to build additions to ten of the twelve schools. At this time, nearly all of the contemplated land purchases have been completed and nine out of the ten proposed building additions are actually under construction. It is the hope and belief of the board that at least five of these buildings will be completed and ready for occupancy on September 17, when school opens. At those schools where additions will not be completed, it probably will be necessary in some of the grades to conduct half-day sessions for a few weeks. When the building program is completed, Glendale will have forty new class rooms, a new auditorium, one new manual training shop, and improved sanitary and heating conditions at all schools where these are needed.

It is the plan of the board of education to provide during the coming year about twenty-four additional teachers, to do away, as far as possible, with the use of bungalows, sheds and supply rooms for classroom purposes, and as a result of this policy, at least thirty-four of the forty new classrooms will be in actual use before the Christmas vacation. This should, unless the increase in attendance for next year is greatly in excess of the present estimate, bring about smaller numbers in the classrooms and therefore more efficient work on the part of teachers and pupils.

COURSE OF STUDY

Following the policy of forward movement in the conduct of the schools of Glendale, the board of erucation has adopted a new course of study for the school year 1923-24. In all of their past history, the elementary schools of Glendale have used the course of study prescribed by the Los Angeles county board of education. Up to the time of the adoption of the Glendale city charter, it was necessary to do this and since that time is has seemed wise and expedient to continue the same policy with but slight modifications.

During the past year it was decided that a course of study planned to meet the needs of the smaller districts in the county was no longer suitable for Glendale, and committees of principals and teachers were put to work planning a new course, which, while not a radical departure from the old, yet differs from it in certain essential points. The basis for the new course is Moore's Minimum Course of Study, an outline prepared by Dr. Ernest C. Moore, president of the southern branch of the University of California, with the cooperation of teachers, principals and superintendents from this part of the state, to meet the needs of Southern California. With this as a starting point, the committees referred to above have worked out the new course for the Glendale schools. In the main it follows the basic text, merely adding to it and amplifying it.

It is recognized by the board as well as by the teachers who will use it, that the new course of study is as yet in a formative stage and that the test of it will be its use during the coming year. In fact, any course of study should be at all times in a more or less fluid state in order that it may meet the changing conditions of life, and this is especially true in this age of kaleidoscopic changes. The principals and teachers will be instructed to follow the new course closely in order that they may test it thoroughly, and in following it to note its weaknesses and to offer suggestions of changes for the better, that may be made.

In the teaching of geography in the third, fourth and fifth grades, a departure will be made from the Minimum Course of Study referred to above. In these grades we have adopted for use the Fairbanks series of geographies, the author of which, by the way, Harold W. Fairbanks, is a resident of our city. The plan followed in these texts starts with the home, working out its relationship to the community, then to the state, then to the nation, and then to the world. Dr. Fairbanks has prepared a problem study of the city of Glendale which will be used by the teachers as a point of departure.

It should be understood that in making the changes which we have been describing, the subjects taught in the various grades remain essentially the same, the differences being in text books used, in the division of the work among the various grades, and in methods of presentation.

In the intermediate schools, changes have also been made in the form of the program and in the elective subjects allowed. Of course, great care will be exercised to see that these changes do not affect adversely the programs of children already in these schools, but will apply in full to the new B-7 class and as far as possible to all newcomers in any grade. The underlying principle of these modifications in the intermediate school program has been that of approaching as nearly as the law will permit the standard program of junior high schools in Southern California. Of course, the limitations placed by law on the subjects to be taught in an elementary school must and will be fully observed and will mark the principal variations from the regular junior high school program. Another difficulty which presented itself in arranging the program for these schools was the fact that it must terminate at the end of the eighth grade instead of at the end of the ninth, as in the ordinary junior high schools.

The most fundamental differences between last year's program and the new one will be the limitations placed on the electives to be taken and the elimination of what have been known as general study periods. The program for the intermediate schools has been lengthened by a half-hour, the day being divided into seven periods of approximately 52 minutes. This has been done in order that during the class period there may be time for both supervised study and recitation. The principal point gained by this arrangement is that all of the pupil's study time in school hours is directly supervised by the teacher under whom he takes the subject being studied. By placing more rigid restrictions on the choice of electives, much of the time heretofore wasted by pupils in taking subjects for which they are not fitted will be eliminated.

The details of the changes in the course of study, both in the primary and in the intermediate schools, are too numerous to be given here, but we feel that in the main the new course will be a decided advancement over the old and will lead to greater and greater improvement as it is used.

HOW DORAN ST. P.T.A. PLANS TO SERVE THIS YEAR

By MRS. CLARK JOHNSON
President Doran Street P.-T. A.

The meetings of the Doran street Parent-Teacher association will be held on the first Wednesday afternoon of each month at 3 o'clock. Besides the regular business meetings it is planned to have most of the programs furnished by the children in the school, with now and then a speaker from the outside who will give inspirational talks along the line of child culture.

The chairmen of the various committees will not be appointed until the first meeting, which will be held the first week in October. The officers of the organization are: Mrs. Clark Johnson, president; Mrs. R. P. Hankey, vice-president; Mrs. George Piercey, secretary; Mrs. A. W. Woodmancy, treasurer; Mrs. Elwood Pomeroy, historian; Mrs. J. M. Fife, auditor.

Any law-abiding citizen is eligible to join the P.-T. A. The dues of the Doran street association are 35 cents per year. For the past two years we have dispensed with one regular meeting along in December or January and had in its place a social evening, which has been designated as "Fathers' Night" Inasmuch as these evenings have been a great success, we will perhaps have another such event this year.

ACACIA SCHOOL P. T. A. TO GET NEW MEMBERS

Addition to the School Will Add to the Possible Membership

By MRS. L. D. TORREY
President Mothers' Club of the Acacia Avenue School

With the opening of the Acacia avenue school and the completion of the new buildings, there will be a large increase in the enrollment of students. We hope to see the membership of the Mothers' club increase 100 per cent this year. Membership in the Mothers' club affords the mother of every child a wonderful advantage, for it brings in close relation the home and the school, the two most important places in child life. It affords the parent the opportunity of personally knowing the teacher of her children and as well, the chance to explain some little failing, or bringing before the teacher something that may prove advantageous to the child. In our schools today there is interesting work for every parent.

The little mother of yesterday who was compelled always to stay within her home with her little ones, who dreaded the first day of school for her children because it took them into a new world where she could not follow, but the Parent-Teacher association has turned that mother into an enthusiastic worker. It has given her the opportunity to expand and refresh her knowledge of many things that she must know in order to guide the child of today.

There is an opportunity for active work for every mother in the Mothers' club, for, with the ever-increasing demand on our school board for additional buildings, necessary equipment for the comfort of the children, it is the pleasure of the Mothers' club to help in adding the little personal pleasures to the school that make the boy and girl love their school work so much today. Where are the boys and girls who planned to play truant several days every week? Going to school meant to most of them long hours of long mental strain, and fear of the rod for every misdeed. Now it is a problem to keep them off the school grounds before 7:30 in the morning, and how to get them to leave before 5 in the afternoon.

There is a reason for this change, and only the parent that is interested enough to spend a few hours every week in or around the school can fully understand the pleasant association between teacher and pupil.

We are anticipating plenty of interesting work this fall. We hope to organize a fathers' auxiliary within the Mothers' club. Interest in our work increases with every suggestion and it is my earnest request that any philanthropic work to be done in our district, if reported to the secretary, Mrs. Harry Levey, will get immediate attention. I am happy to say that there is little of this work necessary in our district. But we want to know that every child has the necessary comforts to enable it to be in regular attendance at school.

WILSON AVE. P.T.A. PLANNING 1924 ACTIVITIES

Chairmen of the various committees for the Wilson avenue Parent-Teacher association for the year 1923-24 have been selected by Mrs. H. A. Thimm, president, and plans are well under way for the work for the coming year. The first meeting will be held the fourth Monday in September and each fourth Monday of every month during the school year.

The problem the members of the Parent-Teacher association always must solve in bringing the teachers, pupils and parents into close touch with each other and to make the work most interesting is a large one this year at the Wilson avenue school, owing to the exceptionally crowded condition of the school.

The members of the executive board of the association includes: Mrs. H. A. Thimm, president; Mrs. H. B. Ellis, vice-president; Mrs. A. H. Brown, secretary; Mrs. John Torrey, treasurer; Mrs. J. R. Rhoades, auditor; Miss Carol Duncan, historian. The chairmen of the various committees include the following members: Mrs. Pelley, membership; Mrs. C. A. Bowlus, ways and means; Mrs. Stanley Lowery, educational; Mrs. Webb, patriotic; Mrs. Lytell, playgrounds; Mrs. Endsley, emblem and magazine; Mrs. Kaighan, hospitality; Mrs. Smith, courtesy; Miss Helen Sawyer, juvenile court; Miss Edith Tyler, thrift; Mrs. A. I. Franklin, scholarship; Mrs. W. C. Rieth, publicity; Mrs. Vandewater, parliamentarian.

Even if a man is a howling success there is no use for his howling about it.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL PLANT IS BIG THING OF COMING YEAR IN CITY

Fourth and Last Migration to Take Place This Month, Sessions Opening on September 11 in the New Institution on Broadway and Verdugo

The big thing in the year 1923-24 at Glendale Union High will be the move to the new high school plant at Broadway and Verdugo road, the fourth and last migration the school will make. It is generally agreed when this one is outgrown, another high school will be established in some other section of the city.

Just when the move will be made has not been determined. Because of having to wait for steel, the auditorium building it not as far along as are the other buildings of the plant. Contractor Mittry of the North Pacific Construction company has made a wonderful record on this job on which construction did not start until February last. Ordinarily it would consume a year but he agreed unless prevented by causes entirely outside his own control to have it ready close to the time the school would open, and he has reached his goal except in this one building which was delayed for the reasons mentioned and which houses not only the auditorium but the music department, the greater part of the English class rooms, study hall, library, attendance room, and the executive offices. As it was believed the school could hardly function without these, and also that the premature occupation of the plant would hinder the workmen in completing it, the grading the grounds and laying walks, trustees have decided to open the school in the old plant Tuesday, September 11, the Monday previous having been made a legal holiday for the celebration of Admission Day.

And speaking of attendance, it had been expected that the annexation of Eagle Rock to Los Angeles would relieve the situation, but that city seems unwilling to forsake Glendale high and its school officers are asking the high school trustees to let them enroll all students living west of Windemere avenue and College View. It will mean that Los Angeles will have to pay for all such students in excess of Glendale boys and girls who go to Los Angeles high schools (and a few do) and also pay for transportation. So there will be no material cutting down in the attendance from Eagle Rock.

A similar petition has been made for students in the Atwater Tract, just over the Los Angeles line south of Glendale.

Unless all signs fail, the high school enrollment will exceed that of last year at the opening of the term by 300. It will call for many new classes and an increase of 12 per cent in the number of teachers. In this connection Principal George U. Moyse is very much pleased with the material he has been able to add to the faculty and says the chief cause of his good fortune is the excellent reputation of Glendale High and the favorable location of the city which makes teaching positions here much sought after. The new teachers he characterizes as "exceptionally strong in preparation, experience and personality."

No new work will be introduced, according to Principal Moyse. The course is full and strong, he says, and any enlargements along that line must wait until the new plant is occupied and adjustments have been made.

What disposition will be made of the present plant is still to be determined. A new building for manual arts is still to be constructed. Therefore that department must continue to use the present building wherein instruction in wood work, forge work, auto and machine shops, and architectural drawing is given. As its students will also need other work related to manual arts, other classes allied with these subjects will be provided at the old plant, even after other departments have been moved, so that manual arts students will not have to be going from one plant to the other.

As stated in the beginning, the move to Verdugo and Broadway will be the fourth migration that Glendale High has made and George U. Moyse has been at the helm in all of them. The school was established in 1901, occupying temporary quarters in the building which the Glendale Sanitarium is vacating on Broadway. From there a move was made to Brand and Broadway to the present site of the Security Trust and Savings Bank in December, 1902. Work there ended in June, 1909, and the fall of the same year the school moved to the administration building on the Harvard and Louise site to which ground and buildings have since been added.

FEDERATION OF P. T. A. IN CITY LOOKS FORWARD TO YEAR OF GREAT ACTIVITY

Mrs. E. B. Moore Outlines Some of the Things That Her Organization Expects to Take Up in the Fall and Winter

By MRS. E. B. MOORE
President Glendale Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations

The Glendale Federation of Parent-Teacher associations is looking forward to a very successful and active year.

Our watchword for next year will still be "Co-operation." We are a most democratic and non-sectarian organization. Our main objective is the child of our community. We want the very best for our community.

The regular meetings of the federation are held the second Wednesday of every month. The officers of the Glendale Federation are: Mrs. E. B. Moore, 1259 South Maryland avenue, president; Mrs. E. S. McKee, 130 West Chestnut street, vice-president; Mrs. Emil Johnson, 463 Myrtle street, recording secretary; Mrs. W. A. Kulp, 355 West Vine street, corresponding secretary; Mrs. F. Wintersgill, 411 North Louise street, treasurer; Mrs. D. F. Reichard, 1344 Valley road, historian; Mrs. G. L. Berryman, 1171 Raymond avenue, auditor.

I want to thank the Glendale Daily Press for all your assistance to us the past year, for our publicity of meetings, also our school bonds where you always helped.

The various Parent-Teacher organizations of Glendale that go to make up the federation and the meeting dates of each, follow:

Wilson Avenue Intermediate, Mrs. H. A. Thimm, president; first Monday of each month.

Glendale Avenue Intermediate, Mrs. O. H. Spradling, president; fourth Thursday.

Acacia avenue, Mrs. L. D. Torrey, president; third Friday.

Broadway, Mrs. C. R. Rettburg, president; third Thursday.

Central avenue, Mrs. O. G. Thompson, president; second Thursday.

Cerritos avenue, Mrs. Small, president; third Tuesday.

Colorado street, Mrs. S. L. Gillan, president; first Thursday.

Columbus avenue, Mrs. C. P. Tedford, president; third Thursday.

Doran street, Mrs. Clark Johnson, president; first Wednesday.

Grand View, Mrs. Guy Finney, president; third Tuesday.

Magnolia avenue, Mrs. Charles J. Griffin, president; first Friday.

Pacific avenue, Mrs. D. S. Phillips, president; third Thursday.

Glendale Union high school, Mrs. C. H. Whitney, president; third Wednesday.

CENTRAL AVENUE P. T. A. GAINS SAFETY PATH

Achieves Bridge Crossing for the School Children

By MRS. O. G. THOMPSON
President Central Ave. Parent-Teacher Association

The Central avenue Parent-Teacher Association meets on the second Thursday of each month. This organization was very active all last year and was instrumental in getting the county to place a foot-path on the Central avenue bridge, which has been promised.

There is a wonderful co-operation between the teachers and the parents of the school and we feel that this is what makes the Central avenue Parent-Teacher association the success is has been.

Our chief aim the coming year is to try to teach all mothers and educate them to the realization of what schools really mean.

The officers of the Central avenue Parent-Teacher association include: Mrs. O. G. Thompson, president; Mrs. R. L. Young, vice-president; Mrs. F. Line, secretary; Mrs. D. F. Reichard, treasurer; Mrs. L. H. Thompson, historian; Mrs. H. Van Hoorebeke, auditor.

Flattery will open a woman's heart much quicker than it will a man's purse.

DATE CULTURE EXPLAINED AT HIGH SCHOOL

An educational meeting, having as its topic, "Date Culture in the Coachella Valley," was held last night in the auditorium of the high school. Frank Echols, of the firm of Roberts & Echols: Harry Howe, who is spending the summer in Glendale and is the owner of a date ranch in the valley, and a large number of other Glendale residents who have similar property at Coachella, are many times called on to explain about this interesting produce.

A film showing date culture and other things of interest in Coachella valley, distributed through the allied chambers of commerce of the valley, was secured for showing at Glendale Tuesday night. W. L. Paul, who has been a resident of Coachella valley for sixteen years and who is an experienced date grower, was also present and answered all questions asked concerning the matter.

GLENDALE AVENUE INTERMEDIATE TO HAVE MOVIE

Tentative Plans for Purchase of Screen Are Underway

By MRS. O. H. SPRADLING

Tentative plans are already under way by the executive board of the Glendale avenue Intermediate Parent-Teacher Association for the purchase of a motion picture screen to be used in connection with the motion picture machine which has been purchased by the school.

The regular meetings of the Glendale avenue Intermediate Parent-Teacher Association will be held the fourth Thursday of each month, beginning with September 27, at 2:30 p. m. in the new auditorium of the school. This auditorium will seat between 500 and 600 people and one of its beautiful decorations is a large American flag with gold fringe, a gift to the school from the first graduating class at the Glendale avenue Intermediate.

The plan is that once a month one of the rooms in the school will furnish a play or some kind of program to raise money for the Parent-Teacher association. Instead of one room mother to each room this year each room will have two room mothers. They will meet once a month with the president of the Glendale avenue Intermediate P.-T. A. A meeting of each committee of the association is also to be held once a month.

The officers of the Glendale avenue Intermediate Parent-Teacher association include Mrs. O. H. Spradling, president; Mrs. S. L. Martinez, vice-president; Mrs. Newton, treasurer; Mrs. F. A. Crizer, secretary; Mrs. E. S Strong, historian.

BROADWAY SCHOOL P. T. A. SEEKS 100 PER CENT

Drive to Be Staged to Get Maximum Number of Parents into Assn.

Plans for a banner year at Broadway school are nearing completion if we are to believe the officers of the Broadway P.-T. A.

Committees will be appointed between this time and the opening meeting which will be held some time in September, notice of which will be given to each and every member, individually, and to all the parents by notices through the press.

It is the ambition of Broadway P.-T. A. workers this year to attain a 100 per cent membership of the parents in not only the women's association, but in the men's auxiliary which is one of the innovations of Broadway school and the first of its kind in the entire school area of the United States.

Attention is called at this time to the importance of P.-T. A. work insofar as mutual co-operation is concerned between the school children, parents and school faculty.

Statistics show that in the districts where active participation by parents is present, the achievements of teachers and scholars reaches a greater degree of perfection than in the less fortunate districts where the old idea "to let the teachers carry the burden" still exists.

P.-T. A. work has passed the experimental stage and we know that every parent in the Broadway school territory can be depended upon to do his share.

This year special emphasis is and every mother to come to the meetings, both business and social, placed upon an invitation to each a success, you must come and help accomplish the many duties planned for a greater and better P.-T. A. at Broadway.

Among the many ideas which have been formulated this summer are regular entertainments given by the children, by professional performers, and the men's auxiliary which gave such splendid entertainments last year.

Progressive Glendale Churches Plan For Winter Service

PRESBYTERIANS AWAIT HOUR OF COMPLETION OF HUGE NEW CHURCH

Monument to the Faith of the Denomination Is to Be Dedicated Not Later Than Thanksgiving, It Is Expected

Very stimulating to the life of the church is the progress that is being made in the splendid edifice that is being built for the Glendale Presbyterian church at the corner of Harvard and Louise, because with the rising of the walls and placing of partitions the various departments can see their places in the House of God and the wonderful facilities they are to have by comparison with the cramping present conditions. These have not retarded the growth of the church, the membership of which has been increasing 20 per cent annually for some time, but in new and enlarged quarters the departments will be able to carry on with fresh vigor and efficiency.

The date of the formal dedication of the temple of worship of which Dr. W. E. Edmonds is pastor and Rev. Louis Tinning assistant pastor, some time ago was set for November 18, and it will probably not be delayed beyond Thanksgiving. The west wing is expected to be ready for services and Sunday school by October 1.

Features of the year's work have been indicated by Rev. Tinning as follows:

"In addition to other plans for the coming year, the church will entertain the annual meetir of the Synod of California.

"For several years past a school of methods has been carried on with gratifying success. Classes have been held in seventeen different departments and every phase of modern church work is emphasized. Because of the popularity of these classes, the attendance has not been confined to ministers and elders as formerly, but the entire membership of the Presbyterian church in California is invited to attend all the sessions under the new plan.

Already the dedication program is the subject of earnest thought because it is the desire of officials and members to have it worthy the great occasion. The best speakers available will be secured and there are rumors that the celebrated William Jennings Bryan, one of the distinguished elders of the denomination, may be persuaded to give a series of addresses in connection with the dedication."

Other events in prospect for the coming year which will be of importance in connection with the work of this very active church have been announced by Rev. Tinning as follows:

"Through the years Bible conferences have held an outstanding place in the life of this church. Many notable men have appeared on the platform here in these Bible conferences. Among them have been Dr. Cortland Myers of Boston, Dr. A. C. Dixon of London, Eng., Rev. Robert C. McQuilkin of Philadelphia, and many others. These conferences have been held annually and sometimes semi-annually in the past. These Bible conferences will be continued under the leadership of the very best and strongest men available. The next conference will be built up around Dr. William Evans of Chicago and will be from April 6 to 20, 1924.

"The evangelistic note has been most prominent in all the services and work of the church in the past. So true has this been that there is scarcely a week when accessions are not reported. This congregation has always united heartily in any union evangelistic movement among the churches of Glendale.

"At more or less frequent intervals evangelistic services have been held by this congregation alone. The congregation has been conservative in its theological belief and has adhered closely to the simple fundamental teachings of the Bible. That this teaching needed and desired is evidenced by the fact that capacity audiences are the rule and this congregation has grown in membership until it has become widely known that its evangelistic effort is both intensive and extensive.

"The men's work is carefully organized under the leadership of W. A. Horn in the Men's Bible class and George F. Snyder in the men's Brotherhood. The Bible class meets weekly in the city hall with Rev. Keith L. Brooks, of the Los Angeles Bible Institute, as its capable and acceptable teacher. Plans for the coming year are so far reaching that they will challenge the finest effort and faith of every man in the congregation and community.

"The Sunday school work is well organized with H. L. Finlay as superintendent and Howard L. Brown as assistant. In three years the school has doubled in size. In the new church there will be space and equipment for a school of over 2000 pupils. Plans are now well under way to organize the work still more effectively and efficiently, as it enters the new church. Each department will meet separately, in its own well appointed quarters, and will have its own officers. There will be one superintendent, and one secretary for the entire school, each working closely with the superintendents and secretaries of the various departments. When the new church is completed it will contain one of the finest Sunday school plants in Southern California.

NEW TABERNACLE OF CHRISTIAN AND MISSIONARY ALLIANCE

CHURCH OF HOLY FAMILY FACES BIG PROBLEMS

Church Outgrown by Average of Three New Families a Week

Like all other organizations in Glendale the Holy Family Catholic Church is having problems to face because of the rapid growth of the city. Heavy attendance on the Sunday services have made it necessary to increase the number of masses which under the present program are celebrated at 6:30, 8 o'clock, 9:30 and 10:30 a. m. Enrollment is growing at the rate of three and four families a week and when the full membership returns from vacation outings about the first of October, Father Michael Galvin, pastor of the church, and his assistant priest, Father Patrick Curran, are wondering just what they can do to take care of the people of this parish who have so soon outgrown their beautiful new church building at the corner of Elk and Louise. There the parish house is also located opening onto a beautiful inner garden inclosed by a high wall of the Spanish type that features the architecture of the church.

According to Father Curran a somewhat different policy is being inaugurated with regard to the Sunday school. Last year the people of the parish conducted the school and had a number of classes. This year there will be fewer classes and the plan is to place it in charge of three sisters from the Convent of the Immaculate Heart of Hollywood who will be assisted by the people of the parish who have requested this change. When this is done it may be necessary to change somewhat the program of masses to allow half an hour or more for the Sunday school.

Some time ago plans were made for a parochial school on Louise street opposite the church, but there is no immediate prospect that this building will be started during 1923.

To explain the congestion in church attendance, Father Curran states that the church membership numbers about 700 families, which means an attendance of some 2000.

No enlargement of the church building is contemplated but another parish may be started within two years, probably in the neighborhood of San Fernando road, where a greater number of Catholics are to be found than in most other parts of the city. Considering the rate at which the city is growing it is also figured that another parish will some day be needed to serve the west and northwest, which is a long distance from the Holy Family church and not near the Burbank church.

The problem is complicated for the Bishop by the difficulty of supplying the demand for priests. Not until October and November will graduates from the Catholic seminaries be available. True they are graduated in July and August but they are then given a two months' vacation and not before October are they ready for appointments.

To encourage young men to prepare themselves for the priesthood the bishop is planning to establish a preparatory college in Los Angeles as a feeder for the seminary in the bay city.

Church organizations or those which are more or less affiliated with the church were mentioned by Father Curran as follows:

Holy Name Society, composed of men of the church. This will be reorganized in October and will meet once a month.

The Altar Society. This is one of the most important in the church because it is responsible for the care of the altar and sanctuary and also for bearing the expenses of same. The head of this society is Mrs. Frank Salmacia.

Junior Holy Name Society, for boys. This is about to be organized for the purpose of preparing boys for membership in the Holy Name Socety. It will meet once a month for a talk by the spiritual director.

The Knights of Columbus is not regarded as a church society but as a secular Catholic order which works for the interest of the church.

The same is true of the Y. L. I. which is likewise secular and composed of Catholic young ladies. It meets twice a month.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH EFFECTS THOROUGH ORGANIZATION IN HOME

Thorough organization has been effected in the First Congregational church of Glendale since it took possession of its beautiful new home at the corner of Wilson and Central avenues. Its pastor, Rev. C. M. Calderwood, now feels at home in the city of his adoption and all departments expect to function the coming year as never before. Their present status and plans for the year to come have been briefly outlined by Dr. Calderwood as follows:

Choir—Howard E. Cavanah, Director; Miss Lilla E. Litch, organist. Mr. Cavanah is organizing a new quartet to begin work in September. The quartet will be augmented by a chorus choir, which will also be under the direction of Mr. Cavanah.

Miss Litch thoroughly understands the new organ and is giving Glendale people the highest grade of organ music.

The Church school will be under the direction of Mr. Oscar E. Von Oven. The work is divided into six different departments each with their own superintendent and each in a separate part of the building so that they may each have their own appropriate opening exercises undisturbed by others. There are 25 separate class rooms as well as six auditoriums for larger groups. An effort is to be made to develop the work of the adult classes of which there are three at present, two for women and one for men.

The Christian Endeavor Society is under the direction of Miss Ruth Shindel, one of the teachers of our High school. The meetings are being omitted during August but will be resumed in September.

The Sunday evening services which have been omitted during July and August will be resumed in September. The services during the autumn will be of a popular nature. Mr. Calderwood's plans are to have some musical services with devotional talks by the pastor and also some lectures illustrated by sterioptican views. The church is equipped for a motion picture machine and it is probable that one will be installed to assist in the Sunday evening services.

The Ladies' Auxiliary are making plans for many social features and also plans are being made to hold a bazaar in December under the direction of the president, Mrs. Grace Porter of 1343 E. Harvard. The Auxiliary is divided into four sections and each has plans of their own for raising funds for the payment of the pledge to the church building fund.

The Men's Club which was recently organized has for its president Mr. H. C. Wilcox, 620 North Maryland. A number of successful meetings have been held, some of which have been dinners and others have for the purpose of business and to listen to addresses. Plans are being made for larger social activities and to do a work for boys by organizing and maintaining clubs for them.

The church has always taken an active interest in Boy Scouts. The building is well adapted for scout work. Under the leadership of Scout Master Ben Robison the work for boys will be pushed vigorously. It is contemplated to organize a troop of Boy Rangers of America for the boys under twelve years of age.

The Camp Fire Girls will continue their work under the direction of Mrs. Raymond Watrous, 1071 Raymond avenue.

It is planned that various organizations will make use of the large dining room which will accommodate over 500 people at tables at one time.

WOMEN'S BIBLE CLASS IS MEETING TODAY

The Women's Bible class of the Tropico Presbyterian church is meeting this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Sheldon on Central avenue. Mrs. Frank Austin is the class leader.

GOSPEL TABERNACLE SPLENDIDLY SUPPORTED IN ITS WORK IN CITY

Sunday, September 2, was the first anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. C. H. Chrisman of the Gospel Tabernacle church at Louise and Chestnut streets. During this time more than $45,000 in cash has been given for all purposes and more than one hundred members have been received. Of the total amount given nearly $15,000 was for Foreign Missions. There have been no financial "drives." The money given is the free-will offerings of the people.

The above results could not have been accomplished but for the splendid support of a strong board of directors and the faithful and self-sacrificing co-operation of the entire membership.

The work is a development of the local branch of the Christian and Missionary Alliance and the new tabernacle is one of the most beautiful and attractive church buildings in Glendale. The style of architecture is mission with hollow concrete construction steel trusses and columns being employed to support the truly graceful domed ceiling over an auditorium seating one thousand. Among the unique features are the approaches to the auditorium by the use of ramps. One can enter from the sidewalk and reach the main floor without climbing any steps or satirs. Another interesting feature is the semi-balcony and the mezzenine that adds surprisingly to the seating capacity without appearing to add to the size of the building itself. The total seating capacity can be increased to 1250 by the use of the prayer meeting chapel.

The interior decorations at once arrests the attention of the newcomer and prevailing colors being lavander, old rose and taupe. The indirect lights from the side-walls thrown to the tinted dome is refracted and diffused in a soft glow. One is impressed with the evident economy and the simple elegance of all the appointments.

The object of the Gospel Tabernacle church and the ambition of its people is to present an undiluted gospel. By this is meant a gospel for the whole man, spirit and body. The verbal inspiration of the scriptures is accepted without hesitation. The blood atonement is a little old-fashioned but is still the only effective remedy for man's sin and misery and this is believed with an enthusiasm that is truly contagious. The personal indwelling of the Holy Spirit for victorious life and service, received subsequent to conversion is one of the out-standing doctrines believed and taught. The healing of the body in answer to the prayer of faith and by the laying on of the hands of the elders is believed to be among the privileges of christians everywhere. That the day of miracle is not past only to the extent that the day of faith is past. The blessed hope of the soon return of the Lord Jesus Christ is believed to be the answer to earth's sorrowing Missionary Alliance. Later there will be Mr. Paul Rader, president of the Alliance, accompanied by a colored quintet of jubilee singers. These meetings will be augmented by the Tabernacle orchestra of fourteen pieces, Mr. John Johansen, director, and the splendid vocal talent under the direction of Mrs. F. E. Hormel. Added to this will be frequent all day meetings and nights of prayer just to keep the home fires burning.

cry and that the coming of the Prince of Peace will solve every human problem. This anticipation of His return lifts the heart like a magnet over all the trials of life.

A very important part of the work is a well equipped Sunday school under the leadership of consecrated officers and teachers. The adults, in two great Bible classes for men and women, are taught the doctrinal truths of the Bible.

During the fall and winter months there will be several "Four Fold Gospel" campaigns. The "Four-Fold Gospel" has been the watchword of the Christian and Missionary Alliance for more than forty years. It signifies Jesus our Saviour, Sanctifier, Healer and coming Lord. Among the first speakers will be Dr. Wm. T. MacArthur of New York and Rev. E. J. Richards, home secretary of the Christian and

Salisburys Hear From Son in Japan

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Salisbury, 136 North Central, received a cable message yesterday from Japan, stating that their son, G. R. Salisbury, who is administration manager of the Allied Machinery company, had his headquarters in Tokio, and was living at the United Club, an English organization in Yokohama. His parents were fearful lest he had met with accident at one of these places in the big earthquake. The cable gave no details, but Mr. and Mrs. Salisbury believe that he was fortunately away at the time of the great disaster.

ST. MARK'S GUILD DISCONTINUES NOON LUNCHEONS

At the regular meeting of St. Mark's Guild, held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the social hall of the Episcopal church with Mrs. A. A. Bassett presiding, various reports were received from the committees. It was decided that the weekly noon-day luncheons which have been served by the guild every Thursday would be discontinued. Sometime in October the members of the guild are planning to give a social dinner. Beginning with next Thursday the guild hall will be opened at 10 o'clock for workers and each one may bring their own lunch. Coffee and tea will be furnished and the day will be spent in work.

BIG PROGRAM OF FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Ground Soon to Be Broken for an Enlarged Church Building

The present status of the First Baptist Church of Glendale and its plans for the year to come, have been ably presented by its pastor, Rev. E. E. Ford in the following communication:

"July 5, 1904, a number of Baptists met at the home of S. C. Marchant and decided to organize a Baptist church. July 24 the church was organized under the name of the 'Calvary Baptist Church' of Glendale with twenty-two charter members. J. M. Banker is the only one who still has his membership in the local church. Later the name was changed to 'First Baptist.'

"At that time the only frame buildings on Brand were the Pacific Electric and High School building located where the Security and Trust building now stands. Business lots were held at $350, but buyers were few at that price as it was thought to be too high.

"The church has had seven pastors, including the present incumbent, Rev. Ernest E. Ford, who has been on the field over four years; the longest pastorate in the history of the church.

"With the growth of the city, the churches have grown and will continue to grow. When the present pastor took up his work with the local church, the listed membership was about 250. Only about 200 of these could be located. During the past four years 467 have been received into membership, making a present membership of 615.

"The Sunday school has shown a like growth. In 1919 the record books show an enrollment of 151. Now an enrollment of 550. Mr. Roy L. Kent has been the superintendent during the past four years and has guided the school along efficient and up to date lines.

"All lines of work have increased in like proportion with the church and Sunday school. The financial budget for the past year was four times as much as four years ago.

"The present building was built in 1912 and was adequate at that time to meet all needs. Now the demands for more room, from all departments of church work, call for enlargement. Last spring the church responded to the demand by subscribing $126,000 to build an auditorium and modern Sunday school equipment. In order to meet the demands for more ground space, the house and lot north was purchased. The property now consists of the corner of Wilson and Louise, 150 by 150.

"A building committee of 25 has been appointed, one or more from each department of the church life. From this committee two sub-committees of five members each have been appointed. A finance committee, consisting of Roy L. Kent, chairman; J. Ray Bentley, Harry W. Chase, W. W. McElroy and J. R. Detweiler. An executive building committee consisting of George Bentley, chairman; J. L. Gray, J. M. Banker, Parke Arnold, P. L. Hatch. Mr. Charles Cressey of the Roy L. Kent Company, has been engaged as architect, and floor plans are nearly ready to submit to the church for approval. The building committee has announced that it will be ready to break ground as soon as the finance committee has sufficient funds in hand to warrant the starting of so large an undertaking. It is the hope and expectation of the committee that ground will be broken this fall.

"The pastor has just returned from his summer vacation, and is busy with plans for the year's work. The annual meeting, for the election of officers and appointment of standing committees, and the hearing of yearly reports, will be held on October 3. Following that meeting, boards and committees will be called together for organization and to consider plans for the year's work. The first big event will be rally week for the entire church held the last of September. At that time, graduation, and promotion from one department of the Sunday school to another will take place; the reorganization of the young people's work, with the organization of more societies.

"As the fiscal year begins the first of October, an 'Every Member Canvas' for local expense and missionary budget, will be made. October will be given largely to rallys and organization, getting the membership of the church in shape for the year's work. The month of November will have as its specific the collecting of funds for the new church, and the launching of the enterprise. December will be the time of evangelistic effort, and the gathering in of lost souls. During these three months it is also expected that there will be several study classes carried on under the guidance of the educational committee.

"The year is bright with expectancy and full of joyous anticipation.

"The Baptists of Glendale have great reason to be thankful for the past, and hopeful for the future. While rejoicing in the blessings that have come to us, we also rejoice in the splendid advancement of our sister churches, and pray that the Great Head of the church may continue to pour out His blessing upon every pastor and people in our fair city."

REV. E. E. FORD, Pastor.

FIRST LUTHERAN IS 'FRIENDLY CHURCH' HERE

This congregation is entering upon a new period of development, made possible by the sale of its former site at the corner of E. Harvard street and Maryland avenue. Six months ago a special committee on plans for the erection of a new church was appointed, a valuable location for a modern church edifice having been secured at 231-233 S. Kenwood street near Colorado boulevard.

Work has begun on the new church and parsonage. Under the direction of the building committee we hope to make rapid progress during the next few months. Our architects, the firm of Ruoff and Munson, have given us an attractive building plan which has received many favorable commendations. It is of the Spanish mission type, with a beautiful lawn and court plan for the buildings. The design is churchly and suggests a true California atmosphere.

The recent Lutheran World convention at Eisevach reported a following of eighty-one million members, almost as many as all other Protestant churhes combined. The secretary of the church federation of Chicago reports recent accessions amounting to 40,000 members, in which the Lutheran church leads with 10,000 new members. Many of these Lutherans are coming to California, and the First Lutheran church of Glendale is forging ahead in their plans to give these friends a hearty welcome to the land of sunshine and flowers.

Our young people have an effective organization in the Luther League and delightful rooms have been provided for them in the new church plans, while the Bible school, the Ladies' Guild and the Missionary society, will also find comfortable quarters.

For the present church services are being held at the Chamber of Commerce or Citizen's building at 11 a. m., to which the public is most cordially invited.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH UNITES FOR GLENDALE

Most appreciatingly does the First Methodist Episcopal church of Glendale comply with the request of "The Press" to furnish it with a brief statement concerning its proposed program.

But first, our greetings to this splendid daily paper as it comes to occupy its new building. May it live long to give the news and defend the right in this center of life and activity unexcelled.

We wish for you, Captain Watson, and your staff the greatest prosperity until newspapers are no longer needed. With you we will use our uttermost endeavor to keep Glendale up to its highest standard of Americanism and the sturdiest growing city in the world.

It is our purpose to play a definite part in the onward march of the religious life of the city. Never since the advent of our Lord as He trod the shores of Galilee nineteen hundred years ago has there been a time fraught with greater opportunities and brighter hope for the future of the church than the present. We believe that the Christ-like followship of mankind has never been more prevalent than now. The Man of Galilee lives as surely and truly in the hearts of men today as He did when He spoke His immortal truth on earth.

The Methodist Episcopal church is in better condition to deal with the great problems of world evangelization today than ever before. Almost unsurmountable tasks of today can be overcome. Problems of tomorrow we hail with cagerness.

The First Methodist Episcopal church of Glendale with its faith rooted and grounded in the gospel of Jesus Christ, with a membership unexcelled in loyalty, organization and leadership spiritually and intellectually commanding respect is hopeful of tomorrow. Under the leadership of its double pastorate the various departments of the church, Sunday school, Younk Peoples' societies, missionary organizations, Brotherhoods, Ladies' Aid Society, all are united to carry the fullest gospel to those who attend upon its ministry. Anticipating great results it will go forward with tremendous faith.

Our late beloved president, Warren G. Harding, in the wonderful series of addresses delivered on his trip across the American continent, sought to impress upon the minds of the people that we need, not more religion, but more christianity after the example of Jesus. To this simple yet magnificent purpose our church has pledged all of its resources of mind and heart. From the pulpit to the primary class in the Sunday school it is organized to do its best to christianize those who may come within its influence. To make a better and bigger Glendale, to emphasize the brotherhood of man, to exalt Christ as the unquestioned Savior of the world, to kindle upon the altars of human hearts the divine fires of highest and holiest living, to serve those who are in trouble, to bring comfort to those who are in deepest sorrow, to be His expression of love for mankind—upon this and this only will our church depend for its prosperity tomorrow and every other day after tomorrow.

MEN'S CLUB WILL MEET TONIGHT

The Men's club of the Tropico Presbyterian church will have its first meeting of the fall season at the church tonight at 7:30. It will be an informal get-together meeting to make plans for the work of the coming year. Sam Brown is president.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH MEMBERSHIP JOIN FOR PROGRESS

New Home Is Outgrown, Although Only a Little Over Year Old

By O. L. Kilborn.

In the summer of 1908 Elder J. W. Utter, who was then assistant pastor of the Broadway Christian church of Los Angeles, Elder J. W. Coulter, minister, was granted a month's vacation, to spend as he chose. To the mind of this man of God and real pioneer preacher, the most delightful vacation pleasure was the founding of a new church of the Living God. So he came out to Glendale, rounded up about 60 former members of Christian churches "back east" and started a meeting in the G. A. R. hall in old Tropico. Before that month's vacation ended he had a congregation of 110 members organized and was chosen as its pastor.

Immediately a church building was planned, a lot centrally located was given by A. J. Crawford, and work began on a commodious structure, for those days, at the corner of Louise and Sixth (now Colorado) streets. It cost about $5000. Elder Utter served the church well for five years, then Emmet E. Francis succeeded him, carrying on the work for three years, with a constantly increasing membership.

Late in 1916 Elder Clifford A. Cole was called to the pastorate from the Compton Heights church of St. Louis and he began his work on Jan. 1, 1917. He had hardly gotten fairly settled to the task until he began quietly to plan a new building and a greatly enlarged work. A building to cost $30,000 was proposed and agreed upon but just then the agitation looking toward securing the block on which the church was located for a High school extension was started and by the time it was settled in the negative, prices of material and labor had soared so high that new plans had to be made. Finally it was agreed that a building to cost $60,000 should be erected and work was begun in August, 1921. The beautiful new structure was dedicated on Sunday, July 2, 1922, and it was finally found to have cost, with furnishings, not far from $100,000. But it is a stately building, seating nearly 1000 persons, and with what were deemed ample Bible school accommodations for years to come. These are already outgrown, however, and extensions are planned.

In making the plans for the building and its equipment and in carrying them out, Bro. Cole, as all the members call him, took a very active part and the completed work bears the impress of his careful thought and keen supervision in many of its distinctive features.

The members of the congregation are closely united in the bonds of love and service and under the guidance of the real man of God who is the unanimous choice of the membership, is moving onward and upward in the noble work of redeeming mankind from sin.

ST. MARK'S PLANS ENLARGEMENT OF ITS EDIFICE

Congregtaion Looks Forward to Double Present Capacity

The St. Mark's Episcopal church located at the corner of Louise and Harvard street has long been part of the religious life of Glendale. The organization of the parish goes back to the earliest days of the community. The church has had to be moved several times and each time provision has had to be made for the growth in the congregation. It has been located at its present site for about ten years. At present the work is being carried on very vigorously through the Sunday services and the activities of the various organizations.

The congregation looks forward to the future with even greater hopes for doing its part in the religious life of the community. At present they are getting ready to embark upon work for enlarging the church building to meet the needs for the next few years. In the course of a few weeks work will probably be started to enlarge the building to about twice its present seating capacity. The grounds are going to be beautified with plants and shrubs and everything possible will be done to make the church representative of the religious body of which the parish is a part. The improvements will be carried on under the direct supervision of the rector and vestry composed of the following men: Rev. Philip K. Kemp, Messrs. John Trotter, senior warden, Alex J. Badger, junior warden, W. E. Carre, John T. Cate, Ruie E. Downing, Herbert Potter, Richardson D. White.

The liquid cleanser France gave me

By EDNA WALLACE HOPPER

This is to women who wish to know how I kept my wonderful complexion to my grand old age. I look, as millions know, like a girl of 19, after 32 years as a stage star.

One premier help is a liquid cleanser, which I found years ago in France. Lucie Lantelme, the famous Parisian beauty, gave me the formula. Some French scientist gave it to her.

It contains no animal, no vegetable fat. So it does not grow hair on the face. It cannot assimilate in any way with the skin. It simply cleans to the depths, then departs. And all the grime, all that clogs the skin goes with it.

Called Facial Youth

I call this cleanser my Facial Youth in offering it to others.

I apply it night and morning, and whenever else my face needs cleaning. Then I wipe it off, and the pores are clean. It also softens and whitens the skin. It acts as a wrinkle combatant.

It is so efficient that all my stage friends use it in removing make-up. And that is a major test.

I care for my body as well as my face. So I cover myself with this cleanser before bathing. You will be amazed to see the dirt which water can't remove.

We must keep clean

The first essential in a fine skin is utter cleanliness. You think you clean the skin in other ways—with cleansing cream, perhaps. But then apply my Facial Youth and note the grime you left.

The leading beauty experts, here and abroad, now advise this formula. They agree that nothing else compares. But they charge too high a price. I bring it to you, exactly as I use it, at a very modest price.

Edna Wallace Hopper's Facial Youth is now supplied by all druggists, all toilet counters, at 75c per bottle. Also my Youth Cream—my fruity cold cream. Also my White Youth Clay. Also my Hair Youth, to which I owe my heavy, lustrous hair. My Beauty Book comes with each.

Go try this liquid cleanser, my Facial Youth. You will never return to other methods after you use it once. And my face shows what you may gain. Edna Wallace Hopper. Business Address, Waukesha, Wisc.—Adv.

MARINELLO SHOP 'MAKES WOMEN OVER'

So many women have the idea that beauty is something that must be born into one, like the talent to make pastry, or a liking for dishwashing. They never seem to realize that nine-tenths of the attractive women are all made over by perfect grooming from the pigtailed, freckled, odd shaped little pieces that they were in their tender years. They fail to see that a little time before a mirror, and a little skilled assistance from those who make it their study in life to beautify every type of woman, can work the same transformation with them that a clever designer works with a seemingly plain and ordinary piece of cloth. A new lustre comes out in the soft folds of the material—a new depth of color.

A little attention can do a great deal for any woman, however ordinary she may be. We are not talking about facial surgery, either. We just mean the little everyday touches that a woman can give herself after she has been done over frequently by a beauty specialist. A permanent wave in the hair! For a whole year soft ripples catching glinting lights from sunlight or incandescents. No fuss, no stringiness, no curling on irons and patent wavers.

Even a marcel, or a water wave for the head inclined to curl, can keep any woman's hair her crowning glory. Aside from this attention to the hair, there are the hundreds of other little tricks of the trade which keep a woman ahead of the years and the grind of life. There are facials, shampoos, and packs, bobs, electrolysis, and the manicure.

The Marinello Shop, 123 West Broadway, operated by Mrs. Moss and Miss McCormick, graduate cosmeticians, is equipped for all beauty work. It is giving the efficient Marinello service daily which has familiarized the blue sign to every woman in the country. The fourteen dainty blue and grey booths are full all of the time. There are six graduate operators on hand to supervise the work. Everything is Marinello at its best. Aside from the line of Marinello toilet preparations in which the shop specializes, a beautiful selection of hair goods and ornaments is on display.

So, sometime, if you have never let anyone work you over, or if you already recognize the wonder of the service and its results, drop in and let the Marinello Shop show you just how beautiful you really can be with a little guidance.

LOVE PIRATES THEME OF THIS SCREEN DRAMA

Ruthless love pirates, men who follow the guide of their primal impulses, far from control of law and order—these are the types that play out their drama in "Where the orth Begins," the picture announced as the feature attraction at the Gateway Theater tonight.

The setting is in the snowy northern wastes, and specifically in a Hudson Bay trading post, where Shad Galloway, the factor, lords it with an iron fist. He has cast his eyes on young Felice McTavish, regardless of the fact that her heart is already given to Gabriel Dupre, a French-Canadian trapper. This brings out the high points of the action. Shad Galloway hires a band of ruffians to become outlaws and do away with Gabriel, who is wounded and saved from the intrigue only by the unexpected arrival on the scene of a wild dog, who had strayed while a puppy and been brought up with the wild wolves.

It is a Warner Brothers' classic of the screen, directed by Chester M. Franklin, with the following cast of players: Claire Adams, Walter McGrail, Pat Hartigan, Myrtle Owen, Charles Stevens, Fred Huntley and Rintintin, the clever police dog, around whom much of the action revolves.

"Where the North Begins" was filmed in the Feather River country, in Plumas county, California, a wild area given over to the pines and snows.

14 FOR SALE HOUSES

WE ARE SELLING HOUSES! THERE'S A REASON

We have been in business for years. Every man connected with the company is a property owner and knows Glendale values. We have a large number of listings. We will not advertise or show a property unless it represents real value for the price asked. If you want to sell, and your price is right, we want your listing.

During the month of August we sold more houses than in any other month since this company has been established. September is starting strong. Come in and let us prove to you that we can save you money. It's our business to find the good buys—our sales prove that we are doing it.

EAST GLENDALE ADVANCEMENT ASSOCIATION

Yeoman Work Done for Long-Neglected Community

By C. W. INGLEDUE
President

The Glendale Advancement association was originated a year ago last April and is composed of men and women interested in the development of Glendale, especially that part adjacent to Broadway and Glendale avenue. It was brought into existence to answer the demand for certain improvements of that community. For years this part of the city had been neglected and almost forgotten. Nothing had been done to keep pace with the rapid development taking place in all other parts. Even beautiful Glendale avenue with all its latent possibilities, had fallen into decay and was well night impassable.

A call was sent out for a meeting of a few business men and women for a luncheon at the Broadway Inn to consider the needs of East Glendale. A great crowd of the finest, most loyal men and women in Glendale answered the call and the dining room was filled to overflowing. Three important committees were appointed to work on the following projects: The paving of Glendale avenue, the electricalizing of the Union Pacific railway, providing another line of transportation into Los Angeles, and the building of a hotel on the northeast corner of Broadway and Glendale avenue.

Many other committees have since been appointed, and have done excellent service in all parts of Glendale. The committee on electricalizing the railway line is just seeing the results of its labors. A $25,000 bonus was raised to help the Glendale-Montrose railway company make the necessary improvements which are to cost over $125,000. All arrangements have been made and the work is progressing. The administration building and ticket office is being erected on Glendale avenue north of Broadway. Cars, motors, poles, wire and other equipment are arriving daily, and Mr. Hatch, the superintendent, assures us the line will be in operation by January 1.

The committee on paving has been equally successful. The contract for paving Glendale avenue from Lexington to Cerritos has been let to the National Paving company and Peter L. Ferry, and work will start in a very few days. The contractors say they are going to make this great thoroughfare one of the show pavements of the United States where they can bring representatives of other cities for whom they wish to do work and show them Glendale avenue as a specimen of their ability.

The Glendale Advancement association has also taken all necessary steps to have the street provided with wonderful 18-foot 2-light standards similar to those installed on Hollywood boulevard. When this beautiful wide boulevard is paved and lighted it will be a magnificent monument to the efforts of this organization of loyal men and women, and will be a great credit and benefit to all of Glendale. It will be a main artery of travel and the only north and south through street in Glendale and will provide a fine thoroughfare from the mountains to the sea. It will connect all of La Canada valley, Montrose, Sparr Heights, Verdugo Woodlands, Woodland Park, Rossmoyne, and Bellehurst Park with the center of Glendale, making it convenient for all these communities to come here to do their shopping.

The hotel committee has done more hard work than any of the others. The building of a hotel such as they have planned is no small task and requires nerve, optimism and patience, but when the dream comes true, the labor is crowned with success, and a magnificent fireproof structure containing 378 rooms stands on the corner of Broadway and Glendale avenue, we will as a city take off our hats to the members of this committee, and vote them a unanimous resolution of praise. Todate their efforts have resulted in the hotel committee acquiring ownership of the northeast corner of Glendale avenue and Broadway, a plot of ground measuring 236 feet on Broadway by 229 feet on Glendale avenue. The most conservative realtors declare it to be worth no less than $150,000. They also have a complete set of working plans for the building, and contractors' bids for the erection, and hope to soon announce that work has started.

The members of this organization have been tireless in their efforts for the advancement of Glendale and are making plans to revive their weekly luncheons in the near future, when vacation days are over. They will then get behind any project that needs their help.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL DOUBLES DUTIES OF ITS P. T. A.

By MRS. CHAS. H. WHITNEY
President High School P.-T. A.

Officers and members of the High School Parent-Teacher association realize that there will be a great work for it this year, but until located in the new building no definite outline has been decided on, other than that it is planned to bring the membership back to the place it has been in previous years and even higher. Last year the membership fell down to such an extent that Glendale was among the lowest in membership in the First District P.-T. A., when before it has been among the highest.

The officers for the Glendale Union High School Parent-Teacher association for the year 1923-24 are: Mrs. Charles H. Whitney, president; Mrs. W. W. Stofft, first vice-president; Mrs. J. I. Wernette, secretary; Mrs. R. C. Horner, treasurer; Mrs. W. A. Kulp, historian. The various committee chairmen have not been chosen and will not be until the first meeting of the year, which will be the fourth Wednesday in September, or September 26.

It seems to be so easy for the mothers to think it is time to take a rest from parent-teacher association work when their children get into the high school, but this is such a sad mistake as the children need us just as much, if not more so at this stage of their school life, for new problems arise in high school that are not to be handled in the grade schools.

Not only the students but the faculty need the co-operation and suggestions of the parents and we only wis heach and every mother of a high school pupil could have heard Mrs. Moyse at the P.-T. A. federation picnic at Brookside Park in June, when she laid the facts before the parents. She inspired us to do wonderful things this coming year and we hope to so interest the parents who were not there that they will come out and join us in our meetings.

We hope to have such programs of interest to the mothers that they will look forward to the fourth Wednesday of each month with such anticipation that it will not be necessary to sent out notices of the meetings each month.

Fathers and mothers, let us make this one great year for the High School Parent-Teacher association.

Miss Ethel Land of 605 North Maryland avenue went to Santa Monica on Wednesday and will be the guest for the remainder of the week of Los Angeles friends there.

WILSON, BURTON SUCCESSFUL REALTORS

Each Has Great Record of Accomplishment; Combined a Host

City builders are Wilson & Burton, two of Glendale's most successful real estate operators, who recently have joined forces. Both men have been in business here a little over two years, with a great record for accomplishment in so short a time.

L. H. Wilson, who came here from Chicago several years ago, has been the directing genius behind the development of San Fernando road which, in the comparatively short period of two years, has been changed from a county road to a bustling business thoroughfare serving hundreds of industries.

Showing his faith in his judgment of realty values and leading the way for the trend of development in this section, Mr. Wilson has built and will continue to build on San Fernando road. He now intends to erect three new buildings for light industries, according to a recent announcement.

To push the development along this highway Mr. Wilson was instrumental in the organization of the San Fernando Boulevard Improvement Association, of which he is the head. The latest object of the association is to widen, pave and complete the lighting of this heavily traveled thoroughfare.

W. T. Burton, who is now associated with Mr. Wilson in a number of big development projects, has heretofore specialized in business property. However, he is just completing one of the most beautiful, modern apartment houses in the city at South Central and Park avenue. Pointing out that this neighborhood is ideal for apartments, he has announced his intention of building a similar one on Central avenue in the near future.

As an example of how money is made in Glendale real estate Mr. Burton cites an instance where he began making investments for a Los Angeles woman one year ago. With an original investment of $10,000 this particular woman investor has cleared $25,000 net through deals handled by Mr. Burton.

"The only trouble I find here is getting property to sell," Mr. Burton complains. "The buyers are plentiful and anxious to invest in Glendale property."

Although both Mr. Wilson and Mr. Burton will maintain their separate businesses as heretofore, the two have opened a joint office under the firm name of Wilson & Burton, located in the Flatiron building at Central avenue and San Fernando boulevard. Branch offices also are maintained in Los Angeles and Hollywood.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Knight and three children, Leora, Sumner and Claude, of Portland, Oregon, are house guests for a week of Mr. and Mrs. John Seaver Whitney of 1134 East Lexington drive.
